IOWA BOWS TO BIG TEN; BANS 22 ATHLETES

Decides Sphere Is in Conference.

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The athletic board of the University of Iowa, after a session lasting from early afternoon almost until midnight tonight, decided by resolution that the university's proper sphere lies within and not without the Big Ten conference.

And as a demonstration that they mean what they said, the board capitulated completely to demands made upon the university by the faculty committee of the Big Ten at Chicago last Saturday and in doing so declared twenty-two athletes ineligible.

The Big Ten faculty committee in a two day session had upheld a previous resolution severing athletic relations between the other nine institutions in the Western Intercollegiate conference and the Hawkeyes. Iowa thus was virtually ousted from the Big Ten.

Action Was Unexpected.

Ever since the announcement that five out of nine of the Big Ten did not believe that Iowa was sincere in its plea that recruiting and subsidizing of athletes had been abandoned, university leaders have been in a turmoil. Coaches have been attempting to schedule games, alumni have been issuing statements condemning the Big Ten action, and the faculty has been seething.

But the athletic board's action in surrendering to the demands of the Big Ten faculty committee came as a bombshell. Formal resignation from the Big Ten had been anticipated. No one in authority at the university had predicted that the university would choose to remain in thec onference.

Williams Defended Fund.

Iowa's complete surrender tonight was marked by the board's attitude toward the so-called "Belting loan fund." This was excoriated by Prof. James Paige of Minnesota, leader of the faculty fight on Iowa's readmittance. It was also the chief point of attack on Iowa made by Fielding Yost of Michigan in a meeting of the athletic directors.

Dean C. C. Williams, faculty representative of Iowa, and Edward Lauer, athletic director, defended the fund and refused to yield to Paige's demand that all athletes who had received loans from the fund be declared ineligible.

That was the rock over which the Iowa delegates and the Big Ten faculty members split.

Iowa Admits Big Ten Was Right.

The Big Ten called the fund a violation of conference rules, and Iowa's refusal to bar athletic recipients of loans proof that Iowa hadn't reformed.

Tonight the Iowa athletic board admitted that the conference attitude was justified and thereupon barred the twenty-two athletes ineligible.

Among the twenty-two the names of five were made known after tonight's meeting. They are Oran Pape, football star of Dubuque; Irving Nelson, football star of Omaha, Neb.; Dick Affre, substitute football player and war basketball player of Quincy, Ill.; Steward Leeka, football sub of Independence, Mo., and Mike Farroh, half back, who tonight was elected co-captain of next year's Hawkeye eleven.

The athletic board also voted to ask the Big Ten to send a committee to Iowa City shortly to determine whether or not Iowa should not reinstate those athletes.

Bresnahan Is Defended.

The only point on which the Iowa board refused to bow to the Big Ten will was on the matter who should be on the Iowa athletic staff. The board refused to recognize the right of the conference to dictate to who should or should not coach at Iowa.

This was a slap at the intimation of several athletic directors and faculty men last week that George Bresnahan, track coach, was persona non grata.

The text of the resolution:

"Whereas the board of control at the University of Iowa, believing that Iowa's proper field of competition lies within the conference, is of the opinion that it should continue membership, and will conduct the administration of athletics in conformity with the principles established by the intercollegiate conference.

"The intercollegiate conference denies the Iowa petition in large measure because the athletic board at Iowa register as eligible certain athletes who had borrowed money from a fund which was unethical in its inception. Be it resolved again affirms that its decl-

MANUFACTURER, LOBBY WITNESS, GETS VARE SEAT

Announces He'll Run Next Election.

Stands by Lone Star

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—A. W. Acheson, 88 years old, civil war veteran from Texas, does not think much of Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania. Addressing the rivers and harbors congress today, Mr. Acheson said: "I saw a map made according to the way Grundy thought the United States ought to be run. Pennsylvania was bloated up like a horse with a hay belly. The Red River valley of Texas is worth millions of dollars more in products than the whole state of Pennsylvania. We ain't playing second fiddle to anything in the United States."

Mr. Acheson also resented the fact Texas did not receive as large federal appropriations as the Virgin islands.

"Why, all the imports of the Virgin islands are not as rich as the jackass crop in the Red river valley," he said.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Joseph R. Grundy, bachelor Quaker and chief lobbyist at Washington for high protective tariff, was appointed as United States senator for Pennsylvania today by Gov. J. S. Fisher to fill the vacancy caused by the senate's rejection of William S. Vare of Philadelphia. The appointment was made with the understanding that he will be a candidate to succeed himself and enter the probable primary fight against Vare and ex-Gov. Pinchot.

The appointment expires December, 1930, and the senator elected next November will serve until 1933, the end of the six year term for which Mr. Vare was elected in 1926.

The governor said he had considered other persons for the appointment, among them Representative George S. Graham of Philadelphia. He said he had no communication with Mr. Vare about the appointment.

Silent About Delay.

The governor would not say what had delayed the appointment all day, except that it was known that he desired the advice of one man. He had talked with W. L. Mellon, former state Republican chairman, last night; he said his talk today was a personal matter.

The appointment means a political contest, for Mr. Vare has announced himself as a candidate to the finish. Whether former Gov. Pinchot will enter the race as he did in the three-sided contest of 1926 is problematical.

The entire power of the Mellon-Grundy organization will be back of Mr. Grundy in his fight, and messages from party leaders in all parts of the state indicate there will be little friction except in Philadelphia.

Reed Opposed Him.

Mr. Grundy has not always been so generally accepted by the Republican organizations in many of the counties. In the legislative session of 1913 and at other sessions he opposed child labor, compensation, and other welfare legislation. In that session he was confronted by a youthful lawyer who represented interests opposed to his. It was David A. Reed, now senior senator from Pennsylvania.

In the 1927 session he opposed the demands of organized labor for an increase in the schedule of payments under the workmen's compensation act. He had agreed, however, to a slight increase, and this was written into the law through amendment.

He long has been president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association.

The 6,000 messages received by Gov. Fisher indorsing Mr. Grundy indicate there is no real opposition to the appointment in counties that gave majorities to Vare in 1926. Outside Philadelphia all the political leaders declared for Grundy, and his support among the business men appears to be undivided.

Do Not Fear Vare.

The anti-Vare forces feel that the candidacy of Mr. Vare will not be powerful. They declare that the state of his health will prevent his making a real fight.

Mr. Grundy has been active in poli-

4 BANDITS RAID BRIDGE PARTY IN WEALTHY HOME

Four "exceptionally polite" young bandits late last night interrupted a bridge party in the home of Donald Buck, wealthy insurance man, who lives at 5338 Kenmore avenue, and robbed Buck and his wife, Isabelle, of cash and gems totalling $3,225. Two other members of the party were not robbed.

Mr. Buck, who is a son of the late Neils Buck, Chicago architect and contractor, was at a bridge table with his wife, George Babel, Great Northern hotel, and Miss Alice Byrnes, Palmer House. Buck was expecting a call from his sister and when the bell to the apartment rang he opened the door himself.

The four robbers, each armed with a revolver and wearing a handkerchief over the lower part of their faces pushed their way into the room and demanded Mr. Buck's cash and Mrs. Buck's jewels. Buck surrendered $225 in currency and Mrs. Buck two diamond rings, valued at $3,000.

As the bandits left Mr. Buck offered to buy the rings from them. They told him they would take them to their fence and see what he could pay for them.

"We'll let you know tomorrow, and if you are willing to meet his price we will sell them back to you," the spokesman said.

A. M. SNYDACKER LEAVES $150,000 OF ESTATE TO NURSE

The will of Alfred M. Snydacker, bond and mortgage broker, filed yesterday before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Horner, leaves $150,000 to Mrs. Lillian R. Weil, who nursed him during the illness which resulted in his death. Mr. Snydacker died in New York last Nov. 19 at the age of 71.

Under the will most of the remainder of his $600,000 estate will be eventually divided by the United Charities of Chicago and the Mount Sinai hospital of New York, where he died. This amount was left in trust for Mrs. Laura Hilson, a sister, during her lifetime, and at her death the trust will be transferred to her three daughters. Mrs. Hilson and her daughters now live in Paris. At the deaths of the daughters the distribution to the United Charities and the hospital is to be made.

The will leaves $40,000 to William C. J. Matthieson and $10,000 to Philip C. Kesaler, former business associates. Mr. Snydacker, who was a bachelor, lived at the Belden-Stratford hotel while he was in Chicago. During the last three years Mrs. Weil had cared for him during his retirement. He headed the concern of Snydacker & Co., brokers.

Briggs, Cartoonist, Lies Near to Death

New York, Dec. 12 [Thursday].—[Special.]—The condition of Clare Briggs, noted cartoonist, who has been ill for some days, was reported as critical early this morning. It was thought he would survive the night, however.

Call Ad False; Millionaire Is Haled to Court

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The war over Neon lights, dazzling advertising letters in various colors that are the latest development in electric advertising, broke into the open today when a detective entered the Savoy-Plaza hotel and arrested William T. Hollingsworth, 69, millionaire president of Claude Neon Lights corporation, on a criminal charge.

CHARLES V. BOB.

Mr. Hollingsworth tonight, after a strenuous session before Magistrate Simpson in Tombs court, characterized the proceedings as a "publicity stunt" by his rivals, the Federal Neon system, of which Charles V. Bob, a backer of the Byrd expedition, was representative in a recent attempt to float a $10,000,000 issue of stock.

Lined up in the opposition camps before Magistrate Simpson were former Controller Charles L. Craig, counsel for Mr. Bob, and former Judge Alfred P. Seaman and Stanley Richter, for Mr. Hollingsworth.

Cites Libelous Ad Statute.

The charge against Mr. Hollingsworth was violation of section 352 of the state penal law, which prohibits any person from publishing, with intent to deceive, any statement or advertisement as to the value of stocks or bonds which might have a harmful effect on their value or sale.

On Nov. 25, according to the complaint, the Federal Neon system put out its $10,000,000 issue.

The next day Mr. Hollingsworth inserted an advertisement which, according to Craig, caused the stock of the Federal Neon system to depreciate more than $5,000,000 and forced withdrawal of the $10,000,000 issue.

Paragraph 3 of the advertisement, which Mr. Craig declared was the chief basis for the complaint, read as follows:

"The litigation which the Claude Neon Lights corporation has brought against the Federal Electric company, George L. Johnson, and Rainbow Luminous Products, Inc., is pending. In this litigation is involved the validity of the proposed transfer of two-thirds of the stock of the Claude Neon Federal company to said Johnson or to said Rainbow Luminous Products, Inc. There has been no settlement or compromise in this litigation."

"Your honor, this is not a case of the fraudulent sale of bonds or stock," Mr. Richter declared. "It is an action that to us seems in every way one based upon libel. We can prove that the statements in this advertisement are in every respect true and will be proven true."

"This was an attempt to ruin a new concern," Mr. Craig retorted. "What they failed to do in Supreme court with four restraining injunctions upon which they were defeated they attempted to complete with this advertisement. It was a contemptible attempt to destroy a rival, to prevent him from building up his business, to deny him his right to exist."

Among the directors of the Claude Neon Lights corporation is Samuel Insull, power magnate of Chicago, Mr. Hollingsworth said.

The case was adjourned by Magistrate Simpson to Wednesday of next week.

Council Group Acts to Build Police Radio Stations

The city council finance committee yesterday recommended the award of contracts to the Western Electric company for the erection of three low wave broadcasting stations for the police department. The first station is to be constructed at the Warren avenue station and will relay crime flashes to police cars on the west side. The sites for the stations to serve the north and south sides have not been selected.

Flee Red Riot in Shanghai; Heads Crack

BY EDGAR SNOW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Dec. 11. — Shanghai was given a scare this afternoon when a communist outbreak occurred in Chapei, a Chinese city adjacent to the international settlement, in which a mob stormed the offices of the Commercial Press, whose employés are on strike. Police dispersed the disturbers, who fell back with many cracked heads. Fearing another incident, all pedestrians after 6 p. m. were searched for guns and no motor cars wer permitted out of the foreign settlement except in restricted areas.

Several thousand Chinese and hundreds of foreigners, mostly Japanese residents, frightened by the rioting, evacuated Chapei. They fled to the international settlement, which tonight is guarded by a double force of police against possible outbreaks. Japanese marines are patroling the streets.

Drive on Canton Checked.

The Nationalist government is feeling more confident of its position tonight following the defeat at Canton of rebel troops, led by Chang Fak-wei, by the combined Cantonese and Nanking troops under Gens. Chen Chi-tang and Hox Ying-ching. After a serious setback, due to an attempted rebellion by their forces during the engagement yesterday at Sunkai, 19 miles from Canton, the loyal generals finally emerged victorious, driving off the "ironsides" units with heavy losses on both sides.

Armed communists, supported by rebel artillery fire, who were attacking Yanwooshi, a suburb of Canton, are reported to have been repulsed by government troops and to have retreated. The rebels were forced to fight their way through a body of Cantonese troops who had surrounded them. Many were killed, wounded, and captured.

Bank Suspends Payments.

The menace to Canton appears somewhat relieved, although all Cantonese officials have evacuated to Hongkong.

The Central Bank of China today closed its doors and suspended specie payments. Business is practically at a standstill.

Bombs, believed to have been set by communists, exploded at several points in Canton, but no one was killed. About 1,000 wounded soldiers arrived in Canton from the front today.

Shanghai to Nanking day trains are operating now, although night service has been discontinued. About twenty more Americans and British today evacuated Nanking. They arrived at Shanghai by ship this morning. It is reported that a number of American women and missionaries from the suburbs have moved to the capital temporarily. There is some apprehension felt in regard to inadequate police protection in Nanking in case of outbreaks.

MOVIES ARE USED AGAINST NURSE IN DAMAGE SUIT

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Motion pictures were used here today to disprove a claim of permanent physical injury set up in a damage suit. They were displayed in Federal Judge Charles C. Simon's court to off set the contention of Miss Ruth E. McGurk, 24 years old, Chicago nurse, that her right knee was injured permanently in a traffic accident.

The pictures showed Miss McGurk crossing Madison street in Chicago last Friday without the limp which, she says, resulted from injuries suffered at Battle Creek in 1922 when she was struck by a Consumers' Power company truck.

After the pictures were shown by Bernard J. Ouen, attorney for the power company, Miss McGurk admitted the pictures were of her and said that at times the limp disappeared.

This is believed to be the first time movies have been used in an attempt to disprove physical disabilities claimed in damage suits.

TROOPS STILL FIRING ON LAST OF MUTINEERS

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The principal keeper at Auburn prison was murdered, a dozen other guards were wounded or gassed, and eight convicts were killed today when, for the second time in five months, a desperate group of long term prisoners attempted to seize command of the prison and escape.

The band was partly in control for six hours before the authorities obtained the upper hand.

Late tonight sporadic firing could still be heard from inside the south cell block, where it was estimated that a dozen or more disharda were barricaded, with two keepers their prisoners.

Five companies of the 108th guard infantry were aiding more than 100 state troopers in their final siege, and it was reported that five more convicts had been killed by machine gun fire.

Most of Convicts Quiet.

Prison officials refused to disclose how many of the 1,754 prisoners in the jail had participated in the disturbance. It was said that not more than twenty men led the riot, the remainder of the inmates remaining quiet in the yards, under the threat of machine guns and rifles.

The attempt of the outlaws to shoot a way to liberty began at 11 o'clock this morning. Early in the rioting the convicts captured Col. Edgar B. Jennings, warden of the prison, and seven guards. They covered him and the keepers with revolvers and handcuffed them.

Henry Sullivan, a convict who got away from Auburn last March and was captured three days later, acted as leader of the band. He told Warden Jennings that he and the guards were to be shot unless safe conduct outside the walls was granted to the rioters.

Send Out Ultimatum.

The leaders then sent out an ultimatum to the forces of law outside, saying:

"We've got the warden," they said, "We've got a dozen of the guards. We've got guns aimed at all of them. If you give us a free passage out in the next 15 minutes and automobiles with engines running at the gate to make our getaway in, we'll let them live. Otherwise, they'll die."

And the warden, under threat of immediate death, reinforced this demand with a penciled note reading:

"For God's sake give them what they want."

The message was sent to the main gate. State troopers who had responded to an alarm given by a guard who had eluded capture read the message. The officer in command telephoned to Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, state commissioner of correction, in Albany. Dr. Kieb told the troopers to shoot their way into the prison.

"There will be no compromise," declared Acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman, when told of the demand of the rioters and their death threat against their prisoners, and the stand of the state was made clear to the group of twelve men who were standing guard over Col. Jennings.

While the convicts were debating what to do the troopers rushed into the building. They put down a barrage of tear gas and as the rioters and their captives poured into the main hall the troopers charged.

Leader Shot Down.

The convicts opened fire. Sullivan, the ringleader, was shot down as he succeeded in getting through the swirling clouds of gas. Warden Jennings and five guards were rescued as they fell to the floor, overcome.

Three of the rioters were caught as they collapsed from the effects of the fumes.

The convicts retreated, taking with them the two guards who had failed to reach the troopers. Apparently as they fell back the leaders opened the cell blocks and induced other inmates to join them, for prison officials estimated that probably a dozen men were hiding tonight in the shadows of the south cell block, making a last stand.

The outbreak began in the mess hall as the prisoners in small groups were coming in for the midday meal.

July Mutineers Lead Break.

They were composed largely of the "idle company," a detachment of 200 had been formed from among who played a big part in the riot of July. They were usually under close watch and inspections were made regularly to see that no weapons were smuggled in to them. On the dot of 11 o'clock, as if by prearrangement, the ringleaders' band drew revolvers from under their gray blouses, disarmed the six guards on duty in the mess hall, and made them prisoners.

One mystery was dispelled late tonight when an official at the prison said he believed the rifles the prisoners used in today's fighting were the three that could not be found after last summer's rebellion was put down. In that outbreak the prisoners seized the prison arsenal. It is believed that the three missing guns were buried in the prison yard before the rioters capitulated after a Sunday of desperate fighting.

There has been some slight indications of trouble at 10 a. m., according to Warden Jennings, but an investigation had failed to intimate that it would go beyond the "rumor stage." The warden had toured the prison and had found nothing out of the way.

He was at his desk an hour later when a trusty came in and said that Col. Jennings was wanted. He stepped into the trap from which he was rescued at the pistol point hours later.

WARDEN TELLS STORY

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Warden Edgar S. Jennings of Auburn prison tonight told the Associated Press the story of his capture by a group of rioting convicts. He gave the account from his bed, where he was recovering from the effects of tear gas used by troopers as they wrested the warden and guards from the clutches of the mutineers.

"Soon after 10 o'clock this morning I was informed that there was some disturbance brewing in the prison, so I went down at once to the kitchen, where I knew I had some reliable men who could ascertain what was wrong. I was returning from the kitchen and had reached the stairway leading up to the principal keeper's office and the chapel door when a convict suddenly stepped out and shoved a gun into my stomach. 'Do not move or say anything, warden, or I will kill you,' he said quietly.

"At the same time two other convicts, one with a knife and one with a razor, came on each side of me and threatened to kill me if I made any outcry. I glanced at the gun and saw that the convict meant business. The convict then said: 'Just come with me, warden; we want you to accompany us to the punishment gallery, and you will have to cover us, or we will kill you.'

"On reaching the punishment gallery the three officers in charge, seeing me, and not suspecting anything wrong, suddenly found themselves held up at the points of guns and they too were relieved of their weapons and were forced to open all the punishment cells, releasing most of the men who figured in the subsequent shooting.

Handcuffed Together.

"We were then handcuffed together in pairs and taken to the upper back hall of the south wing, and presently several other guards were also taken prisoner in the same manner.

"Sullivan and Pawiak [convicts] appeared to be among the leaders, and Sullivan said quietly:

"'Warden, we are going to ask you to instruct the men out front to let us go out with you and these other officers. You will have to give the order or we will kill you. We are determined to go out or die, but if you fail, we will all die together.'

"They issued instructions, simply telling the men in front to open the doors and to keep all officers from any gunplay as they marched out with us as their prisoners. They handcuffed us to guard, and said:

"'Warden, we intend to put a convict behind every two keepers. He has a gun and will shoot his pair at the first indication of treachery. You will march out with us and we will place you in the cars with us.

"If We Die, You Die."

"'We plan to seize enough automobiles from the streets of Auburn to provide for us all. If you play fair with us, we will take you all out into the country and dump you alive. If we die, you die.'

"They scribbled instructions on a paper and asked me to sign it. I refused to sign it. Pawiak, when they became insistent, said: 'Warden, you have your hands up, so what the hell more can we ask.' but then they put a gun on me and forced me to go to the door and pass out the note.

"Later, when they got no response, they became more threatening, and soon Father Cleary came up bravely under their guns and started to plead with them. He asked them in all decency to drop the effort to escape, which was doomed to failure, and Sullivan, I think, replied:

"'Father, I am a Catholic and would like to obey you, but this has gone too far. Either we are going out, or we shall die, and if we die these officers are going to die with us.'

"The priest returned to the front office and the men then began to discuss the next move. They knew they had killed Durnford [the principal keeper] and that all would die in the chair, and they were determined to kill us unless they got out.

"Then we got word that the men in front had some plan of meeting their wishes. At any rate they said they would convince the prisoners that the doors were open and the automobiles ready to take them away, and they opened the doors so they could enter the main hall and have an unobstructed view of the open prison door all the way to the street, with the automobiles waiting for them.

"Thereupon, the doors of the main hall were opened from both north and south wings, and we all went out into that main hall. The convicts had up to now controlled an enfilading gunfire from these two doors.

"They came into the hall, taking us with them, when suddenly a state trooper, with astounding bravery, stepped into full range of their guns and threw a gas bomb. More followed. One rolled right under me.

"The bomb was a signal for a general mêlée and there were shots on all sides. Some of the convicts realized they had been tricked and ran back into the south wing hall, while others ran into the north, but they turned on us and fired at our handcuffed officers at close range. One evidently tried to shoot me in the head or hit me with the butt of his gun. I got only a glancing blow, but it landed behind my head at the base of the skull and I began to get dizzy.

"The gas also by this time began to render me unconscious, and the last sensation I had was of a pain in my wrist as I was being dragged somewhere by my handcuffs. The next thing I knew I was in bed here in the city hospital."

HAITI SETTLES BACK TO ROUTINE; INTERIOR IS QUIET

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Conditions throughout Haiti were unchanged today, with no report of any conflict anywhere in the interior. Official reports to the office of Col. Richard Cutts, commander of the marine corps brigade, said that 175 nacional garde outposts had reported that all was quiet and the population calm.

Col. Frank Evans, commanding the marine gendarmes here, said he expected the curfew law to continue in effect until early next week. Fifteen persons were picked up last night for failing to return to their homes before 9 p. m., of thirty prisoners earlier taken by the provost guard, 26 have been released with orders to leave the capital.

Attorney Wins Own Suit to Have Self Disbarred

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—Upon his own motion, the name of Attorney B. Steuben was stricken from the roll of practicing attorneys by the State Supreme court today. Steuben was named recently in connection with irregularities in corporation fees in the office of Secretary of State Stratton.

Slips and Falls in Street; Trolley Car Kills Him

Clarence Hebert, 25 years old, living on 122d street near Lake Calumet, was killed last night when he slipped and fell in front of a street car at 121st street and Calumet avenue in Robertsdale, a suburb of Hammond.

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—A mooring tower for dirigibles with a built-in landing platform for trans-Atlantic passengers will tower 1,300 feet, a quarter of a mile, above Fifth avenue at 34th street when the new Empire State building is finished, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith announced today.

Thus the structure will be not only the tallest building in the world but the first to be equipped for a future age of transportation that is now only a dream of pioneers in aviation. The mooring mast will add 200 feet to the original plans, making the structure 270 feet higher than the Chrysler building and 300 feet above the Eiffel tower in Paris.

Mr. Smith said the dirigibles would be warped to the mast by an electrical winch, much as an ocean liner is warped to its pier. A ship once fast in its swivel can swing in the breeze and the passengers go down a gangplank to the elevator in the tower, he declared.

Girl Plays Fireman in Basement; Burns to Death

Grace Sullivan, 4 years old, 5835 South Artesian avenue, lighted a pile of papers on the floor of the basement of her home yesterday to play fireman and was burned fatally when the flames ignited her dress. Her father, John, who heard her screams extinguished the blaze with his hands and took her to the Holy Cross hospital, where she died.

Still Digging to Rescue Man Buried by Cave-In

Crosby, Minn., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Rescue crews, working since late yesterday to reach Jack Snyder, trapped in a cavein at the Croft underground mine, continued their efforts today. Snyder, who was working alone when the cavein occurred, has been tapping out answers to signals of the rescue crews, which are working carefully to prevent another slide.

Willow Springs Roadhouse Burns; Loss Set at $50,000

Fire believed to have been caused by a faulty boiler early this morning destroyed Samec's Grove, a roadhouse owned by John Samec at River Grove road and the Santa Fe railroad tracks in Willow Springs. Samec, his wife and children, and two patrons were assisted from the place by County Highway Policemen Louis Nelson, Russell Dworak, and William Gogiel. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

TEACHER'S DEATH LINKED TO TRYST WITH RADIO MAN

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The clubbing to death of Miss Cordelia Gummersheimer, high school teacher, last Saturday night, cut short a romance with Roy Scribner, radio operator employed by the Mackay Radio company, 20 Broad street, New York City. This was the latest development tonight in the murder investigation.

Scribner met the school teacher in Chicago on Nov. 22 and accompanied her to Rockford on Saturday, Nov. 23, just two weeks before she was slain, it was learned today. Scribner, a married man and father, spent the night in Miss Gummersheimer's apartment, tenants of the building reported.

The radio operator was interviewed in New York and declared he would say nothing unless questioned by police. State's Attorney William D. Knight is expected to telegraph New York authorities at once to question him.

Feared Wife's Detectives.

Two close friends of Miss Gummersheimer visited her shortly after Scribner left and found her sobbing, they said. She expressed fear, they assert, that Scribner's wife had employed detectives to shadow her husband.

Scribner's name was mentioned when the body was first found. A number of letters containing fervent expressions of love were found in the school teacher's room. Prosecutor Knight refused to make these letters public, insisting they have no bearing on the case. One letter read: "Darling Cordelia: O, how I wish I had my arms around your dear body again."

Today it was learned in New York that Scribner received a letter from the teacher on Monday.

Acquainted for 9 Years.

The story there was that Miss Gummersheimer first became acquainted with Scribner when he was a single man nine years ago. They had a lovers' quarrel and Scribner married in 1922. He has a daughter 2 years old.

Miss Gummersheimer received a telegram last Nov 20 stating that Scribner was on his way to New York from Portland and wished to see her in Chicago. She went up to the city on Nov. 22, and the next day, Saturday, she arrived at Rockford with him.

"I met them in the hall going up the stairs," said one tenant. "The man with the suitcase brushed rudely past me and Miss Gummersheimer avoided my gaze. I did not know who the man was."

Friends Reveal Her Fear.

The rest of the story came from Miss Maude Weinshenk, English teacher at the high school. She and another friend of Miss Gummersheimer visited the latter's apartment the next afternoon, Sunday, and found her in hysterics. She told them that Scribner had left on a 2 o'clock train.

"I'm afraid, I'm afraid!" Miss Gummersheimer is said to have exclaimed. "Mr. Scribner says his wife is insanely jealous and is suspicious of him. He told me never to write to him again. He told me his wife got hold of one of my letters, and that she was furious. He wondered if, perhaps, detectives were not shadowing him. He asked me if I'd marry him if he divorced his wife."

The next week-end, one week before her death, the school teacher again went up to Chicago. This was learned today when a ticket stub and theater program for the Chicago Civic opera performance on Nov. 30 were found in her room. Whom the school teacher met on that occasion has not been learned.

All other angles of the murder inquiry seemed at a standstill tonight. During the day excited questioning of witnesses followed a report that Nicolai Diaz Martinez, a Cuban admirer of the school teacher, had been seen in town on the week-end she was slain.

Prosecutor Knight succeeded in making long distance connections with a small town 60 miles from Havana, in which Martinez has lived for the two years since he left Rockford. A sister of Martinez said that he had not left Cuba and that she would have him call the prosecutor as soon as he can be notified.

One theory is that a night school student of Miss Gummersheimer killed her in a fit of jealousy. Every student who ever studied under her is being questioned.

There is some resentment over the release of Dr. Floyd Leach, dentist, who was held for 36 hours after the discovery of the body.

TO QUESTION CHICAGOAN

Ralph B. Howe, 9625 South Winchester avenue, manager of the W. W. Barnard Seed company, is to be questioned today by the Chicago police in connection with the investigation of the murder of Cordelia Gummersheimer, Rockford high school teacher. A telegram from State's Attorney Knight of Rockford last night asked the Chicago police to locate R. B. Howe, 2942 Federal street, the address of the seed company, and question him about a letter which he had written to Miss Gummersheimer from New York on Nov. 18.

Mr. Knight said the letter opened with the salutation "Dear Cordelia." It referred to "the wonderful times" the writer and the teacher had had together, according to Mr. Knight. The prosecutor said the note could not be construed as a love letter, but he was investigating it in pursuance of his policy of following up every letter found in the dead woman's apartment.

Ralph B. Howe and his family were not at their home last night and neighbors said they understood the Howes were out of the city. Charles Herbert Smith, 9535 South Winchester avenue, a cousin, said he was certain that Mr. Howe was not connected with the Rockford case.

Mr. Howe is a graduate and a former instructor in pomology of the University of Illinois. He is well known in horticultural circles and a member of several societies.

Finds "Dead" Husband; Sues

MISS WINIFRED SACKVILLE STONER.

Annulment from "Count" Is Sought.

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Miss Winifred Sackville Stoner's first husband, who she thought was killed in a motor accident six years ago, has bobbed up again in the life of the often engaged and twice married young woman, who once was perhaps the world's most widely publicized "child prodigy."

This was revealed today when Miss Stoner filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Count Philippe de Bruche, which took place in Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 7, 1921.

The count, according to Miss Stoner's belief, died in a smashup in Mexico City a year after he became her husband. In 1925 Miss Stoner married Louis Hyman, wealthy middle aged sportsman. She divorced him Aug. 15, 1927.

Meet "Dead" Husband.

In her petition for annulment Miss Stoner asserts she learned only three weeks ago that the count is alive. She received a mysterious telephone call, asking her to come to the lobby of the Ansonia. There she encountered her "dead" first husband.

She asks the annulment on the ground that the count is not a count at all and that he deceived her regarding his accomplishments. She was only sixteen when she and De Bruche were married.

In College at 9.

She always had been a "wonder child." She was born with a full set of teeth. At the age of one year, she conversed in polysyllabic words. She could read at 16 months. She knew several languages when she was 5. At 9, she passed a college entrance examination, and at 12 was graduated from a university.

The count was 40 when she met him. Miss Stoner was quoted as saying she fell in love with him "because he could do almost everything a little better than I could."

STUDIO SUICIDE COUPLE'S MOTIVE STILL UNKNOWN

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—With the deaths of Henry Grew Crosby and Mrs. Josephine Rotch Bigelow, both prominent in Boston society, officially recorded as a case of suicide and homicide, authorities were baffled tonight after an all day attempt to find a motive for the shooting which ended the lives of the couple on Tuesday night in a borrowed studio apartment in the Hotel des Artistes.

While an autopsy was being made on the two bodies at the morgue Mrs. Bigelow's husband, Albert S. Bigelow, former Harvard hockey star and now a graduate student at Harvard, was on his way here from Boston to claim her body. Since their marriage last June there had been no separation or outward estrangement between the couple.

The body of Mr. Crosby, who was the son of Stephen Van Rensselaer Crosby, a leading Boston banker, and the nephew of J. P. Morgan, was removed to an undertaking establishment pending plans for the funeral.

DEPUTY WHO KILLED MRS. DE KING GETS $2,000 FROM COUNTY

Deputy Sheriff Roy E. Smith of Kane county, who killed Mrs. Lillian De King in her home in Aurora during a search for liquor on the night of March 25, was voted $2,004.50 yesterday by the Kane county supervisors to pay for hospital and medical attention due to his wound. He was shot in the thigh by Gerald De King, 12 years old, who became the defender of his home after his father, Joseph De King, was struck unconscious by Deputy Smith, and his mother was fatally wounded.

The vote allowing Smith this sum was 23 to 12, the Aurora members of the county board with two exceptions casting the negative votes. The members from Elgin and nearby, where Smith and State's Attorney George D. Carbary live, voted for it after the supervisors had induced a doctor, a nurse and the hospital to take $281 off their claims. For months the legality of the payment was debated without decision, and one supervisor said he understood Smith was receiving full pay since his injury, but this could not be verified.

The perjury indictment against Boyd Fairchild, who made the false affidavit on which an intended raid on the De King home was predicated, is scheduled for hearing at the next term of court, but no action has been taken to follow the recommendation of the state legislature that a new grand jury investigation of the death of Mrs. De King be undertaken.

THORNE FORGIVES ELOPING COWBOY AND DAUGHTER

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Robert J. Thorne, Chicago millionaire, is going to make up with the daughter who eloped against his wishes several months ago with a "dude ranch" cowboy, he admitted today.

Thorne, who is en route to Pasadena, Cal., to see his daughter, Catherine, and her husband, George Gillespie, who now is in the movies, thought there would be more elopements if more girls were willing, and said he believed eloping was a "very romantic way of getting married."

"She is my girl, after all," he concluded, confirming reports of the coming reconciliation.

BANDITS KIDNAP CHAUFFEUR AND TAKE HIS AUTO

Thomas Westbrook, 4522 Forrestville avenue, colored chauffeur for A. B. Schuttler, retired business man residing at the Chicago Athletic association, 12 South Michigan boulevard, was kidnaped by four armed men last night as he was waiting for his employer at 2355 Commonwealth avenue.

The gang, one of whom carried a shotgun, drove the Schuttler car to Niles Center, where they gave Westbrook a dime to pay his fare to the city, pushed him out of the machine, and sped away. It was believed by the police that they intended to use the car in robberies. The kidnaping of Westbrook is the third in which chauffeurs for wealthy men have been seized by gangsters recently.

Wets Win Eight Dry Areas in Scotch Local Option Poll

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Scotland will be "wetter" as a result of the polling on local option in several areas yesterday. The results so far show eight victories for license, including Pollockshaw's Ward of Glasgow, a residential suburb and usually a safe retreat for the temperance party; Kilmarnock, and Newmilns, Ayrshire.

Wets Win; Dry Issue Dead.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 11.—The Ontario Liberal party, which suffered overwhelming defeat when it supported prohibition against the Ferguson government liquor sale policy in the recent provincial election, today definitely abandoned prohibition as a plank in its platform.

KIN OF PETITTI, KIDNAPER, SLAIN BY TWO GUNMEN

Shot from Behind as He Walks on Street.

When Tommasco Tiritilli, aged 60, of 3100 Polk street, was shot to death last night in front of 3109 Lexington street, no motive for murder was discovered. Then police learned he was the father-in-law of Angelo Petitti, head of an extortion ring, who was convicted a year ago of kidnaping 10 year old Billy Ranieri for ransom and was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

Of Tiritilli's own activities the police were unable to find anything that might suggest a cause for his being killed. Two men had come up behind him on the sidewalk—perhaps they came from an automobile—and they shot him from behind. He had $118 in his pockets and a bond of the San Giovanni e Paolo society, an Italian benevolent society of which he was an officer.

No Robbery Attempted.

It was learned he worked as a day laborer and for eight years he has been a sewer digger for one plumbing concern. The money in his pocket had been given him a half hour before by his son, Fred, a violin teacher, for a payment on repairs to the Tiritilli home. No effort was made to rob the slain man.

Capt. Thomas Pilkington of the Marquette station questioned the relatives of the dead man regarding his association with Petitti and whether Tiritilli knew A. Frank Ranieri, wealthy sewer contractor and father of the boy Petitti kidnaped.

Petitti Appeal Is Pending.

The trial of Petitti and Andrew Cappellano of Bourbonnais, Ill., was concluded on Dec. 23, 1928. Both were taken to the penitentiary and since then Petitti has asked an appeal, but has not been liberated from prison pending a rehearing by the Supreme court. The trial was marked by numerous threats and the killing of Ole Scully, a state's witness, who was to have testified regarding Petitti's black hand extortions. Several times since then the Ranieri home has been under police guard.

DELAY AUCTION OF PROPERTY OF DRUGGAN, LAKE

The government delayed action yesterday in the collection of its $500,000 income tax claims against Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake. By agreement, the auction of the National Brewing company, Campbell avenue and Roosevelt road, the live stock on Druggan's Lake Zurich estate and Lake's Oak Park home, set for today, was postponed to Dec. 27. On behalf of the former beer partners, their attorney, Capt. W. F. Waugh, arranged to post in escrow "an amount greater than the government could realize through the auction."

4,000 EMPLOYES OF COUNTY MAY MISS YULE PAY

Report Board Split Perils Budget Passage.

December salaries for 4,000 county employés, amounting to approximately $300,000, hung in the balance last night as efforts were being made to muster ten votes to pass the county budget for 1930 today. Dissension among the fifteen county commissioners, according to reports from yesterday's executive session, has made it uncertain whether ten votes, the necessary two-thirds, can be mustered on a roll call.

Unless the budget is passed within the next few days, according to the explanations of the commissioners, no money will be available to give the employés their Christmas pay envelopes. Pay roll funds are exhausted now and can be replenished only from the sale of 1930 tax anticipation warrants, and these are contingent upon the passage of the budget.

Will Meet Today.

"We have adjourned until 2:30 p. m. tomorrow," commented President Cermak at the close of yesterday's session. "I believe we can muster the necessary ten votes needed to pass the budget when it comes to a showdown."

Other commissioners were not so optimistic.

The session was reported to have been exciting, with the controversy waging fiercely around three points: The legality of appropriating for only ten months of the year; whether the ten month budget can be applied to the salaries of the Circuit and Superior court judges without danger of court action; and whether script can be issued for the last two months of 1930.

Five Reported Opposed.

The commissioners reported opposed to the passage of the budget in its present form, which attempts to cope with an anticipated deficit of $5,000,000, are Louis Nettelhorst, Francis Boutell, Joseph P. Carolan, John W. Gibson, and Frank J. Wilson. If none of the other ten joins these five the budget will pass, according to its proponents.

In the city hall the council finance committee confined itself to listening to the protests of two department heads, William J. Balmer, commissioner of public service, and Michael J. Kennedy, commissioner of gas an electricity, against proposed cuts in their appropriations.

Darkened streets with prowlers waylaying the citizens were predicted by Kennedy if his funds are cut from the $4,031,026 figure of 1929 to $3,662,484 for 1930.

WOMAN KICKS BAILIFF; FINED.

Mrs Iva Bohne, 24 years old, employed as a waitress in a restaurant at 1116 Wilson avenue, was fined $25 for kicking Mathew Ruppert, a Municipal court bailiff, by Judge Max Lester in the Town Hall court yesterday. The kicking took place when the bailiff was serving a writ of replevin on some furniture.

County Tax Officials Laugh at Mandamus Suit Threat

The final reassessment figures for Rogers Park were released yesterday by the board of review as county officials laughed at a threat of mandamus proceedings to reinstate the 1927 quadrennial as demanded in petitions submitted by attorneys for Cicero, Maywood and Bellwood. The board of review cut the valuations of the board of assessors by $1,215,950 in complaint hearings.

The assessors fixed the total assessment for Rogers Park at $84,718,933. This figure was reduced to $83,502,983 by the board of review. In 1927 the reviewers slashed the assessors' figures for Rogers Park by $7,423,721. The figure set by the assessors that year was $98,966,232. The reassessment brings a savings of $8,029,528 to the taxpayers of Rogers Park.

Books to Malone for Auditing.

The books of the reviewers will be submitted to Chairman William H. Malone of the state tax commission today for audit. The purpose of the audit is to determine whether the reviewers have acted in compliance with the commission's orders and rules. If irregularities are revealed they will be stricken from the rolls and action may be taken against the reviewers if mistakes are considered wilful, according to Mr. Malone.

Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, declared that all reductions were made at the request of the staff of the board of assessors. The board denied demands for increases in valuation made by Attorney William V. Sullivan of the school board who charged that assessments should be made on the bonded value of buildings.

Threaten Mandamus Suit.

The plea for reinstatement of the 1927 quadrennial as a basis for the extension and collection of 1928 taxes was made in petitions to levying and assessing officials on Tuesday. Yesterday Attorneys Ode L. Rankin, Edward J. Carmody and Jacob E. Dittus, representing the three western suburbs and school districts in Cicero and Proviso townships, said they would appeal to the Supreme court for a writ of mandamus unless their petitions were granted.

The petitions hold that the reassessment is illegal because it has delayed collection of taxes beyond the date set by law and because it is contended the state tax commission had not the power to void the 1927 quadrennial and substitute the reassessment. County officials characterized the move as another effort to delay tax collecting.

Petitions Called Foolish.

"The petitions and threat of mandamus action are preposterous," County Attorney Hayden Bell declared. "They are absolutely foolish. The Supreme court has already held the 1927 quadrennial void in another case and the only method of collecting taxes is through the reassessment. It would be folly to consider the threat.

"If such unnecessary delays are not eliminated, local governments will have to be carried on voluntarily without pay or state militia will be required to preserve order on half pay, as the Cook county revenue will not be in the state treasury."

Another defiance of the reassessment came from Nathan I. Noach, assessor for Evanston. In an interview with Harry S. Cutmore of the reassessment staff Noach declared that 50 per cent of the Evanston assessments are either too high or too low. He threatened to resign unless he is permitted to bring the figures to what he believes to be the correct amounts.

MUST QUIT CIGARETS TO GET $10,000 FROM ESTATE OF HER AUNT

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 11.—(AP)—If and when Mrs. Samuel Temple of Boston takes an oath to cease smoking cigarets she will receive $10,000 as her share of her aunt's estate, according to the terms of the will probated here today.

Mrs. Temple, formerly Ruth Anderson of this place, is a painter, but she has continued to use her maiden name in identifying her art work. Her aunt, Miss Esther M. Groome, died Nov. 29 in Philadelphia and the will was made on May 23. The estate is valued at $25,000.

If Mrs. Temple declines to take the oath she will receive the interest from the $10,000 fund, which will be placed in trust for her.

Ask Laborite to Form Cabinet in Australia Estate

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Sir William McPherson, Nationalist premier of Victoria, today handed in the resignation of his government to Gov. Lord Somers. The governor requested Edmond Hogan, the Labor leader and an ex-premier, to form a new ministry.

SANITARY BOARD BUDGET HEARINGS WILL OPEN TODAY

The first public hearing prior to the passage of the sanitary district's 1930 budget will be held today before the district's finance committee. The hearings will continue for ten days, said Trustee Ross Woodhull, chairman of the committee, after which the figures will be put into shape for adoption before the end of the year.

The tentative appropriations asked by the department heads total approximately $63,000,000, an increase of $30,000,000 over 1929 and $6,000,000 over 1928, when pay rolls were padded. The increase, according to the trustees, is due to the large number of bonds maturing in 1930 and the extensive construction program planned.

A total of $24,327,500 must be appropriated for bond retirements and interest on bonds. The appropriation of $27,072,000 for construction work will be reduced, it was pointed out, as bond revenues available for construction work are estimated at only $14,777,000.

FIND BUM IN CAFE; OWNER FINED.

Edward Vaicek, proprietor of the Amber Light café at 21st street and 9th avenue, Broadview, was fined $100 yesterday by Justice of the Peace Ira P. Lambert on a charge of disorderly conduct as a result of the seizure of a small quantity of liquor in the café on Sunday.

BUILDING MEN DIVIDED OVER TRADE OUTLOOK

Supply Dealers Cheerful, but Not Contractors.

Two widely different views of prospects for prosperity in the coming year were voiced yesterday at separate meetings of builders and tradesmen in the Hotel Sherman.

While members of the Illinois Association of Highway and Municipal Contractors were applauding speakers who declared that President Hoover's business conferences were abortive and his predictions of prosperity far too optimistic, delegates to the annual convention of the National Builders' Supply association listened to speakers who expressed confidence that good times lie ahead.

Raps Prosperity Campaign.

"The effort in Washington to bolster up a bad condition in business," declared Alan Jay Parrish, president of the State Contractors' association, "is detrimental to industry. A lot of people have come forward with a lot of promises to do a lot of work. I think they did it simply to get their names in print.

"I look for slow recovery in the contracting business and some improvement in prices, but it will be nothing like the bright predictions that have been made recently. There will be pretty bad times next year, and we welcome it. It will force the irresponsible, shoestring operator out of the construction business. That will bring better prices."

William L. Collins of Hornell, N. Y., vice president of the Associated General Contractors of America, severely criticized banking methods, accusing banking institutions of creating the same condition in the contracting industry that exists in the stock market.

Supply Dealers Cheerful.

While the speakers were carrying on in this pessimistic vein before the contractors, the builders' supply men, who depend upon the contractors for their livelihood, were painting rosy word pictures of the future at their meeting in another banquet hall of the hotel.

"Business will be better next year because of the Hoover conferences," said President W. W. Campbell in his opening address. "His efforts will rally the whole industrial program and rejuvenate business generally."

C. P. Thompson, president of the Calumet Coal company of Chicago, in welcoming the delegates, declared that the stock market crash will have a healthful effect on the building industry. The get-rich-quick speculator who has lost heavily will now be led to conservative and safe investment in construction, he said.

GASPARRI, 77, TO RETIRE, VATICAN CIRCLE REPORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Dec. 11.—Reports were current in Vatican circles tonight that Msgr. Eugenio Pacelli, papal nuncio to Berlin, who will be elevated to the purple Monday, will soon succeed Cardinal Gasparri as papal secretary of state.

Reports of Cardinal Gasparri's retirement have been circulated during the last year, but have always been denied.

The Lavoro Fascista tonight says that Cardinal Gasparri has desired to retire for some time. He has been secretary of state for fifteen years and is 77 years old. Msgr. Pacelli is the brother of Francesco Pacelli, Vatican councilor of state, and chief negotiator of the Lateran pact. Msgr. Pacelli has had a diplomatic career of twelve years.

Christmas shoppers find Henrici's convenient for luncheon

☆ ☆ ☆

¶ By the way, fruit cakes and plum puddings, like wine and sound friendship, improve in quality with age—many wise providers are right now laying in their supplies of Henrici fruit cakes and Henrici plum puddings not only for Christmas but for New Year's also.

☆ ☆ ☆

¶ Still others with even more foresight seize advantage of a few unhurried moments before or after luncheon to leave orders for their entire supplies of Henrici bakery products for the holidays. They know full well that torten and fancy cakes of all sorts, cookies, etc., will be wrapped fresh from the ovens and awaiting their call at any time, just precedent to Christmas or New Year's, they may now designate.

☆ ☆ ☆

¶ This is the time of year when Henrici menus are at their best—the time when the markets are supplying the choicest viands obtainable. Whether you come for breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper you will find the menu a veritable delight.

☆ ☆ ☆

50 INDICTED BY LOESCH SPECIAL JURIES FREED

Prosecution Drops All Election Terror Cases.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Ollie White and James Ward, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

The Criminal court records were wiped clean yesterday of all indictments growing out of the series of special grand jury investigations carried on under the direction of Attorney Frank J. Loesch, who at the time was an assistant attorney general and later a special first assistant state's attorney.

Attorneys C. E. Lounsbury and William Haynes, who were associated with the veteran battler against the alliance of crime and politics, entered nol pros orders in the 96 cases against 99 defendants which were pending in the Criminal courts.

Sanitary Cases Remain.

The prosecutors filed a four page typewritten explanation with the nol pros motions, which dispose of every case originating under the Loesch regime with the exception of the sanitary district cases. These cases were taken over by State's Attorney Swanson and are still pending on the dockets, although no effort has as yet been made to bring them to trial.

The move by the special prosecutors was more or less of a surprise and none of the defendants in the various cases, ranging from murder to ballot box stuffing, was in court. Attorneys Roland Libonati and John H. Jontry, who had represented some of the indicted men, happened into court as the special prosecutors were entering the dismissal orders. They objected on the ground that their clients were entitled to full exoneration by not guilty verdicts, but it was ruled that the state could not be forced to prosecute.

Mostly Followers of Eller.

Most of the dismissed cases involve henchmen of City Controller Morris Eller. Among his prominent lieutenants named in the various charges were State Senator James B. Leonardo, Harry Hochstein, Sammy Kaplan and Buddy Jacobson. The other defendants were policemen, hoodlums and minor precinct politicians who became involved in the various investigations growing out of the election day terrorism which was climaxed with the murder of Octavius Granady on primary day, April 10, 1928.

The prosecutors gave a history of the appointment of the special grand juries at the instigation of the Chicago Bar association, and then go on to summarize the work done.

They list the indicting of Morris Eller and his son, until recently Judge Emanuel Eller. They point to the conviction of the Eller henchmen in the first trial at which fines were imposed for conspiracy to violate the election laws in the 20th ward.

Four Convictions Obtained.

Four convictions are credited to the prosecutors, one of them being the fines in the Eller henchmen trial, another the conviction of precinct election officials from the 27th ward—the home balliwick of Homer Galpin—and two other minor cases. As compared with the convictions seven trials resulted in acquittals.

"Because of the acquittals above mentioned, the terrorism exercised over state's witnesses, the escape from trial of some of the principal defendants indicted, and the result of the Granady murder trial, it has become plain that no further convictions can be had and it therefore is useless to further prosecute any of the said indictments so returned by the special grand juries," reads the statement.

A. of C. Will Give 25th Birthday Dinner Tonight

A banquet attended by more than 1,200 of the business leaders of Chicago and the nation tonight will climax the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, will be the principal speaker, talking on "Prosperity." Other speakers will include Charles Ward Seabury, president of the association; and the Rev. Duncan H. Browne, dean of St. James' cathedral.

DIES OF RAZOR WOUNDS.

Thomas Hooks, 24 years old, colored, died yesterday at the county hospital of wounds received on Nov. 11 when he was cut with a razor by William Ward, colored, 923 Milton avenue.

Two Youths Given Life for Murder in Holdup

Jesse Dillard, 16 years old, 1649 West 14th street, and William Brown, 19 years old, 1540 Hastings street, both Negroes, were convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment last night by a jury in Judge Harry M. Fisher's court. The youths shot and killed Max Stein, 50 years old, 4322 Lexington avenue, in a robbery on Sept. 27 in front of 1543 Hastings street. While awaiting the jury's verdict Brown and Dillard engaged in a fist fight in a cell, when Brown blamed the younger boy for "squealing." The case was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorneys John Hampton and Karl Swanberg.

Woman Shot in Head by Husband Is Recovering

The condition of Mrs. Dora Canale, 22 years old, 1223 Draper street, who was seriously wounded Tuesday night when a bullet fired by her estranged husband, Carl Canale, 25 year old barber, of 3223 West Madison street, lodged in her head, was improved last night, attendants at Chicago General hospital said. Her father, William Pirwitz, 65 years old, with whom she lived, was slightly wounded when Canale fired four times after his wife refused a reconciliation plea. Canale fled.

AIR ELOPEMENT GOES CRASH IN TEXAS LOCKUP

Wedded Waukegan Flyer Seized with Girl Pupil.

A Waukegan romance which began in the air when Vernon Ramsey, 29 year old instructor at the Waukegan airport and air deputy sheriff of Lake county, gave flying lessons to his pretty pupil, Evelyn Miller, 22 years old, came to earth with a thud yesterday with their arrest in Denton, Tex., whither they had eloped in Ramsey's plane.

Chief of Police Frank Tiffany of North Chicago began proceedings to extradite Ramsey on a charge of wife abandonment. A warrant was sworn out by the wife, Ruth Evelyn Ramsey, 21 years old, to whom the flyer was secretly married last March 26, four days after his first wife, Harriet Ramsey of Waukegan, was granted a divorce.

Pair Depart Waukegan.

Ramsey, who was the head mechanic of the Waukegan Flying club and was known as its most daring pilot, left Waukegan on Nov. 30, telling his wife he was bound for Miami in his four passenger Stinson-Detroiter plane, and that he would write her when he became settled.

The following day Miss Miller, who was secretary and the only woman member of the flying club and an ardent student of aviation, turned in her secretarial records and said she was departing for St. Louis and a new job. She lived at 1009 Grand avenue, Waukegan.

Heroine of Parachute Jump.

Miss Miller, a brunette, caused a sensation in Waukegan last August when she attempted her first parachute jump and plunged through the air from a height of 2,000 feet, her parachute partly opening when she was only 500 feet from the ground. Her pilot in the stunt, which was watched by a crowd of 5,000, was Ramsey. She sprained her back in falling, but picked herself up and walked away. Since then she has been regarded in Waukegan as something of a heroine.

Mrs. Ramsey's father, A. G. Sayler, manager of the Consumers company store at 1714 Sheridan road, North Chicago, told North Chicago police that he would ask federal authorities to charge Ramsey with violation of the Mann act.

COOLIDGE WILL GET HIS CABINET CHAIR AS CHRISTMAS GIFT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Two former cabinet officials of Calvin Coolidge have arranged to send him as a Christmas present the chair in which he sat at cabinet meetings while President.

The comfortable, leather upholstered chair is being sent to Northampton by Secretaries Mellon and Davis, who also served in the Coolidge administration. President Hoover, who was Mr. Coolidge's secretary of commerce, has not been asked, however, to participate in the gift.

When it became known today that the chair was being crated for shipment to Northampton it was indicated that all three of Coolidge's former cabinet associates were purchasing the chair from the government, but later it was announced at the White House that Mr. Hoover knew nothing of the plans made by Secretaries Mellon and Davis.

340 Killed on London Streets in Three Months

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Three hundred and forty persons were killed in London in street accidents during July, August, and September. Three hundred and nine died in the same quarter last year. The death total for the first nine months is 955, against 872 a year ago. Trade and commercial autos killed 112; private cars, 85; motorcycles, 71. Total accidents for the quarter were 32,000, with 16,262 injured.

ENDS LIFE BY HANGING.

Alleged Habitual Burglar Held on Bonds of $100,000

Charles J. Deane, 40 years old, was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $100,000. Judge Francis Borrelli in the Felony court fixed the high bond when he was told that the defendant is an habitual criminal. Deane is held on six charges of burglary and one charge of having burglar tools. He is alleged to have robbed homes on the north side.

Liberals to Fight New British Coal Mines' Bill

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—It was announced in the house of commons tonight that Liberal leaders will oppose the second reading of the Labor government's coal mines bill next week. Liberals argue the bill, presented today, will subsidise export trade, ruin small manufacturers, and boost prices.

"She's a Septic!"

Many women want to be, deserve to be, and could be far more popular than is their lot. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call good sense septics.

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must recognize their cause. The trouble is deep-seated. Possibly in the colon. Sluggish constipation makes millions of systems septic. There may be a daily movement, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Nature is signaling her need of a tiny Calcium Wafer.

Calcium wafers work wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system never sluggish, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. And you rarely need take emollient cathartic.

Perhaps you are a septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny wafer of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You never need them if you take an occasional calcium wafer.

TRY THIS THOROUGH TEST

A five day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them for 10c. Or the family size, 50c. Start this test today!

BRITAIN TO ASK WORLD TO SCRAP ALL BATTLESHIPS

MacDonald Lays Plans for Surprise Proposal.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Prime Minister MacDonald, it is learned, is planning a sensational move at the opening meeting of the five power naval conference in January.

This is no less than a proposal to abolish battleships entirely, and he is now preparing a speech on those lines. The proposal will have to be approved by the other members of his government, but there is little doubt that such approval can be obtained.

Answer to France.

The gesture is a dramatic reply to the French, who, when abolition of submarines was proposed, said: "What about the British and American battleships? It is easy to propose abolition of a weapon in which the great powers are weak and the smaller naval powers are strong, while still keeping the terribly expensive and efficient weapons such as the capital ship."

Mr. MacDonald now is planning to reply: "Very well, we will abolish capital ships. Now what about submarines?"

Great Britain, according to a current issue of "Jone's Fighting Ships," has 16 battleships in commission and the United States has 18. The other nations are negligible in this particular arm.

Japanese Delegates in America.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Reijiro Wakatsuki and Admiral Takarabe, heading the Japanese delegation to the forthcoming London disarmament conference, asserted here today that their country would go as far toward reducing its naval force as any other power.

Wakatsuki, former premier of Japan, and Takarabe, minister of the navy, arrived with the remainder of the delegation last night from Yokohama. They are on their way to Washington to meet President Hoover before proceeding to London for the conference.

Wants to Keep Submarines.

The former premier said his country desired to keep submarines as a naval weapon.

"A country like Japan, with no aggressive designs and of inferior naval strength, is dependent in a large part on submarines as a defensive weapon," he said.

"Japan has many ideas and many hopes of lasting good to come from the London conference. The fundamental thing in our minds is reduction, a sweeping reduction if it proves practicable and the conference shows it to be advisable. It must be accomplished, however, without involving a menace as between the conferring parties."

Arrive in Chicago Sunday.

Wakatsuki indicated that the question of whether Japan would seek a change from the 5-5-3 basis to a higher ratio of 10-10-7 could not be determined in advance of the conference.

The delegation will start eastward tomorrow night. It is scheduled to arrive in Chicago Dec. 15 and in Washington the next day. The party will sail from New York for London Dec. 20.

CHINESE GOVERNMENT ASKS PERMIT TO BUY AMMUNITION IN U. S.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—An application calling for the exportation of 500,000 rounds of machine gun ammunition and eighty airplane bombs has been filed with the state department in behalf of the Chinese government for use in putting down the revolting troops threatening Nanking.

The application has been taken under consideration and some doubt exists as to whether it will be granted. Usually the state department approves such applications but so many factors enter into the present situation in China that more than ordinary attention is being paid to the request. The fact that the Hoover administration just recently appealed to world public opinion to halt hostilities in Manchuria between Russia and China complicates the situation.

BOMBING SCARE QUIZ HALTED AT NORRIS' REQUEST

State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county said yesterday that he was ready to call a grand jury to investigate the placing of a stick of dynamite in the Lake Forest home of James Norris, one of the owners of the Chicago Stadium, but that Norris had informed him that he (Norris) did not desire the investigation. As long as Norris is satisfied, Prosecutor Smith said, the dynamite incident is a closed matter with him. Sidney Strotz, secretary of the Stadium corporation, declared that he and Norris would do nothing more about the bomb scare other than what they have already done. Both have been sworn as special policemen, so they might carry revolvers.

Moe E. Hillison, president of Hillison & Etten company, printers at 638 Federal street, has been named defendant in a $250,000 breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Mona Roth, 4326 Drexel boulevard. This was learned yesterday when the suppression on the suit, which had been filed Tuesday, was lifted by Attorney Victor Frohlich.

Mr. Hillison, who is 52 years old, is married and has a daughter, Marjorie. The family home is at 5454 South Shore drive. Mr. Hillison is also president of the Dealers' Service corporation, vice president of the United States Fashion company, and a director of the Transportation bank.

Met Twelve Years Ago.

Mrs. Roth, who is 37 years old, met Hillison in 1917 when she was employed as a cabaret singer, according to Attorney Frohlich. She has two children. The attorney avers that Mr. Hillison provided Mrs. Roth with an apartment and gave her an income of $500 a month for twelve years.

Mrs. Roth did not know Hillison was married, the attorney said. She is said to have made the discovery two years ago.

Hillison Denies Charges.

Mrs. Roth has not seen him since, the attorney said. He added that Hillison persuaded her not to marry another man early in their twelve year courtship.

Hillison denied the charges when he was reached at his office.

"I have never heard of the woman," he said. "The charges are absolutely untrue. Such a story is fanciful. It is nothing but a shakedown. I have never met the woman."

EXPERTS NAMED TO MODERNIZE N. U. LAW COURSE

Will Free Teaching from Outworn Dogmas.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Northwestern university yesterday followed with prompt action its decision of the day before, "Away with the deadwood in the teaching of law."

ANDREW BRUCE.

The fast worker, President Walter Dill Scott, appointed the first nine authorities in law, medicine, and applied sociology who are to help carry forward a six and a half million dollar program for freeing law instruction from its burden of tradition, for coördinating it with urgent problems of the present, and for expanding the physical plant of Northwestern's law school.

These first appointments are to the section designated in the scheme of reorganization as "Field of Crime and Criminal Law Administration." The section is to have one full professorship, one associate, and one assistant professorship, endowed in the sum of $450,000, and eleven subjects, some of them new and some of them hitherto taught in an isolated way, will be assembled in it.

Appointed for Task.

Appointments to this section are:

Andrew Alexander Bruce, former chief justice of North Dakota Supreme court, father of Illinois and Wisconsin child labor and anti-sweat shop laws and professor of law at Northwestern university since 1922. He will be chief of the new section.

Dr. James F. Simonds, pathologist of Northwestern University Medical school.

Prof. Robert W. Millar, member of American law institute's section on criminal procedure now preparing model code of criminal procedure, and authority on court procedure.

Prof. Frederick B. Crossley, member of citizens' police committee and librarian of Elbert H. Gary library of Northwestern university.

The eleven subjects now coördinated for the first time in the history of law instruction, which are to be taught by these appointees are:

Criminal law; criminal procedure; police organization; police methods; criminology; penology; criminal statistics; constitutional law (in part); comparative criminal law; comparative criminal procedure; and medico-legal science.

In eight other sections 106 subjects have already been coördinated, but appointments of resident professors and outside specialists for those sections have not yet been made.

Green Analyzes Plan.

Dr. Leon Green, dean of the school and originator of the vast scheme of modernized law teaching which Northwestern's trustees and president adopted on Tuesday, thus brought out the significance of the varied teaching activities now brought under Judge Bruce's direction:

"Now our students will be studying crime as it is today rather than studying reported cases of the last three hundred years. The old teaching was largely doctrinal; the new will be largely factual.

"Something happens in court today. It's new, vivid, pregnant, urgent. It's a cadaver that's right before you instead of a report which a judge has doiled up with words. That kind of thing and the masses of several data now being accumulated by practical sociologists deserve and reward study. Throughout this school we propose to study and teach them."

Among lawyers and educators there was animated speculation on how Northwestern will finance its huge program of law school extension involving 24 endowed professorships and much new construction. One of the president's colleagues said:

"I am not authorized to speak, but I believe that at two sources Dr. Scott already sees two of the six millions required for the great project. He is canny and does not announce five year programs that cannot be completed in five years."

Largest Crowds of Season Jam State Street Stores

With 11 shopping days left before Christmas, crowds along State street yesterday were the largest of the season, and the annual holiday phenomena of packed department store elevators, jammed aisles and frantic buying was well under way. In street cars men struggled under piles of boxes and women prodded them in the back with doll-buggies, toy airplanes and the like. Christmas shopping crowds are expected to reach their peak in a few days.

JUDGE KAVANAGH HONORED FOR 31 YEARS ON BENCH

Superior Judge Marcus Kavanagh was honored as a scholar, soldier, lawyer, jurist, and friend in a testimonial dinner at the Congress hotel last night commemorating his thirty-one years' service on the bench of Cook county. After three hours of eulogies the judge rose from his seat under a life size picture of himself as colonel of the 7th Illinois infantry in the Spanish-American war to defend his fellow judges from attacks and declare war against delay in legal procedure.

Gives Best to Bench.

"The position of judge is not less sacred and important than that of President," he said. "A judge must often decide between life and freedom for his fellow men. That is between himself and God. Yet not infrequently judges are attacked as being overpaid. As a lot there is no group more untiring in the service on mankind.

"A judge does not consider his salary. It does not figure in his life. The most important thing is the joy of service. His reward is the knowledge of giving his best to the bench. The real judge gives all of his time to his work, even though detractors would wish him to spend every minute of his day sitting on that bench when he may be giving more service to the public in other ways.

"I have carried on a battle against red tape in our courts. I have stepped out to criticize the bench, although I am a member of it. I have been warned three times to keep my mouth shut. But a wrong is a wrong, and I shall fight it as such as long as I am able to lift my voice."

Tribute to the judge's scholarship was made by the Rev. Father John Cavanaugh, president emeritus of the University of Notre Dame. Father Cavanaugh praised the judge's books, "The Criminal and His Allies" and "You Be the Judge."

Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman lauded Judge Kavanagh as a soldier. The lawyer was hailed by Silas H. Strawn, former president of the American Bar association. Superior Judge Michael L. McKinley spoke for the judges. Former United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis discussed the judge as a friend.

Other speakers were Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court and City Attorney William D. Saltiel. Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom was toastmaster.

Honor Sullivan, Normoyle.

Tribute was paid to Judge John J. Sullivan, retired chief justice of the Criminal court, and his successor to that office, Judge D. J. Normoyle, in a joint banquet at the Palmer house. Achievements of both judges were lauded by politicians, friends, and fellow judges.

Former Senator Lewis was the principal speaker. Among other speakers were Democratic National Committeeman Thomas F. Donovan; President Anton J. Cermak of the county board, President Edward J. Kelly of the south park board, Recorder Clayton F. Smith, State Senator Michael Igoe, and Judge John P. McGoorty.

FORMER SECRETARY TO COLONEL ROGERS SUES OIL MAN'S WIFE

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A suit for $750,000 damages brought by a former secretary of Col. Henry H. Rogers, Standard Oil millionaire, against Col. Rogers' present wife and two other defendants was disclosed today when the State Supreme court denied a defense application to seal the papers.

In the suit the former secretary, Edward E. Kern, charged that the defendants, Mrs. Margit Borbala Braun Rogers, and Andrew and Marie Zichy, maliciously caused his discharge. One of their reasons for this, he alleged, was an investigation made by him at Rogers' request into Mrs. Margit Rogers' mode of living before her marriage.

Last July Col. Rogers was divorced from his first wife, and shortly afterwards married again.

WYOMING DEMOCRATS OPPOSED TO SPECIAL SENATORIAL ELECTION

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 11.—(AP)—The Democratic state central committee today took a stand against a special election in Wyoming, to fill the post now held temporarily by Senator Patrick J. Sullivan (Republican) on the grounds that such an election would cause needless expense to the taxpayers.

The state legislature, which will meet in special session tomorrow at the call of Gov. Emmerson to clarify the election laws, is urged by the Democrats to repeal a statute enacted in 1927 providing for a special election in the event of a vacancy in the senate.

Republican leaders profess to see in the move of the Democratic committee an attempt to embarrass Gov. Emmerson, if possible, in order to enhance the Democratic chances at the next gubernatorial election.

Should the legislature make the calling of a special election unnecessary, Senator Sullivan, it is expected, will be permitted to serve until 1931 when the winner at the regular election next fall will take office. Sullivan has announced he will not be a candidate.

SHEEP MEN PUT OVER 140 PCT. TARIFF BOOST

Means Suits Will Go Up, Opponents Warn.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Wool growers of the western states emerged victorious today from a three day fight waged in the senate against eastern opposition. They succeeded in writing into the tariff bill a duty of 18 cents a pound on wool rags, an increase of 140 per cent over the present rate.

The existing rate on wool rags, which are imported in great quantities from Europe by woolen manufacturers for use in cheap clothing, is 7½ cents a pound. The house changed this to 5 cents and the senate finance committee boosted it to 34 cents. The 18 cent rate, finally approved, was provided for in an amendment sponsored by Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], majority floor leader. The vote was 46 to 32.

Coalition Fails to Hold.

Both party and sectional lines were shattered on the roll call, the Democratic-Radical coalition going to pieces. Voting for the Watson amendment were 29 Republicans, 11 Democrats, and 6 Radicals, while 9 Republicans, 20 Democrats, and 3 Radicals voted against it.

The victory for the spokesmen for the wool growers was the second of importance they have won since the senate began revision of the wool tariff schedule. Previously they had inserted in the bill a rate of 34 cents a pound on the clean content of imported raw wool.

Putting forth the argument that if the duty on wool rags is kept down to its present level the increase on raw wool would be nullified, the western senators, led by Senator Frederick Steiwer [Rep., Ore.], battled at first for the full 34 cent rate, but accepted the 18 cent rate after meeting stiff opposition.

Warned of Price Increases.

Senators David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.] and Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], heading the opposition, asserted that any increase in the rag tariff would increase the price of cheap suits and overcoats to an almost prohibitive figure. They were joined in this view by Senators J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], Norris [Rep., Neb.], and several other radicals, who presented the cause of the farmer forced to pay more for his clothing.

An amendment by Senator Metcalf [Rep., R. I.] for a sliding scale of rates from 5 to 16 cents was voted down, 35 to 44, and an amendment by Senator Bingham [Rep., Conn.] for a 40 per cent ad valorem rate went down, 34 to 47.

For more than two hours at the opening of today's session a petition by a group of Minnesota editors asking that the tariff bill be expedited was the storm center of a debate between Senator Norris and Senator Henry J. Allen [Rep., Kas.]. The petition urged the senate to leave the industrial rates as they are and pass the bill with revised farm commodity rates.

Norris said the Minnesota editors "advocated the very same thing that Grundy has been trying to put over—namely: leave industrial rates as they are."

Senator Allen, himself a newspaper publisher, dared Norris to bring the editors before the lobby investigation committee.

"These rural editors," he said, "speak for the farmers when they appeal for more action and less oratory."

LAGRANGE POSTAL ROBBERY LOOT IS FIXED AT $4,000

An investigation yesterday revealed that burglars who blew open two safes in the La Grange postoffice early yesterday morning escaped with loot of approximately $4,000 in cash and stamps, all taken from one safe. Cash and stamps amounting to $1,500 in the second safe were not disturbed.

The burglars apparently entered the building by climbing a stairway next door and jumping to the low roof. They then descended through a trap door and, using acetylene torches and nitroglycerin, blew off the backs of the safes. Postmaster Fred Stevens said the crackmen were evidently familiar with the building, for they avoided burglar alarms and tear gas bombs protecting the fronts of the safes.

Sugar Lobbyist Admits Urging Anti-U. S. Drive in Cuba

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—An attempt to bring pressure upon congress for a low sugar tariff through a propaganda campaign in the Latin American countries was disclosed by the Caraway lobby investigation committee today as a part of the program of the Cuban sugar interests.

H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company, today's witness, admitted authorship of a letter to Raphael Aballi, secretary of communications in the Cuban cabinet, proposing that sentiment be aroused in the other Central and South American republics for a low sugar tariff on the ground that "if Cuba's close relations to the United States result in damage to Cuba, they had better fight shy of having a similar thing happen to them."

After a severe grilling, however, Lakin admitted that he was "very much ashamed," of this plan, and that it was never fully carried out.

Used Masonic Influence.

Probing deeper into the activities of Lakin, who raised and managed the expenditure of $35,000 for the low tariff sugar lobby, the committee brought out that he also endorsed the use of Masonic and Rotary club influences to reach congressmen affiliated with those organizations. These lobbying methods Lakin defended as legitimate.

In previous testimony Lakin had explained that he considered himself a representative of the Cuban government and kept the Cuban officials, including Aballi, informed of his activities in Washington.

At today's session Senator Caraway produced and read the Aballi letter in which Lakin suggested that Aballi "could be of the greatest benefit in connection with this sugar tariff" if he would promote the Latin America propaganda drive, starting with circulation of a brief written by the lobby's attorney, Edwin Shattuck of New York, in Cuba.

Admits He's Ashamed.

"A man must have great regard for his country when he tries to bring the influence of foreign countries against it," commented Senator Caraway, after reading the communication.

"I'm frank to say now that I'm very much ashamed of it," Lakin replied. "The plan was not carried out. I think it was wrong."

The senators made much of the previous admission by Lakin that he had employed Attorney Shattuck at a stipend of "at least $50,000" because he was a personal friend of President Hoover and Senator Smoot. Lakin in several letters referred to the "confidential relations" of Shattuck with Hoover and Smoot.

He said that Shattuck had interviewed the President in Miami before his inauguration, and that Hoover had suggested to him a sliding scale sugar duty so as to protect both the Cuban and domestic producers.

"The bald truth is that you hired Shattuck because of his influence with the President, isn't it," Caraway asked.

The witness suggested that "influence" wasn't the right word, and that Mr. Shattuck merely had the President's confidence.

Chairman Caraway announced that Lakin probably will be recalled tomorrow and after him Mr. Shattuck will be called again.

COOLIDGE ASKED TO NAME STAND ON SENATE RACE

Boston, Mass., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt club of Boston, today in a letter mailed to former President Calvin Coolidge, told him that his reticence in the matter of his availability as a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed Senator Frederick H. Gillett, had put the party in this state "at a dangerous disadvantage." He called upon Mr. Coolidge to say whether he would accept an "unopposed nomination."

"There are many members of the Roosevelt club," Mr. Washburn said, "who feel that they ought to go to work immediately to effect the election of a Republican to the senate. If you are not to enter the situation they are then free to espouse the cause of some other Republican. Under the present situation they feel that the party and they are at a dangerous disadvantage. They are embarrassed.

"May I therefore ask whether you would accept an unopposed nomination for the senate, which they would be glad to endorse, that is, if seasonably made."

Senator Gillett recently announced he would not be a candidate to succeed himself when his term expires in 1931.

DOODY GRANTED EXECUTION STAY; SEES FREEDOM

Willie [Baby Face] Doody, diminutive gunman, who was convicted of the murder of Chief of Police Charles Levy of Berwyn, was granted a stay of execution yesterday by the Supreme court. He was to have been electrocuted at midnight tomorrow.

The Supreme court granted a writ of supersedeas under the record filed by Attorney William Scott Stewart in which he contests the identification of Doody. The writ automatically stays the execution until the Supreme court can decide on the appeal in February, or maybe not until the April term of the court.

Doody was affable when informed of the news of the stay by Warden David Moneypenny. He consented to his first interview.

"I am sure my attorneys will prove me innocent in the 'big court,'" was the extent of his interview.

ALDERMEN AGAIN DELAY ACTION ON RIVER JOB 'EXTRA'

Members of the city council finance committee again delayed action yesterday on the claim of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company for an "extra" of $150,000 on its river straightening contract. Two opinions on the validity of the claim have been sent to the aldermen but a third one, requested by them, is expected and they decided to await its appearance.

This opinion, which will be the second one from Corporation Counsel Ettelson, concerns the legal right of the contractor to a delay in completing the contract due to the high water level in the river. The water interfered with dock construction but instead of asking for time to study new construction methods the contractor, at the request of Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe, expended the $150,000 in the construction of cofferdams to hasten the improvement.

Wolfe's action, according to a committee of five engineers, morally obligated the city to pay the claim. Ettelson, however, has ruled that the claim should not be allowed and the Citizen's association, after an investigation, gave a similar opinion.

GRUNDY CHOSEN PENNSYLVANIA'S JUNIOR SENATOR

SEATING APPEARS LIKELY

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Seating of Joseph R. Grundy as a United States senator from Pennsylvania seemed assured tonight, despite the probability that objections would be offered by senate radicals.

Appointment of Mr. Grundy today by Gov. John S. Fisher to fill the Vare seat stirred up loud protests from senators from some of the states described by the new senator-designate as "backward" during his testimony before the senatorial lobby investigating committee.

It was conceded, however, that the inquiry into Mr. Grundy's activities as a tariff lobbyist had brought to light nothing prejudicing his right to a seat in the senate and that the effort to bar him because of the connection of Gov. Fisher and himself with the 1926 senatorial primary campaign in Pennsylvania when huge sums were spent, was a little too flimsy to obtain the support of a majority of the senate.

Grundy Accepts.

Mr. Grundy upon his arrival tonight in Washington announced his acceptance of the appointment and further announced that he will be a candidate in the primaries on May 20.

"I have just been advised of my appointment by Gov. Fisher as the junior United States senator from Pennsylvania to fill the existing vacancy," said Mr. Grundy. "I am pleased to accept that appointment, cognizant of the honor it conveys and the responsibilities it imposes.

"In coöperation with our senior senator, the Hon. David A. Reed, and the thirty-six members of the house from Pennsylvania, I shall give my very best efforts to the interests of the ten million people of our state, convinced that by so doing I shall be serving the interests of the country as a whole.

Will Be Candidate.

"I shall be a candidate for the balance of the unexpired term in the primary which occurs in Pennsylvania next May."

Mr. Grundy probably will present his credentials tomorrow if he receives them in time.

Much as the Democrats and radical Republicans might like to exclude Mr. Grundy as they did William S. Vare last week, it seemed certain that many of them would balk against the establishment of a precedent of such a far-reaching character.

Senator Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], one of the radical group, is prepared to carry out the threat to challenge Mr. Grundy's title to the seat, which he made during the debate on the Vare case. Although such anti-Vare leaders as Senators George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], and William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] apparently do not intend to start a fight, Senator Nye plans to object to the seating of Mr. Grundy.

Charges High Ridder Wins.

"If Grundy is seated it means that the senatorship from Pennsylvania will have been awarded by the senate to the highest bidder," said Senator Nye. "The reasons that prompted the senate to refuse a seat to Vare are equally compelling in the case of Grundy. Grundy was just as culpable in the Vare campaign as Vare himself. There was corruption in the election of Vare, and most of the arguments used against Vare in the senate debate could be used just as well against Grundy.

"On Dec. 6 I gave notice in the senate 'that the appointee of Gov. Fisher will need be one far removed from affiliation with the Mellon-Grundy-Fisher machine before I shall vote for him to be seated in this body.' I added, 'We cannot, damn one ill smelling Pennsylvania machine, or part of a machine, without with equal force and effect damning the other, since both have played the same game and played it equally well; so well, in fact, that the prizes of their campaigns must be divided between them.' That expressed my attitude then, and it is my attitude now."

Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.], chairman of the lobby investigating committee, stated his intention to vote for the seating of Mr. Grundy. It was Senator Caraway who presented a report from the committee to the senate yesterday assailing Mr. Grundy's lobbying activities. His recognition of the futility of a fight was significant as pointing to the collapse of the Nye proposal.

"I have no intention of opposing the seating of Mr. Grundy," said Senator Caraway. "I think it will be a good thing for the Democratic party to admit him to the senate."

BOTH DENY SPLIT OVER FILMS IN CHURCH COUNCIL

Redfield and Stelzle Say Reports Are Untrue.

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, who resigned in October his post as chairman of the motion picture commission of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, declared tonight that his action was in no way prompted by dissension in the commission because of alleged activities of the Rev. Charles Stelzle and the dual capacity of publicity man for the council and for the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, headed by Will Hays.

"I resigned simply because I had too many other things which made demands upon my time," Mr. Redfield said. "I knew nothing about Mr. Stelzle's alleged activities. If my resignation had been due to any feeling that there was improper interference by the motion picture group or any other group with the legitimate functions of the commission I would have made that fact known at the time. There would be no point to resigning under such circumstances unless circumstances themselves were pointed out by me."

Had No Hand in Plans.

Mr. Stelzle declared tonight that there was no basis in fact for the published statement that he had been instrumental in organizing the council's motion picture commission. Nor was it a fact, he declared, that the executive committee, at a recent meeting in Chicago, had voted to dispense with his services. Mr. Stelzle said he was employed by the council a year ago to do a special work expected to require about six months. He is continuing that work from month to month, he said, until it is completed or until further notice.

"I have never written a line for the newspapers for the federal council concerning its motion picture commission," he said. "And I have attended only one of its meetings.

"The executive council in Chicago never discussed my relationship to the federal council. The whole matter of my being engaged is determined by a local committee in New York which is directly responsible for my employment."

Says Report Is "Absurd."

Mr. Stelzle declared that he had no contract with the Hays motion picture group, but was employed on a week to week basis. He characterized as "absurd" the published implication that he was retained to influence the motion picture commission's attitude towards the activities of the Hays organization.

At Mr. Hays' office it was said that he had no comment to make on the published reports. Members of the executive committee of the council's motion picture commission declined to discuss the matter for publication, but indicated that a new chairman would be chosen soon and that the commission would continue to function.

COUZENS AMENDMENT WOULD REDUCE TAX ON CAPITAL GAINS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Reduction in the tax on capital gains was proposed by Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] today as an amendment to the administration tax cut resolution.

Under his proposal the rate on capital gains would be reduced from 12½ to 10 per cent, which would mean a loss in revenue of about $65,000,000 in addition to the $160,000,000 provided under the pending measure.

The present law provides that an individual taxpayer whose income is so great as to be subject to the higher surtax brackets may elect to have his tax on capital gains computed as follows:

"A partial tax shall first be computed upon the basis of the ordinary net income at the rates and in the manner as if this section had not been enacted and the total tax shall be this amount plus 12½ per cent of the capital next gain."

With the further scaling down of the 12 per cent corporation tax to 11 per cent, Senator Couzens believes there also should be a lowering of the capital gain tax applying to individuals.

South Side to Celebrate at Outer Drive Opening

A civic demonstration in celebration of the opening on next Tuesday of the south park outer drive between 39th and 51st streets will be staged by south side residents, John A. Carroll, president of the Hyde Park-Kenwood National bank, announced yesterday. President E. J. Kelly of the south park board will cut the ribbon opening the new drive to traffic. A parade in the afternoon will be followed by a banquet at the Shoreland hotel.

ARREST 2 FILM OFFICIALS AFTER FIRE KILLS TEN

New York, Dec. 12 [Thursday].—[Special.]—John C. Flynn, vice president of the Pathé Film company, and Henry Lally, production manager, were arrested early today on charges growing out of the fire which swept the company's Manhattan studio on Tuesday in which ten lives were lost.

The arrests were made after hours of questioning by Commissioner Whalen and other police officials at the West 30th street police station.

Violated Criminal Code.

Flynn and Lally were booked on charges of violating a section of the criminal code which involves "excusable manslaughter" and culpable negligence.

The police said the company had stored between 50,000 and 100,000 feet of film in a storage room that was not fireproof when, under the law, they were not permitted to keep more than 5,000 feet of film in such a room.

Attorney Seeks Bail.

Frederic R. Coudert, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for district attorney in the recent elections, who appeared as counsel for the two officials, immediately attempted to raise bail for the prisoners, which was unofficially reported to be $5,000 each.

Commissioner Whalen said that Major Walker likely would sit as an investigating magistrate in the case and order a sweeping investigation into the storage of films by various companies throughout the city.

SPEED SEAWAY BUILDING, PLEA OF FARM BUREAU

Speakers Tell Midwest's Need for Waterways.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Earliest possible completion of the Illinois waterway, which is to link Lake Michigan with the gulf of Mexico through the Chicago gateway, and of inland waterway projects in the Missouri and upper Mississippi rivers, was urged yesterday by the American Farm Bureau federation at its eleventh annual convention at the Sherman hotel.

Waterways and cheaper transportation for farm products were extolled as a vital part of agricultural relief in addresses by Gov. Arthur J. Weaver of Nebraska and Col. Edmund L. Daley, in charge of the rivers and harbors section of the chief army engineer's headquarters at Washington. At the end the assembled farmers adopted a resolution reiterating their declared policy for the St. Lawrence route and their former pronouncements on waterway development. Its real nub was as follows:

"Especially at this time do we urge the earliest possible completion of the Mississippi-Missouri-Ohio-Illinois outlet to the gulf."

Governor Seeking Aid.

The Illinois waterway case is now pending at Washington, and Gov. L. L. Emmerson is at the national capital with a delegation seeking to get aid from congress to finish in the next two years the job on which Illinois and the Sanitary district of Chicago have already expended more than 100 million dollars, without soliciting or receiving federal aid.

Gov. Weaver, who has taken a prominent part in development of the Missouri river, dwelt upon the needs of the Mississippi valley for an inland waterway system.

"The development of our inland waterways," said Gov. Weaver, "is imperative for the future growth and prosperity of agriculture and industry of the middle west since the shift of the trade currents from the interior to the ocean resulting from the operation of the Panama canal. The canal has given a commercial and industrial supremacy to the Atlantic, Pacific, and gulf coasts over the great middle west.

Urges River Development.

"...ain must be equalized by developing the great natural Mississippi system of waterways. This will restore the sectional equation.

"It will insure the future of the great agricultural region which produces America's raw materials.

"When it costs twice as much to ship the commerce of this region to either coast as it costs to ship merchandise from one coast to another, a distance of 7,000 miles, the distance to tide water is important to many sections of the great Mississippi valley, which now have the longest haul and the highest freight rate of any agricultural or industrial sections in the world.

Saving for Farmers.

"The development of our inland waterways is the way out for the middle west. A system of inland waterways in the Mississippi valley will save the farmers on all the grain produced in this area approximately 5 to 15 cents a bushel. This would mean something on the 100 million bushels of wheat produced in Kansas, on the 50 million bushels in Nebraska, on the vast output of the Dakotas, Montana, and Minnesota."

Col. Daley, who represented Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, said that at the instance of President Hoover the program of waterway development in the middle west is being "speeded up so that the influence of reduced costs on transportation of farm products may be obtained at the earliest practicable date."

"By President Hoover's direction," said Col. Daley, "the field forces of the corps of engineers have been reorganized by Gen. Brown to handle to the best advantage the five major projects which affect the farm industry, namely: Improvement of the Missouri, amplification of the upper Mississippi, the provision of through navigation from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico [the Illinois waterway], the deepening of the great lakes channel, and the St. Lawrence waterway.

"The successful completion of these projects should provide for the farm the same advantage of cheap water transportation that now accrues to the mines and mills in the Ohio valley.

Need Farmers' Cooperation.

"If the country provides a waterway, are you going to use it? Your federation may well set your efficiency engineers to work today to begin to solve the problem of bringing the products of the farm to the waterway. It can only be correctly solved by the coördinated efforts of the farmer-shipper, the rail and water transportation executives, and the federal government."

Col. Daley set forth that waterways should be linked with rail service and continued:

"The condition of the competitive agricultural countries of the world determines the world market prices; the ocean rates determine the seaboard market prices; the transportation costs to the seaboard fix the farmer's gross return. Out of the farmer's receipts must come the actual production costs and his cash surplus, if any. The size of the surplus determines the standard of living for the farmer. If that standard is to be maintained at the American level the farmer's surplus must be increased."

HOOVER ASKED TO AID PROJECT FOR SURVEY OF CAPE COD CANAL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The aid of President Hoover in expediting a survey of the Cape Cod canal was sought today by a New England delegation headed by Senator F. H. Gillett [Rep., Mass.] and Frank S. Davis, chairman of the maritime committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Spokesmen were of the opinion that another $10,000,000 should be expended on the waterway in the interests of navigation.

A survey to determine the advisability of spending additional federal funds on the project has been asked of congress, but under ordinary circumstances it would not be made for at least a year.

A bill providing for government purchase of the canal for $11,500,000 was pushed through congress by the Massachusetts delegation in 1927. The canal was built by the Boston, Cape Cod and New York Canal company in 1916. It is seven and a half miles long.

CANADA MAY OPEN SEAWAY PARLEY WITHIN 60 DAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 11.—The Canadian government may be ready to open negotiations with Washington for a St. Lawrence seaway development treaty within the next sixty days.

Two events scheduled to take place prior to the opening of Canadian parliament late next month may enable Canada to settle her internal differences and have a clear cut issue upon which to secure parliamentary approval. They are the impending presentation of the report of the Ontario and Quebec engineers upon technical details, upon which the two provinces are now declared to have reached complete agreement, and the meeting of Premiers Ferguson and Taschereau of Ontario and Quebec, respectively, with Premier MacKenzie King, head of the dominion government, at which conference the national territorial aspects will be discussed.

If the premiers are as successful as their engineers are known to have been in reaching a joint conclusion, the dominion can acquiesce in Washington's desire for prompt international discussions.

Woman, 2 Men Nabbed in Stolen Cab After Chase

Louise Buna, 19 years old, 1948 Jackson boulevard; John Wilson, 26 years old, 3041 Franklin boulevard, and Harry Curtis, 27 years old, 2838 Wilcox avenue, were being held by the police last night in connection with several robbery investigations, after they had been seized in a stolen taxicab. The woman and the two men were captured by Sergt. John Gallagher after a half mile chase on Ogden avenue.

GOVERNOR EMMERSON SEES WATERWAYS AID AS HE STARTS HOME

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Gov. Louis L. Emmerson left tonight for Springfield, Ill., greatly encouraged over prospects for legislation authorizing federal completion of the Illinois state waterway project. He spent today in conference with members of the Illinois congressional delegation. While here he has talked with President Hoover, Secretary of War Hurley, Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers; other engineer officers, and members of congress.

"I am greatly pleased over the situation," said Gov. Emmerson. "Assurances received on all sides convince me that everything will be worked out in a satisfactory manner."

The Illinois executive is planning to return to appear before the house rivers and harbors committee for hearings after the holidays.

HOUSE OF LORDS CENSURES BRITISH POLICY IN EGYPT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The government met defeat again in the house of lords tonight when a Conservative motion, introduced by Lord Salisbury, criticising the government's policy in Egypt was carried by 46 votes to 13.

Lord Salisbury made a strong point of the fact that the United States in the Monroe doctrine asserted prior diplomatic interest in countries whose independence she still recognized. He demanded an English Monroe doctrine for Egypt.

The debate produced a spirited attack on the policy of the Labor government, which aims to give the Egyptians a greater measure of self-government, by Lord Lloyd, whose resignation from the high commissionership of Egypt last July caused a political sensation. Lord Lloyd attacked every clause of the Egyptian treaty and especially the withdrawal of British troops from Cairo and Alexandria to the neighborhood of the Suez canal.

FARM LEADERS DISPUTE GLOOMY VIEW OF LOWDEN

Figures Cited to Indicate Agriculture's Gains.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Speakers at the closing sessions of the American Farm Bureau federation yesterday took occasion to accept the challenge of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, made the day before, by reiterating their position of confidence in the future developments of agricultural welfare. Gov. Lowden in his address declared the farm situation as yet does not warrant much optimism.

Sam H. Thompson, Quincy, Ill., in accepting his reelection as president the third time for a two year period was emphatic in his belief that farmers had passed through their dark days and had every reason to expect better times. He was supported in this opinion by E. A. O'Neal, Alabama farm leader, who was reelected vice president.

"Farmers' Position Better."

"The financial position of the farmers of America, as reflected by the payment by hundreds of thousands of farmers of their installments to the banks of the federal farm loan system, has improved materially in the last year," said Paul Bestor of St. Louis, commissioner of the federal farm loan board. "Compared with last year, the delinquency in some of the banks has been reduced 25 to 35 per cent and the average throughout all of the banks in the United States is 3 per cent.

"Better conditions are also reflected in the great increase in the sale of land by these banks."

Mr. Bestor indicated that in the last 13 years the system has operated banks which have closed 624,335 loans totaling nearly two and a half billions of dollars.

Dr. Arthur W. Gilbert of Boston, commissioner of agriculture in Massachusetts, discussed the dependence of New England upon sources outside its own borders for food, fuel, and raw materials for manufacture. He drew cheers with a rebuke to Senator Moses of New Hampshire:

"I am ashamed to say that we have a senator in New England who has the audacity to call certain western senators the 'sons of wild jackasses.' There is only one place for that type of senator to go—and that is to the political discard."

Elect New Directors.

The following new members of the board of directors were elected: James W. Davis, Baltimore, Md.; C. R. White, Ionia, N. Y.; M. L. Noon, Jackson, Mich.; C. E. Hearst, Des Moines, Ia.; L. B. Palmer, Columbus, O.; George M. Putnam, Concord, N. H., and R. W. Blackburn, Thermal, Cal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Cooperative marketing of agricultural products is favored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in so far as it is not discriminatory against other business enterprise. This position was stated in a report issued today by its agricultural service department. The declaration was construed as backing up the position of the grain commission men in opposition to policies of the federal board.

No mention of the present controversy was made in the report, which was said to have been the result of months of study.

The name of Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce, did not appear in the report. Mr. Barnes, who has denied that he took a stand against the farm board, has been summoned to appear before the senate lobby committee.

Today's report quoted from a declaration by the board of directors of the chamber last January, prior to the enactment of the farm relief act.

The report states that "it is of vital importance to the preservation of private capital investments in storage and other physical marketing facilities that unnecessary duplication of such facilities by the use of federal loans be not allowed."

"Not Foe of Farm Board."

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 11.—(AP)—In a statement made public today through its president, George P. Case, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, local grain exchange, denied it and other grain exchanges were planning an organized assault on the federal farm board.

OAK PARK BANDIT GANG ESCAPES IN RUNNING BATTLE

Chicago hospitals were canvassed by the police yesterday in search of a wounded bandit whose capture they believed would lead them to the gang of eight men who early yesterday robbed an Oak Park store and escaped after a running gun battle with police through west side streets. Sergt. James Kilgore and his squad believed that at least one of the men was wounded in the battle in which more than 100 shots were fired.

The gang, riding in two cars, smashed a window of the haberdashery store of Max Simon, 4 Chicago avenue, Oak Park, and while one of the robbers intimidated nearby residents with a shotgun, the others carried out $2,500 in merchandise.

Later Sergt. Kilgore and his squad saw one of the cars at Roosevelt road and Michigan avenue and pursued it for 45 minutes before it eluded them. The automobile, which was stolen from Thomas Condon, 1118 Wolfram street, several days ago, was found at Van Buren and Laflin streets, riddled with bullets, several hours later.

Faces Holidays Jobless; Attempts to Kill Self

John Mitich, 21 years old, drank poison yesterday in front of the central police station, 11th and South State streets. He was treated by the police physician and removed to the county hospital, where he is expected to recover. "My wife, Margaret, earns from $25 to $27 a week at the Western Electric company, but I could make only $16 a week as a shipping clerk," he explained last night. "Then I lost my job and Saturday Margaret took our baby and went away. Yesterday I thought of Christmas coming and not having a job. So I decided to die. I wish the poison had worked." He refused to tell police where he lived.

MINERS MARCH TODAY TO FIGHT OUTLAW STRIKE

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—More than 600 miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America, late today resolved to march in a body to work tomorrow at the Panther Creek Coal company mine at Auburn, taking "any steps necessary to get through the picket line," which was formed there by members of the striking National Miners' union, a rival organization. Their action was taken at a meeting held here.

Meanwhile state and county officials said they were taking steps to prevent serious trouble. Officials of the state highway department issued orders for motorcycle patrolmen and their outriders to clear the roads of all cars in the vicinity of the mine mouth, and to prevent the gathering of large groups.

Work at the mine ceased today, and while the National Miners' union claimed the miners were on strike, officers of the United Mine Workers maintained the men were prevented from going to work by the pickets and that the mine would resume tomorrow.

Work at Peabody mine No. 3 at Tovey is to be resumed by United Mine Workers tomorrow, it was said today by Sheriff D. L. Dunbar at Taylorville. The sheriff said this would follow withdrawal of National Guard troops, the United Mine Workers having voted yesterday to resume work as soon as the soldiers were removed.

The National union succeeded in tying up mining operations at Taylorville and threatened to tie up digging near Coello where George Voyzey of Springfield, state president of the National urion, was arrested today. He is held on charges of disorderly conduct, inciting to riot, and unlawful assembly.

Vote Strike in Kentucky.

Central City, Ky., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Union coal miners in the 40 odd mines of western Kentucky have voted in favor of a strike to enforce recognition of the union and restoration of the 1917 wage agreement. There are from 15,000 to 18,000 miners in western Kentucky.

DRY PARTY FAILS, SAYS ITS CHIEF IN '28 ELECTION

Split Occurs at Meeting of Directors.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—"The present Prohibition party is a complete failure," said William G. Varney of Rockville Center, N. Y., in commenting on the special meeting of the executive board of the party held at the Fort Hayes hotel here today.

"We must have unison in our party in order to progress; we must have a common goal, coöperation, and the whole hearted support of all believers in the national prohibition amendment," he said.

Mr. Varney admitted that federal prohibition cannot succeed unless state and local authorities aid in enforcing it.

Forced to Withdraw.

The meeting of the Prohibition party heads was called today after Varney, who was the party's choice for President in the last election, had been forced to withdraw his name from the ballots for officers.

One of the purposes of the meeting, according to the report from various members, was to demand the resignation of D. Leigh Colvin of New York, president of the Prohibition party.

Varney refused to disclose what action was taken upon Mr. Colvin, but admitted that he, Varney, had been named chairman of the party and would proceed to outline the future policies of the party.

Colvin Refuses to Act.

The meeting was called after Colvin refused to take any action on the executive board's recommendation for the session. There were forty-two members of the executive board. Three have died, according to Varney, and, with twenty-one in attendance here today, a majority was claimed, thus making all transactions legal, executive officials said.

Along with Varney's statement came the admission of W. D. Martin of New Jersey, another member of the executive board, claiming that a split had developed in the party, mainly because of the last presidential campaign, when part of the party favored a Republican candidate and the remainder a Democratic candidate.

Martin, in pointing out the need for a prohibition party, said that at present dry enforcement was almost a farce and could not be overcome as long as there were divided parties.

Favors Third Party.

"Both present political parties are afraid to enforce the law because of the coming elections," Martin said. "Both the state and the nation as a whole must put whole-hearted support behind the enforcement act and rigidly stick to the words of the amendment," he said. "A third party built on a prohibition basis is the only party able to do this."

Freeman Dustman, editor of the American Issue and secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, said that what the Prohibition party did had no connection with his organization.

The principles of the party, of course, Dustman said, were backed by the Anti-Saloon league, but had no connection with the league inasmuch as the league worked with all parties as long as the prohibition principles were carried out.

RANCHER, BAKER, PENSIONER CLAIM $2,500,000 TITLE

Seek Earldom in High British Court.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A long legal battle for the earldom of Egmont reached an important stage today when a high legal functionary, known as a master of the Supreme court, sat in chambers to hear the case of those claiming the title.

P. J. T. PERCEVAL, ranch in Alberta. [F. & A. Photo.]

One of the claimants is Frederick Joseph Trevelyan Perceval, known as the Canadian rancher earl, who spent 28 years on a Perceval did not appear in court today, but was represented by a solicitor.

Other Claimants Shake Hands.

Other claimants to the title and its accompanying estates are James William Perceval, 66, a baker of Hornsey, North London, and Robert Pownall, an old age pensioner living at Haydock, near Liverpool. Both appeared in court today and shook hands.

Being an application in chambers, the proceedings were private.

The rival claims of Frederick Perceval and James William Perceval, were argued in the Chancery court last June, after the Canadian ranchman had visited his estate in March and received a welcome from employés.

Title Created in 1773.

Counsel for the trustees of the estate said that the title might have to be decided by the house of lords. The Canadian has not received any money from the estate.

The earldom of Egmont was created in 1773. The estates are valued at $2,500,000.

COMING CENSUS TO PUT US ALL IN GOLDFISH BOWL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—How many women in America are working? How many families own radio sets? What percentage of household heads own their own homes? At what age are most persons married for the first time?

These are some of the questions that will be answered for the country as a whole for the first time after completion of the 1930 census. Interrogations aimed to obtain the replies were included in a list of new questions to be asked by enumerators next April, as announced today by William M. Steuart, director of the census bureau.

Forms Basis of Advertising.

Most important of the new questions, in the opinion of Mr. Steuart, is that relating to home owning. The enumerators will find out from the head of each family the value of his home if owned, or the monthly rental if rented, thus making possible a classification of families according to buying power and furnishing a basis for selling and advertising campaigns.

The question on radio sets, according to Mr. Steuart, will tell radio station operators and advertisers just how large the potential radio audience is.

Women doing housework in their own homes will be designated in the 1930 census reports as "home makers." This designation will be entered in the family relationship column rather than in the occupation column, in order that women who follow a profession or other gainful occupation, in addition to being home makers, may properly be classified in respect to both lines of activity. This will reveal for the first time exactly how many women are working and to what extent."

The question asking for the age at first marriage is intended to serve two purposes. First, it will give definite information as to the relative age at marriage of persons in different racial and economic groups; second, it will make possible a tabulation on the number of children in families of women who have been married a stated number of years.

"In the classification of gainful workers according to occupation and industry it is proposed to put much greater stress than heretofore on the returns for industry," Mr. Steuart said. "A special schedule for unemployment will contain a number of questions designed to separate those not working into several classes, including, besides those absolutely unemployed, those who have jobs for the time being and those laid off without pay."

Four Men Rob Farmers State Bank at Shelbyville

Shelbyville, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Four unmasked men robbed the Farmers State bank of Gays, sixteen miles east of here, late today of $3,000 in currency. They fired one shot, climbed into an automobile, and drove east.

SUSPECTS GANG ASSASSINATION IN DEATH OF MAN

Coroner Bundesen yesterday saw evidence of a gang plot in the condition of the body of Joe Ferraro, 36 years old, 661 North Racine avenue, found early yesterday on McDonald road, a lonely lane north of Des Plaines. A post mortem showed a heavy carbon monoxide content in Ferraro's blood. A coroner's physician also found bruises on the face, arms, back, and shoulders. These bruises might have been inflicted after death, it was said, the theory being that the man might have succumbed to the carbon monoxide gas in a garage and that the body was taken to the lane, where the bruises were made so that the dead man would appear to be an auto victim. Coroner Bundesen believes that the man may have been murdered in a garage in this manner.

SLEEPING ETNA RUMBLES; WAVES ROCK ALL ITALY

Volcano Spouts Sulphur Laden Smoke, Ashes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CATANIA, Sicily, Dec. 11.—The main crater and several conic apertures to the northwest of Mount Etna are showing signs of renewed activity, the first since the big eruption a year ago which destroyed two towns and severed parts of others. Prof. Ponti of the Etna observatory climbed to the main crater yesterday and found violent explosions accompanied by blasts of cinders and sulphurous smoke into the air.

Observatory Records Shocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Dec. 11.—The gigantic waves which have been pounding the western coast line of Europe during the recent violent Atlantic tempest, registered seismic shocks at the Florence observatory, according to Father Alfani, directory of the observatory, today. For some days the delicate instrument has been in a state of agitation, said Father Alfani.

"It was evident from the regularity and rhythm of the oscillations on the photographic charts," said Father Alfani, "that maritime disturbances were the cause of the shocks, and since the Mediterranean has been comparatively calm, the cause must have been the Atlantic storms. This is not the first time that pounding seas have shaken the peninsula, but the shocks have never been so violent before."

GRAVESEND, England, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Capt. Angelo Sturiese of the S. S. Leonardo da Vinci brought his ship safely into port here today with $70,000,000 worth of Italian art. He admitted today he had been in a sweat when the ether was echoing with S O S calls last Monday night. A call for help came from the Italian steamer Senatore Dali. Fortunately the Leonardo was accompanied by the tug Teseo, which had been sent along in case of emergency. Capt. Sturiese sent it to aid the Senatore Dali.

The captain remained on the bridge for three days and nights without sleep.

After the Leonardo had entered the storm zone in the bay of Biscay, the master had the paintings, statues, furniture and ivories wrapped in lifebelts and pneumatic mattresses to keep them afloat in case of accident.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—Two men have been imprisoned for 22 days in a lighthouse off the hardest pounded part of the Brittany coast. Their prison is only a few rods off the coast between Raz Point and Sein island, but isolated by the high seas.

The light still swings across the churning sea, but it is feared the men will starve to death or that the unceasing din will drive them insane, as already happened to two other men four years ago.

5 MEN ARE RESCUED ON LAKE AFTER BOAT UPSET IN ICY WAVES

Sandusky, O., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Thrown into the icy waters of Lake Erie when a 65 foot boat, the Mascot, capsized today, its two passengers and crew of three men were saved from death in a thrilling rescue performed by the crew of the Messenger, a sister ship.

The Messenger was breaking a path through the ice toward Kelley's island, when the boats were taking passengers, freight, and mail. Off Marblehead the Mascot apparently struck a big cake of ice and started filling with water.

The five persons grabbed life savers and a moment later the boat turned over.

Capt. J. J. Frederick of the Messenger, which was a mile away, turned his boat as shortly as possible and went full speed to the rescue, despite ice and high waves.

Suffering badly from exposure the five men from the Mascot were pulled from the water and taken to Kelley's island for medical treatment.

The five were: Capt. John Newman, owner of both boats; F. Adams, and Fred Amonite, operators of a fishery store at Pelee island, and Russell Smith and Major Webster of Sandusky.

Rheumatism

Many people look upon Rheumatism as a part of their winter program—they resign themselves to stiff, swollen joints and torturing aches and pains. Pitiful—and often unnecessary. Many cases of Rheumatism are caused by an accumulation of uric acid which disordered kidneys have allowed to remain in the system—such cases respond to treatment with Mountain Valley Mineral Water from Hot Springs, Ark. Hundreds of letters in our files tell of the wonderful relief it has brought to poor sufferers. Here's hope for you. Phone us for a case today.

LITTLE ENTENTE MAY TURN DOWN WAR DEBT PACT

Hungary's Refusal to Pay Called Reason.

BY ROBERT SAGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Dec. 11.—That the little entente is going to balk at the signing of the Young plan appears certain tonight following a long conference between Prof. George Mironescu, foreign minister of Roumania, and Dr. Edward Benes, foreign minister of Czecho-Slovakia. They discussed the little entente's attitude toward the conference of The Hague in January.

The two foreign ministers, a reliable source states, agreed not to affix their signatures to the Young plan until Hungary gives its guarantee to fulfill all of its international obligations.

Hungary Submits Grievance.

Simultaneously, news comes from Budapest that the Hungarian parliament has decided it would not fulfill its "international obligations" in the sense understood by members of the little entente.

The Hungarian attitude, as expressed in parliament by Baron Josef Szterenyi, is since Hungary has agreed to pay 40,000,000 gold francs, about $1,572,000, reparations annually until 1943, she is entitled to compensation for property she surrendered after the war—namely: Transylvania and Slovakia. Hungary declares it is all very well that the little entente points out that Austria agreed not to receive compensation from the succession states for condemned property, but Austria has been let off from paying reparations.

Views Treaty as Mere Paper.

"Hungary does no go around begging the rest of the world and others have no right to bleed us," Baron Szterenyi told parliament today. "If there is going to be injustices now, it only proves the Trianon treaty is a scrap of paper—and we would not regret hearing it called that."

The little entente states, however, are dead set on making Hungary toe the mark, and Ministers Mironescu and Benes today agreed the only way to protect the interests of their countries was to refuse anything to do with the Young plan until Hungary was made to come across, according to the little entente's desires.

French Soldiers Fail to Get Pay Raised to 2 Cents

PARIS, Dec. 11.—(AP)—An opposition motion in the chamber of deputies today increasing the pay for the French peacetime pollu from the present 25 centimes, or one cent, a day, to 50 centimes a day was defeated this afternoon, 306 to 276.

ACQUIT MOTHER WHO KILLED MAN; BABY ATTACKED

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Deliberating only a few minutes, a jury in Judge Edward J. Jeffries' court this afternoon acquitted Mrs. Adeline De Matteo, 29 year old mother of four children, who shot and killed Frank Ballotti, 38, a barber, on Oct. 9. Ballotti had assaulted her 7 year old daughter, Mrs. De Matteo testified.

"Place yourselves in the same position as this woman when you consider this case and discover what your actions would be," Judge Jeffries told the five women and seven men who comprised the jury.

So confident was the woman's attorney, State Senator Frank P. Darin, that she would be acquitted, that he waived argument in the case, as did the opposing assistant prosecutor. This action is extremely unusual in records of the court.

72 CENTS FOR MARS.

President Hoover said the other day that payment for past wars and preparation for possible wars in the future will require 72 cents of each dollar to be collected from the taxpayers under the budget he had just submitted to congress. The President's purpose in presenting the analysis is not entirely clear. Perhaps he was seeking to place a cash value on the Kellogg pact if it can be made to work; perhaps he was seeking to set the stage for the London disarmament conference. Possibly he wished to show the desirability of avoiding war in future, though most lovers of peace will agree that the financial cost of war is the last of a number of reasons for preferring peace. Certainly he must have known that his statement, made upon the authority of the President of the United States himself, would lead many a reader to suspect that the national bill for defense was outrageously excessive.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Hoover did not present a more complete analysis of his figures. He did show that $2,700,000,000 appropriated for the army, the navy, veterans' relief, etc., is 72 per cent of the annual budget of $3,830,000,000, and he did state that the year's expenses for army and navy together would be $719,000,000. The current cost of the army and navy, then, is less than 20 per cent of the nation's annual budget. In view of the fact that the United States came into being because of the need for common defense, and that under our system of government defense must be the first function of the central government, expenditure of 20 per cent of the federal income for the purpose does not seem excessive.

The sum, $719,000,000, is, of course, a large one, but it shrinks in the perspective of the whole cost of the federal government. It shrinks still farther in comparison with the total cost of government, federal, state, and local, which in 1927 was estimated at some $12,000,000,000. The cost of national defense, in reality, should be compared not to the costs of government so much as to the national income which the army and navy insure. The national income is estimated to be between $80,000,000,000 and $100,000,000,000. To insure a continuance of our well being we are spending 7 or 8 cents on the army and navy for every $100 of income. It would, of course, be pleasant if even that cost could be reduced, but there is nothing in the extent of the cost to cause alarm. The army and navy are not breaking the backs of the taxpayers. There is vastly more reason to be alarmed at the mounting cost of state and local governments, which are a real and substantial drain upon the national income.

Of the total of $2,700,000,000 which Mr. Hoover calls the charge for past and future wars, more than $1,800,000,000 is the annual cost to the taxpayers of the world war. This sum divides, again, into three approximately equal sums, one for principal of the national debt, one for interest, and one for veterans' relief. It is interesting, in this connection, to note that if we had spent only a fraction of $1,800,000,000 to build an adequate army in 1914, 1915, and 1916, Germany probably never would have disregarded our rights as a neutral. Against our ability promptly to raise an army Germany weighed the military advantage of the submarine blockade and chose the latter. Had we possessed an effective army of 500,000 men in 1917, ready for immediate transportation to the front line, we might have saved all of the costs of the world war, which now absorb close to 50 of the 72 cents in Mr. Hoover's compilation.

The cost of pensions, insurance, hospital care, etc., for the veterans of the last war alone is only $128,000,000 less than the total required for the army and navy together. The $594,000,000 for the world war veterans is $309,000,000 more than is to be appropriated for the navy alone and $370,000,000 more than is asked for the army alone. Those who regard the expenses of our past and future wars as excessive should, logically, seek to pare the veterans' appropriations, which require more money than either the army or navy. If gratitude and pity cry out against the reduction of the funds for veterans' relief by so much as a penny, common prudence cautions against opposition to the relatively smaller appropriations for the military establishments.

Carrying the analysis a step farther, it is seen that the pensions on account of wars previous to the world war will absorb $314,000,000 of the $2,700,000,000 total. Perhaps $140,000,000 is attributable to the civil war. Possibly it would have been better if the southern states had been allowed to secede and this cost had been avoided, but we do not believe there are many Americans, north or south, who regard this cost as anything but an insignificant one in the light of the gain.

For our part, we do not believe the costs of the present military establishments are excessive in comparison with the whole cost of federal government, the whole bill for taxes, local as well as national, or with the national income. We observe that by far the greater part of the nation's expenses "for past and future wars" is for the relief of the men broken in battle, an expense which, for our part, we regard as a debt of honor.

WHAT WILL THE RESCUE COMMITTEE RESCUE?

A meeting of seventy-six citizens prominent in the business and professional life of Chicago has been called to consider the financial plight of the local governments.

The committee may be disposed to assume that its duty is to relieve the local governments of their temporary embarrassments and let it go at that. Or the committee may seek to discover why these embarrassments exist, who is responsible for them, and the means of preventing their repetition.

If the committee contents itself with relieving the spenders of the odium of their profligacy and dishonesty the community will have reason to regard the activities of the committee as a mischievous interference. What is not needed at this moment is a coat of whitewash.

The local governments have a floating debt estimated at $260,000,000, the traction fund is jeopardized, the banks hesitate more and more to lend in anticipation of taxes, borrowing power and credit are all but exhausted, because some public officials over a period of years have consistently spent more money than they received in taxes. Many of those public officials are in office today. They would like nothing more than to be rescued. The best interests of Chicago demand that no measures of financial relief result in a moral rescue.

The committee may occupy itself exclusively with discovering new ways of raising money. It would better devote itself to safeguarding the spending of money, which is at the root of the present difficulty. The committee may feel that it is warranted in making a few recommendations for reform of governmental processes, and these will be studied with interest; but we are convinced that the chief service which such a committee can render the community lies in the fixing of responsibility for the present crisis and in insistence upon honesty and economy in future expenditures of public funds.

BRIGHTER AND BETTER PRIZE FIGHTS.

Mr. Shires, who was and may be now or may not be of the White Sox—not implying that his position in that respect is uncertain but merely that information as to it is missing in this department—something which in itself may not be astonishing to Pro Bono Publico, Constant Reader, McCarty and other Vox Poppers—Mr. Shires, to repeat, seems to have added something to prize fighting, having previously, if the sports writers have been followed accurately, added a great deal to baseball.

Mr. Shires, a smiling youth, is a happy warrior who may not yet have learned that if you sock the manager in the eye the bank will not make you a loan on it, but who has learned that they pay something for socks in the ring. It is not always a great deal for young men in Mr. Shires' stage of pugilistic development, but it is more than is paid on the street and in the ball park. Mr. Shires' vivacity is said to be really engaging when he is properly known, but any number of people who seem not to know him properly have been filled with a desire to knock his block off. At his first ring appearance a friend of the socked Sox manager had intended to do that to the block in question, but Mr. Shires knocked him out in 22 seconds. That could not be laughed off, but it has brought another taker, George Trafton, the center of the Chicago Bears, professional football team.

Here, leaving aside the question of who is cooking all this up, is the first real development pugilism has had in at least ten years. It introduces trial by combat. The medieval spectators who enjoyed such court scenes did not care so much about the skill displayed. They wanted to see who won the suit, who could crack the other fellow out of his iron wear, when that was permitted, and feed him to the squirrels. Sometimes the litigants were restricted to their nighties, which would make for a brisker trial but hardly as interesting.

In Dan Daly's fight with Mr. Shires the issue at court obviously was whether Mr. Shires was unmannerly, as Mr. Daly charged, or was Mr. Daly the Christmas gift Mr. Shires conceived him to be. The verdict was yes. Mr. Mullen, the promoter of these new model fights, may be on a live one. There may be millions in it. What a card Washington could offer almost any evening, if there were a big enough hall, with, say, Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania and Senator Caraway of Arkansas in the finals.

THE CUNEO DECISION.

Judge Taylor's decision in the Cuneo case is a victory for the zoning system, for justice to property owners, and for responsible legislation by the city council. The granting of a special privilege without examination, discussion, or deliberation by the council was a public offense and scandal. The court has given redress and the conscience of the community as well as its self-interest will approve and be grateful for the protection given.

Editorial of the Day

ONE OF THE ANSWERS.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

The resignation of Frank J. Loesch from the post of special prosecutor in Chicago, for which he had volunteered at the age of 77 years to fight crime and corruption, is an aftermath of one of the weirdest episodes ever reported in an American court of justice. A police lieutenant, four members of his detective squad and two others had been placed on trial for the murder of a Chicago politician. A woman witness for the state identified two of the defendants as participants in the killing, which occurred at the 1928 primary, but reversed her story under cross-examination by the defense. Judge Joseph B. David of the Chicago Criminal court then expressed his opinion that the witness was "an unmitigated liar," assailed the state's evidence and promised to free the defendants no matter what the jury verdict might be.

The white haired prosecutor, who is a member of the Wickersham commission, informed the court that the statement "condemns you as a partial judge." On the following day, Mr. Loesch, declaring that the court's abuse was "intolerable," refused to go on with the case and moved for discharge of the defendants. Judge David, admitting he might have made mistakes, granted the motion. But he made no attempt to reply to the prosecutor's denunciation. It stands, therefore, as one of the answers to the question, "What's wrong with Chicago?"

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

The water should be drained from garbage as promptly as possible. Drained garbage is less offensive, ferments more slowly and is less attractive to flies. Therefore, a screen should be attached to the kitchen sink. Kitchen refuse should be thrown on this screen and allowed to drain. After draining it should be wrapped in paper and placed in a covered metal can. This can should be kept clean as to its outside and as clean as possible on the inside. Garbage that is to be fed to hogs or which is to be reduced should not be wrapped.

The municipality should collect garbage. Collection by private contractors is expensive and wasteful and leads to nuisance and great abuse. Disposal by burying is very satisfactory if done properly as is the case in Panama. Done improperly it is very unsatisfactory.

The feeding of garbage to hogs is all right provided it is properly done. Garbage for that purpose must be fresh and free from broken glass and chinaware and from pins, needles and other pointed metal. The initial cost of a hog feeding plant is high. The hogs should be fed on a cement feeding platform and this should be washed daily. In the best of circumstances from three to five per cent of the hogs will die from intestinal injuries and from infections and food poisoning. A hog will eat an average of 30 pounds of garbage a day and will grow and fatten rapidly.

The Beccari method is very well suited to the needs of smaller cities where ground is not very expensive. The garbage is treated with lime and sulphate of ammonia, packed away and left to ferment for forty days. At the end of that time it is ready for use as a fertilizer and, as such, is valuable and commands a market. In many places incineration is the best method. Drained garbage wrapped in paper will burn fairly well if dried before being thrown on the fire. The addition of ashes, rubbish and waste crank case oil makes it burn more readily.

LITTLE YOUNG FOR EGGS.

Mrs. J. M. writes: Do you consider it correct to have hard boiled egg in the diet of a seven months old baby, in preference to soft boiled?

REPLY.

As a rule, babies seven months of age are not given egg. However, some are, and with no harm done. There is no great difference between the digestibility of the two.

SKIN PORES AND WASTE.

H. L. M. writes: 1. Please inform me if the pores of the skin throw off as much poison as the kidneys.

2. Would a person die in a short time if the pores were entirely closed?

REPLY.

1. No. They throw off little besides water and salt. As an organ of excretion the skin is of minor importance.

2. Yes, but not because it would be stopped from throwing off wastes.

DEPENDS ON REAL TROUBLE.

J. R. V. D. writes: What fruits can be eaten by one having uric acid? I am especially fond of grapefruit.

REPLY.

If your trouble is really caused by uric acid you can eat freely of grapefruit, oranges and any other fruit you wish.

WILL CAUSE BAD HABITS.

W. H. M. writes: Is a teaspoonful of milk of magnesia taken in a glass of water every night harmful? Some people claim it dries the blood.

REPLY.

Repeated use of milk of magnesia does not dry the blood. It does cause the laxative habit and constipation.

SEND HER TO AMERICAN CONSUL.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—[Friend of the People.]—Am a naturalized citizen of the United States. My daughter, aged 25, who is dependent upon me, remains in Jugo-Slavia. What course of procedure will be necessary to bring my daughter to this country? M. B.

Petitions for the issuance of visas may be filed by United States citizens only in behalf of their wives, husbands, parents, and unmarried children under twenty-one years of age. All other relatives or friends must apply to the nearest American consul for a visa appropriate to their cases. No assistance can be rendered by us in this connection, due to the fact that the department of state, through its consuls abroad, has complete control over the issuance of visas.

Prior to actual arrival at a port of entry to this country the status of an alien cannot be passed upon, and for that reason no assistance can be given at this time.

THOUGHTS OF SUMMER.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Is it the landlord's or the tenant's responsibility to keep screens on the windows during the summer months? Do the enforcement agencies of this regulation interest themselves as to whether or not the responsibility is definitely placed on the one or the other by the lease? V. M.

Section 2174 of the city code providing that "it shall be the duty of every . . . person owning or controlling . . . any place where persons are housed . . . and where foods are kept . . . to maintain on all openings . . . screens . . ." While this wording is equally applicable to landlord and tenant we are informed that if an owner fails to provide screens a complaint to the department of health will insure action to that end.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

WINTER SONG.

Out of the dark you came to me,
Under a sky of gray;
Eddying snowflakes, drifting deep,
Blotted the world away.

Your fragrance softened the winter wind;
You passed, and we did not speak;
But your proud eyes veiled a sudden light,
And roses bloomed in your cheek.

Deep though the snow may bank and drift,
Black though the storm wind blow,
Summer sings ever within my heart

FRIAR TUCK.

IN THE NAME OF THE LAW!

Our doctor thumped us all over and cut a piece out of our right ear and had a blood test made and took an X-ray of our spinal column, and then decided on half a dozen different kinds of medicine.

"You'll have to take a tablespoon of whisky night and morning with those pills," said he. "Your nervous system is all shotell. Or, do you object to the use of whisky as a medicine?"

We said we'd try to gag the stuff down, so he gave us a document which looked like our high school diploma, and we went to the nearest drug store. We started to unfold the impressive document, but the druggist spoke up quickly.

"We're out," he said. "Not a drop in the place. You'll have to go somewhere else."

We went to another drug store. We started to unfold the diploma, but the druggist yelled from the back of the store:

The next store we took pains to trap the druggist, and, holding the diploma concealed under our coat, we cornered the druggist behind a case of imported perfumes, and then suddenly flashed our likker buying license in front of him.

"Oh," he said, crestfallen, "I haven't any whisky; they've bought me all out. Getting ready for Christmas, I guess."

"Maybe some of 'em were sick, like we are," suggested we; "it's barely possible that some people might take whisky as a medicine."

"By George!" said the drug store man, "I never thought of that. Mebbe you're right. Well, anyhow we haven't got any."

And so, up and down the chill December streets, with the dark night fast enveloping the earth, we tramped. We unfolded our likker lithograph in drug store after drug store. Always it was the same. Tired, wan, and weary from our fruitless quest, we dropped in at the office of a friend to rest. We told him our pathetic story as the great tears coursed slowly down our pallid countenance. The friend gazed on the beautiful embossed, engraved, and hand illuminated parchment which bore the solemn declaration that the government of these United States had given us permission to take a tablespoonful of whisky night and morning as a medicine.

"So you've been running around with that thing?" said the kind friend, with contempt and derision oozing from his voice.

We faintly admitted we had.

"And with the whole government of the United States back of you, you couldn't get a drop?"

We said this also was true. He snorted a fine snort.

"Wait a minute," he said. He picked up a telephone, and after he had got the connection he said:

"Hello, Max, you know who this is?"

Max seemed both to know who it was and what it was all about, because our friend turned to us and said: "How much do you want, a couple o' quarts or a couple o' cases?"

"But our government license says we can have only a pint," said we, faintly.

"The hell with that noise," said our friend; "this is my bootlegger."

reading poetry, but he likes to keep the 1929 Linebook on his bedside table because of "The Art of Friendship" and "Fresh Paint and Old Memories." His lovely young daughter, who skips blithely over such stories, wears her Linebook out reading Judy Shea and Donfarran. Mother may smile a bit and dream a bit over Marjorie F. W. and Francesca Miller. And worldly folk who divide their time between New York, London and Paris, Palm Beach, Biarritz, and a pent house in Chicago, delight in Ernest Byfield's witty and sophisticated nonsense. People who go to church on Sunday and people who don't appreciate the exquisite beauty of Helene Mullins' "Death on Golgotha." And the millions who remember the Great War are touched by Eolus' "Kidders" and Laurence Binyon's incomparable "For the Fallen." But the point is, every one likes something in the Linebook. That's why there are never enough to go around. And that's also why you should get your copy today!

COMING BACK TO LIFE

65 YEARS AGO TODAY.

DECEMBER 12, 1864.

NEW YORK.—The Richmond papers of Dec. 8 say Grant has been reinforced by from 6,000 to 10,000 men from the Shenandoah valley and that a battle is imminent. The Dutch Gap canal, they say, can be made ready for use in a few hours.

NEW YORK.—The Sunday Mercury Washington special says there is no doubt that the Dutch Gap canal is by this time blown open and our fleet is making its way up the James river in the direction of Drury's bluff. The bank of the river opposite the canal has been captured and is held by our forces.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Another reconnoissance was made on the 9th along the Vaughan road toward Hatcher run. The force consisted of detachments of several cavalry regiments under Col. Kerwin and three brigades of the 1st division of the 2d corps under Gen. Nelson A. Miles. Our men drove the enemy's videttes across the run, then charged and carried the works on the other side by assault. At last reports Gen. Miles was holding the position and preparing for a counter attack.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is something to know from the silence of the Richmond papers of the 9th that up to that time Sherman had continued his progress toward the sea. They say he was last heard from at some point south of Millen on the road to Savannah, but do not say when this was. They think he is going to Savannah, but the opinion continues general that he is more likely to emerge at Ossabaw sound.

NEW YORK.—It is reported on some authority that Sheridan and his cavalry have appeared in Fredericksburg. There is no official news to that effect.

PRETORIA.—British prisoners to the number of 672 were taken from Gen. Gatacre in the battle at Stormberg. The Boers also captured three British guns in the engagement.

LONDON.—Gen. Gatacre is reaping a whirlwind of censure from press and public because of his defeat at Stormberg. Lord Durham in a speech said that though the general is a brave man he had a habit of overworking his troops and should be censured. His lordship's remarks were loudly cheered, which is pretty good evidence of the temper of the public. The British losses to date in South Africa are: Killed, 566; wounded, 2,027; captured and missing, 1,977. This is two-thirds of the total British loss at the battle of Waterloo.

CHICAGO.—Miss Lulu Tosetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tosetti, and Robert T. Kochs were married at St. Paul's church.

MANILA.—Gen. Lawton, with the 35th infantry and four troops of the 4th cavalry, occupied San Miguel without a fight.

DECEMBER 12, 1919.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator of the United States, has asked President Wilson "to accept his resignation, it was reported at the White House. It was tendered about a year ago, but the President then declined to accept it and summoned Dr. Garfield to Washington to handle the coal strike crisis. His friends say he was ignored in the negotiations leading to the strike settlement and that this is the reason for his request.

PARIS.—The week's Socialist riots in Italy resulted in 17 deaths and 400 wounded.

DUBLIN.—Several prominent Sinn Feiners are somewhere in England tonight after a wholesale raid by British authorities on Ireland. The raid was conducted with clocklike precision, 100 policemen and 500 soldiers being engaged in it in Dublin alone. The seized Irishmen were hurried aboard a waiting warship.

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Harriet E. Clingman, one of Chicago's earliest settlers, died at the home of Mrs. E. A. Stedman, 5499 Hyde Park boulevard, at the age of 90. She arrived at the old Fort Dearborn blockhouse in 1836, when she was about seven years old. She had kept a file of THE TRIBUNE ever since its first issues.

REASSESSMENT IN HARVEY.

Harvey, Ill., Dec. 10.—A committee composed of the representatives of all the organizations in Harvey called upon the board of assessors last Thursday making it clear that a ridiculous cut in the tax assessment was not what we were after, but rather an equalization of the tax values.

Mr. Cutmore in an interview with newspapers once stated that the valuation of $2,000 a front foot on certain property placed by the Harvey real estate board was unreasonable and foolish. I don't see where Mr. Cutmore gets the $2,000 per front valuation when it is considered that this 30 feet with a fine solid brick building on it sold for $53,000 several months ago.

The laughable thing about the entire affair is that Mr. Cutmore's agent placed $60 per front foot on this property and the committee which Mr. Cutmore is criticizing raised Mr. Cutmore's agent's figure to five times what Mr. Cutmore's agent thought was correct.

It would appear to me that what we needed was less theoretical science in this appraisal and more horse sense.

President, Harvey Real Estate Board.

FORST FOR ENGINEERS.

Wilmette, Ill., Dec. 10.—I read with great interest the letter, "Not a Bread and Butter Course," by William Held, M. D.

Last September we enrolled our son in the engineering school of a leading university here, and just why an engineer should be poring over Coleridge's and Wordsworth's poems, which he utterly detests and which certainly can be of no benefit to him in his profession, has been a mystery to me.

I think good English is essential in any profession, but, as Mr. Held states, geometry has no bearing whatever on the calling of a doctor or clergyman, and I think it is an utter waste of time to try to interest a potential engineer in poetry. MRS. C. F. WYLE.

GEOMETRY AS ENGLISH.

Valparaiso, Ind., Dec. 9.—Every pupil should be required to study geometry, if not as a branch of mathematics, then as a branch of English. In no other subject is accuracy of statement in the fewest and best words so insistently demanded. Here, if anywhere, the pupil will learn the meaning of "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

"I am convinced by experience," says Mary Austin, "that of formal grammar and plane geometry the latter is immensely the more important study for the imaginative writer." A. L. ASTOR.

THE SIZE OF FARMS.

Mason, Ill., Dec. 8.—Your man Scrutator is a very interesting and entertaining writer on most subjects, but on the subject of agriculture he lacks both sound reasoning and a knowledge of the facts. He says "28 per cent of our farms are less than 50 acres and represent an investment averaging $4,000." In the territory covered by THE TRIBUNE, in fact, in the entire territory covered by the people who have been fighting for the last ten years for equality of agriculture this statement is false.

I wish it were possible for your writers to remember that all the American farmer is asking for is protection from foreign competition, and that, considering the extent to which America's production of manufactured goods has been developed and the part which the American farmer might play as a consumer of those goods if he was financially able to do so, the rest of the people of this great country of ours would do well indeed to join in helping him get it. S. FRED CUMMINGS.

CRITIC OF THE MAP AWARDS.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—I have been watching the contest in maps in THE TRIBUNE.

It is absurd, if for no other reason than the maps show such large states, which would defeat all interest on the part of the people in local self-government.

The glimpses given by the letters show that the map makers are totally ignorant of political science, and these questions are ignored. B. V. HUBBARD.

THERE TO STAY.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—I have read your editorial, "A New Capital, and a New Map."

Of course I do not agree with you. Washington is the place for the capital. It was only located there after long consideration. True, conditions have changed, and they may (and no doubt will) change again. Would the seat of government have to move again? The idea that Washington has become bureaucratic is not a good argument. Any large capital may become bureaucratic after a long period of time—for instance: London, Paris, or Berlin. If this is a reason, would not the capital have to be moved again and again?

If climate is the controlling factor why not move to San Diego? Is the center of population anywhere near southern Illinois? There is 80 million population east of the Mississippi and 30 millions west. The geographic center is overcome by the excellence of our transportation into Washington. Then the historic associations and personal considerations connected with Washington must be considered. Its victories and its tragedies have left a lasting impression. And all in all the capital is there and should remain there as long as the nation shall last. W. H. W.

DISCLAIMING A FELONY.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Today while calling at the office of a business acquaintance of mine, a very estimable gentleman, a bootlegger came in and sold him a pint of whisky he had ordered that he might have its aid in fighting a heavy cold.

According to the provisions of the Jones law he became a felon and liable to five years in the penitentiary and an enormous fine. And I, by not rushing over to the prohibition office and giving information against my friend and the bootlegger, under the provisions of another United States law, became equally as guilty and a felon.

Am I a felon? I am not, in spite of all opinions to the contrary. The provisions of an unjust law such as the prohibition law can never make morally wrong that which is morally right, and until the wrong condition is righted just so long will the wave of crime that seems to have almost a strangle hold on our country continue. None is so blind as he who will not see.

TAKE TRANSIT OUT OF POLITICS, INSULL DEMANDS

Sound Credit Will Solve Problem, He Says.

Samuel Insull described Chicago's transit as the lame duck of the utilities family yesterday and said it needs to spend $600,000,000 in the next ten years to catch up with the city's transportation demands. He said in effect that politics has put transit on crutches and the only way to cure the cripple is to take transit out of politics and treat it as a business proposition. Mr. Insull was addressing the Association of Commerce at a luncheon at the La Salle hotel.

Contrasting transit with other public utilities, Mr. Insull said that where telephone, electricity, and gas propose to spend $62,000,000 next year on extensions, only a necromancer can guess what transit will spend.

In the last ten years, his figures showed, telephone, gas and electricity utilities have spent $400,000,000 in Chicago on construction, while transit has spent only $25,000,000.

He Blames Politics.

On a per cent basis, he showed, telephone, electricity and gas utilities have spent for extensions and improvements this year, sums of money equal to 23.3 per cent of gross earnings. Transit meantime has expended the equivalent of only 2.3 per cent of its income on improvements.

The Insull argument is that it is politics which has thus hoisted the decimal point over a notch.

"The time to cure the lameness of the traction duck is at hand if the people want it cured," said Mr. Insull. "At this time nothing that any one can think of would do more to stimulate business—everybody's business—than to give traction the solid, substantial, financial structure that will permit it to undertake the job of catching up with the city's needs.

300 Million Necessary.

"For the transportation service to overtake the city's requirements $300,000,000 will be necessary. Every one has agreed that this is the minimum sum amount which will have to be spent within ten years—$200,000,000 for extensions and betterments and $100,000,000 for subways.

"This means spending at the rate of $30,000,000 a year—at a greater rate than that for the first few years—for labor, equipment and materials. Also it will be new money put to work; new money to be respent by those to whom traction will pay it out, for the benefit of every branch of trade and commerce.

"Nor is the expenditure of thirty or more millions of new money a year the only benefit that will come from putting traction on a solid financial foundation. Improve the facilities and property values will be increased and business stimulated throughout the area of the existing transportation system.

Solid Security Needed.

"Before that $300,000,000 can be spent, however, it must be raised. There is no chance to raise it, except upon solid security. The security of the traction companies as they now exist is not good, and the public, which must furnish the money, knows this fact. The open bond market proves this.

"Take traction out of politics, then I predict that in a shorter time than we think it possible Chicago will be bragging of its transportation service instead of damning it."

Edward N. Hurley, former head of the United States shipping board, in an address at the Association of Commerce luncheon said less than 9 per cent of the population has ever been in any stock market.

"I am satisfied business will improve steadily throughout 1930," he said, "because the buying power of the vast population has not been seriously impaired, nor do I think their investment capacity has been diminished."

BACK TO COUNCIL

The transit settlement ordinance went back to the city council yesterday and is now in the hands of a subcommittee. The draft includes all except the financial sections. It had been sent to the companies for approval of sections which the city insisted on writing in, and it was returned by the transit attorneys with their approval.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Illinois Politicians See Battle Coming.

BY PARKE BROWN.

According to the politicos who discussed the subject interestedly yesterday during a lull in local organization work, the world court issue once more may be a deciding factor in a Republican contest for the nomination for United States senator from Illinois.

The late William B. McKinley, it is conceded by everybody, was defeated for renomination because of that issue in 1926, less than four months after he had voted for American entrance into the permanent court of international relations. He lost by 101,252 votes to Frank L. Smith, who made the world court question his chief battle cry. Later Mr. Smith was denied his seat.

Now comes—by instructions of President Hoover—the signature of the United States to all the protocols involved in the entrance of this country into the court; and it comes just at a time when the two aspirants for the Republican nomination to the senate are making their final preparations for their campaigns.

Deneen Votes for Court.

That the issue will play a large part in their contest is considered certain because their views on the international tribunal are diametrically opposed. Senator Deneen, the incumbent, voted regularly with the friends of the court during the 1926 battle, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, congressman-at-large, who has announced her candidacy against him, has spoken forcibly against this form of entrance into foreign affairs.

The senate vote of Jan. 27, 1926, was 76 to 17 for the adoption of a resolution for the adherence of the United States to the understanding which the 55 countries in the league of nations established for the world court. Senator Deneen, as well as the late Senator McKinley, was one of the 39 Republicans who joined the 37 Democrats to make up the winning majority.

Before that vote was taken there were several test votes. On Jan. 26 of the same year Senator Deneen voted against a proposed investigation of the "campaign of education" for the court. On Jan. 22 he was one of those who signed the cloture petition to limit debate.

Predict Battle in Illinois.

Washington dispatches indicate that senate ratification of the protocol signatures of Jay Pierrepont Moffatt, charge d'affaires at Berne, will not be asked until several months after the primary and even not until after the November election. But the politicians believe that Mrs. McCormick, who is now in Washington, will carry the issue to Senator Deneen in spite of the attitude of the national administration.

One of the strongest speeches she made against the court was made last spring before the real nature of the Root formula modifying the senate reservations adopted in 1926 had become thoroughly understood, it is said. And some of her friends predict that when Mrs. McCormick opens her campaign in the first week of January her opposition will be even more forcible because of the recent interpretations of that formula as in effect nullifying one of the most important of the American reservations.

The forecasters say that the world court will be an issue in at least most of the nineteen states where the terms of incumbent senators expire but that nowhere will the situation be more acute than in Illinois.

Elmore Appeals to Business Men.

The one voice heard publicly in the local political field yesterday was that of Howard W. Elmore, president of the sanitary district. Pointing out that instead of the usual three there are five members of the drainage board to be elected next year because of the deaths of Trustees Henry A. Berger and Lawrence F. King, Mr. Elmore appealed to business men to get into the primary race.

"I am vitally interested," he said, "in seeing the Republicans select five high class, outstanding, independent business men to run on the Republican ticket. Naturally I am interested in seeing the Republican party prevail at the polls in November. I am sure it can prevail if such men are selected.

"This is the people's problem. If they desire a business administration of the affairs of the sanitary district they will select business men for the job. Never in the history of the district was it so important to elect fearless and competent business men."

DAWES TELEPHONES FROM LONDON OFFICE TO NEBRASKA FOLK

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Speaking into a telephone in the American embassy at London tonight, Ambassador Charles G. Dawes sent a message over land and sea to a group of his old friends, who had united here to honor Frank H. Woods and the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company he founded 25 years ago.

The ambassador, who began the practice of law in Lincoln 42 years ago, paid tribute to Mr. Woods, commented on the advances that have been made in communications in the last few years, and referred to old times and friends here.

Divorce Litigant Denies All Improprieties.

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Ray H. Arnold, plump, well groomed millionaire investment broker, whose counter-suit for divorce against Mrs. Bessie Sturm Arnold of Park avenue is being heard by a jury before Supreme Court Justice McCook, took the witness stand today and in a booming voice hurled the lie at his 20 year old son, Bill, and in a more modulated voice described his relations with Mrs. Margaret Crenshaw West, widow, and her 19 year old daughter, Martha, a college freshman. Mother and daughter are named as co-respondents by Mrs. Arnold.

Arnold's face, purpled when he was asked by his attorney if he ever had told his son that he was through with Mrs. Arnold and was going to live with Mrs. West and her daughter.

"It's a lie," he boomed.

"Did your son ever ask you to turn over a new leaf, give up Mrs. West and Martha, and go back to Mrs. Arnold?"

No Nightie Parades.

He flung the same answer when asked if he had ever gone about his apartment nude or scantily clad when Mrs. West and Martha and his son were present, as William had testified.

Q.—Is it true that Mrs. West and her daughter both paraded in front of you and your own son in the nude? A.—A lie, sir. Such a thing never happened.

Q.—Did you ever call Mrs. West "lovey dear?" "Peggy sweetest," and such things? A.—Never. I called her Peggy.

Q.—Did Martha ever call you "daddy," "daddy sweetheart?" A.—[The witness sat forward in his chair] She called be Uncle Ray and no more.

Meet in Los Angeles.

He said that he first met Mrs. West when she was Mrs. Crenshaw, wife of Lawrence Crenshaw, a railway attorney in Los Angeles, now dead. Mrs. Arnold also met her at that time.

In 1917, he testified, Mrs. Crenshaw came east and a few years later accepted a position in charge of accounting for the development company of which Arnold is president.

Asked to describe the difficulty which led him to separate from Mrs. Arnold, the witness said he never had separated.

"I went to the new home I had built at Greenwich—Belors villa, as we named it—on Aug. 15, 1928," he said. "I found it entirely denuded of its furniture. Everything loose had vanished, even a pair of andirons. I was astounded. I had no idea where they had been taken."

Alleged Breakfast Episode.

Arnold was asked if he ever had slapped his son's face in the apartment at 52 East 67th street which the millionaire occupied in 1928. The son had testified that his father had objected because the son, who prepared breakfast, had not set a place for Mrs. West and "took a swing at him."

"What happened?" Arnold's counsel asked. A.—There was a dispute about who should order the coffee. He refused to do so.

Q.—You slapped his face? A.—I certainly did.

Q.—And what did you tell him? A.—I told him to get out.

Q.—And he did? A.—He did.

Arnold denied that he directly or indirectly maintained a house at Crestwood for Mrs. West. He denied the stories of detectives that they had seen him in July and August of 1928 enter Mrs. West's bedroom at Crestwood. The detectives had stated they could see Mrs. West and Arnold dressed in night attire.

Denies Butler's Story.

He also denied the story of Thomas Berry, Mrs. Arnold's Negro butler, that he had served meals in a bedroom occupied by Arnold and Mrs. West when both were clad in night attire.

Previous to Arnold's appearance two witnesses testified to seeing his wife and Charles J. Hann Jr., one of her attorneys, in compromising situations. James Spencer testified that when he called to solicit an order for liquor he saw Hann in a dressing gown with Mrs. Arnold sitting on his knee. She sat there, he said, while they discussed the prices of liquor for a party for 500 persons.

The sale of city property at 117-19 North Franklin street, on which stands an old city firehouse, to W. J. Greenebaum for $146,000, the high bid, was authorized by the council finance committee yesterday and will be recommended to the council today.

SURGEON TELLS NEW DISCOVERY IN SKIN PLANTING

Dr. Frederick B. Moorehead last night coupled an excoriation of charlatans in plastic surgery with the news to his colleagues of the Chicago Medical society that experiments during the last year seem to indicate that one of the greatest advances in that branch of medicine in recent decades may soon result. It is hoped the experiments will prove the feasibility of transplanting skin from one person to another to remedy physical defects.

To stress the significance of this possibility, Dr. Moorehead, who is professor of oral surgery at Rush Medical college, pointed out that heretofore any skin transplantation had to be made from such material as was available on the patient's own body, and that this was often limited.

Up to this time it has only been possible to borrow blood for transfusions with any safety, he explained, because physicians know how to chart or "type" blood and thus secure the correct quality.

"We have never known how to chart tissues," he said, "and transplanting from one person to another was quite dangerous because one could not predict how cells would react. Now, in 53 experiments during the last year, skin was taken from individuals who had the same types of blood as the patient. Two-thirds were completely successful, and in fact only five were failures. So if we can classify tissue according to the types of blood, a tremendous advance lies ahead."

In denouncing the horde of quacks who masquerade under the title of plastic surgeons, Dr. Moorehead asserted that the negligence of ethical medicine was responsible for the flourishing of this cult.

"Medicine's intolerance, medicine's smugness, medicine's sense of ownership," he asserted, "made the opportunity for every medical cult that exists today."

CURE OF STANLEY McCORMICK SAID TO BE UNLIKELY

Specialist Doubts if He Ever Will Be Well.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Belief that Stanley McCormick probably never will recover the use of his mind was expressed today by Dr. Samuel Ingam of Los Angeles, a witness in the Superior court hearing on the medical care and guardianship of the multimillionaire.

Dr. Ingam, a specialist in nervous and mental diseases who appeared as a plaintiff witness, testified that in his opinion the "recoverability" of the patient is less favorable because of the length of the illness. McCormick, who is 54 years old, was adjudged incompetent 23 years ago.

Calls Illness Dementia Praecox.

McCormick's wife is opposing his brother, Harold F. McCormick, and a sister, Mrs. Anita Blaine, co-guardians with her, in the present court action. She seeks sole guardianship of her husband and administration of his fortune, now some fifty millions, which he inherited from his father, the late Cyrus H. McCormick, Chicago harvester king.

Testifying that he had examined the patient three times, the last a month ago, Dr. Ingam said he diagnosed the illness as dementia praecox. He said that the medical profession in recent years had arrived at the conclusion that this form of insanity is based on the functional disorders rather than mental and emotional upsets as it was believed previously.

Recommends Keeping of Charts.

Dr. Ingam said experience has taught that after a patient has reached fifty years of age he becomes quieter, more apathetic and shows less interest in anything.

On the last visit, the witness said he noted no substantial change from his observations of previous visits which were made some months ago. He recommended keeping of charts and records on the daily routine of the patient to provide a perspective for treatment.

Deputy Sheriff Sentenced to Day in Jail for Bribe

Circuit Judge Klarkowski yesterday sentenced Deputy Sheriff William Scanlan to a day in the county jail for contempt of court in attempting to fix a jury summons. Scanlan was arrested Tuesday when he visited the office of W. H. Beam, member of the Board of Trade, to pick up an envelope. The envelope was to contain $10 which Scanlan set as the price of fixing a jury summons for Beam. When the envelope was opened by the judge it was found to contain a marked $1 bill. Scanlan has been discharged by Sheriff Traeger, to whom the arrangement was reported by Beam, resulting in the trap.

DORAN DEATH LIST SHOWS 147 CITIZENS. TO 57 DRY AGENTS

Figures supplied by Dr. James M. Doran, national prohibition commissioner, to the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, on the number of killings by and of prohibition agents, were made public yesterday. They showed that from Jan. 16, 1920, the date the Volstead law and the 18th amendment became effective, to Nov. 1, 1929 [which is in the fiscal year of 1930, 147 civilians were slain by agents and 57 agents were killed in action. The government's figures, according to fiscal years, are as follows:

1921	10	11
1922	5	19
1923	13	21
1924	2	16
1925	5	26
1926	4	13
1927	5	@25
1928	6	6
1929	4	7
1930 [since July 1, 1929]	2	2
Total	57	147

"I am very glad to give you a tabulated statement of the number of persons killed, both in and out of the service, in so far as it relates to the activities of agents of the bureau of prohibition," Dr. Doran wrote the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

"The agents of our service will continue to use weapons for self-defense, as they are not going to be shot at by violators and be without adequate means of protection."

Nomination of Castle as Ambassador Approved

COUNTESS ASKS DIVORCE; SUITOR NOT A 'RAPHAEL'

Kinship Claim Believed, but He Took Her Change

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Countess Constance Shack Grace de Urbina, daughter of the former Danish ambassador to Sweden and the United States, thought she had married a descendant of the great painter, Raphael, until her husband tried to steal change from her pocketbook, forge checks in her name, and, with a blanket, nearly smothered her, she testified before Supreme Court Referee William P. Burr today in applying for annulment of the marriage.

The husband, Humberto Aguirre de Urbina, was formerly a Spanish translator in the customs house here, the countess said. In addition to numbering Raphael among his ancestors, he said he had a great-uncle who was a papal ambassador to Chile and who, within a year of their marriage in 1924, would turn over to him a large estate in Chile, the countess declared.

Gone with Her Valuables.

All his claims were false, the plaintiff says. He is now in Chile with most of her valuables, she alleges.

The countess, who is a widow of Col. Archibald Gracie, victim of the Titanic disaster, said the reason she married Humberto secretly two months after she met him, and without investigating his extravagant claims, was because he threatened to fling himself into Lexington avenue from the roof of the Hotel Shelton unless she consented to be his wife.

The countess, who is 50, 20 years her husband's senior, said she is a "friend" of former President Coolidge and that even a presidential warrant, signed by Mr. Coolidge while he was chief executive, failed to obtain the extradition of Humberto from Chile as there was no extradition treaty between Chile and the United States.

Tried to Smother Her.

In May, 1925, when she and her husband were living at her home in Washington, she said, she heard some men moving about in the study upstairs. When she attempted to investigate, she asserted, her husband locked the door and threw a blanket over her head.

"He tried to smother me," the countess testified. "I screamed, the strange men ran out, and De Urbina ran into his room and locked the door. I fainted."

She summoned police, but by the time they reached the scene, Humberto had fled, she said.

CHARLES PIEZ SLATED TO HEAD MERCHANT FLEET CORPORATION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Charles Piez, Illinois manufacturer and builder of the three billion dollar wartime merchant fleet, will be appointed president of the Merchant Fleet corporation within the next week, according to information current here today. Selection of the Chicago business executive is understood to have the approval of President Hoover.

The appointment is expected to be the forerunner of a concerted move on the part of the shipping board to consolidate the activities of the government fleets operated by the Merchant Fleet corporation in anticipation of their eventual transfer to private ownership.

The presidency of the fleet corporation is an $18,000 a year job, the third highest salary in the government, only the President and the chief justice of the Supreme court receiving higher salaries.

Abel Davis, another Chicagoan, is favored now for appointment as assistant secretary of war, the post from which Patrick J. Hurley has been advanced to the secretaryship.

How A College Athlete Keeps Himself Well

BOB DEMING of Colgate, one of the fancy divers of the University Swimming Team, says that nobody can accuse him of having been saved from being a physical wreck. He just claims that a sensible method of health has really made life a pleasure for him.

His room-mate was the first one to suggest to him that he try this method, which has changed so many people's lives, and Mr. Deming writes that at first he could not believe this simple thing was the cause of his buoyant spirits. Finally, however, he had to admit that it was Nujol which was keeping him well, besides giving him, as he says, "five times the vitality."

"Believe me," he says "having free and regular bodily elimination makes all the difernce in the world to a diver as well as to any other athlete. I can't afford to be nervous, sluggish, or depressed while diving. It just isn't done! I would like to urge any one, whether they think they are in good health or not, to give Nujol a try-out. It certainly can't do any harm, and I'll bet it would make them feel a hundred per cent better. It's worth trying!"

Mr. Deming has just about told the whole story. He is right in believing that Nujol contains no drugs, no medicines of any kind. It is tasteless and colorless as pure water. It is simply harmless internal lubrication, which your body needs as much as any other machine. Regularly as clock work, Nujol cleans out of your body those poisons which we all have, and which make us low in our minds, tired, headachy, and below par.

The way for you to find out how much better Nujol will make you feel is to try it for a few days. You can get a bottle in a sealed package at any drug store. It costs only a few cents, but it makes you feel like a million dollars. Why shouldn't you feel well all the time? Get yourself a bottle of Nujol today!

THE February, 1930, issue breaks all of the Woman's Home Companion's past records in advertising volume and circulation.

It went to press on November 25th with more than a million dollars gross advertising revenue—the largest in the Companion's history. An increase of 20% above the corresponding issue of 1929.

A total of 2,872,000 copies of the February issue are being printed to supply the public demand. This is a gain of 282,000 over the printing for February, 1929.

The current December Companion has a total net paid circulation of more than 2,600,000—a net paid gain of 264,480 in the past twelve months.

The Companion's increases in circulation and advertising have come as a result of sound publishing principles steadily and consistently followed year after year.

For 1930 the public and advertisers are assured of continued adherence to these principles—producing a magazine of noteworthy editorial strength, closely attuned to the needs, interests and aspirations of modern American women.

3 DRIVERS FLEE IN AUTO DEATHS; TOLL NOW 959

I. C. Crossing Tragedy Called Accident.

Seven more auto deaths yesterday raised the Cook county toll for this year to 959. The victims:

Mrs. Clara Davenport, 40 years old, River road and Robinson street, Franklin Park, fatally hurt by a "hit and run" driver while crossing Belmont avenue near River road in Franklin Park.

Winfield Overby, 67 years old, 1402 Warner avenue, a janitor, died at the Ravenswood hospital after being struck by a "hit and run" driver at North Ashland and Sunnyside avenues.

Thomas Jetka, 72 years old, 3021 West 22d street, killed when he was struck by a "hit and run" driver at 14th street and Cicero avenue, in Cicero. Jetka was on his way to work as a night watchman at the Hanson Furniture company, 1239 Cicero avenue, and was hit as he stepped from a street car.

Mrs. Anna O'Donnell, 60 years old, died Wednesday night in the Jackson Park hospital, the second victim of the accident in which her sister, Mrs. Norah Moriarity, 54 years old, 1527 East 35th place, wife of Battalion Chief Patrick J. Moriarity of the fire department, was killed. Miss Mary Healy, 30 years old, was also injured when the three women were struck by a "hit and run" motorist at Stony Island avenue and East 56th street Sunday night.

Mrs. Susan Grzeleski, 49 years old, 1235 West Washington boulevard. Died at the Jefferson Park hospital from injuries received last night when she was struck by an automobile driven by H. E. Kreuger, 414 Ogden avenue, at Sheldon street and Ogden avenue. The driver was not held.

An unidentified man, about 35 years old, fatally injured when he was run down at Madison and Rockwell streets. He died on the way to the West End hospital. Charles Briles, 2313 West Madison street, driver of the car, was held.

An unidentified woman, gray haired and of middle age, fatally injured when she was struck by a truck at Leavitt street and North avenue last night. She died shortly after midnight at St. Elizabeth's hospital. Barry Bird, 3120 North Kedzie avenue, the driver, was not held. He told police the woman stepped in front of his machine.

Probe Crossing Death.

A jury impaneled by Coroner Bundesen late yesterday decided that Frank Burke, well to do south side contractor who was killed by an Illinois Central suburban train Tuesday evening, came to his death accidentally. But the jury made several recommendations to the railroad and safety organization which it suggested might prevent a recurrence of such a death. Mr. Burke was 65 years old and lived at 6900 Bennett avenue.

The contractor was killed as he attempted to cross the west bound track of the suburban service at Bryn Mawr station, 71st street and Euclid avenue. According to the testimony of Motorman C. D. Carlson, Burke walked directly upon the tracks when the train was fifteen feet away and moving at an estimated speed of from 5 to 8 miles per hour.

Several eyewitnesses to the accident testified that in their belief the train was going from fifteen to twenty miles per hour when it struck Burke, but Carlson was firm in his opinion that it was going only half that fast.

In its verdict the jury recommended that a bell be installed in connection with the air brake system; that red and green lights be fixed to the gates and operated automatically to shine green when the bars are up and red when they are down.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Problem

Elmer Praises Popular Tenor of Light Night

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

My task this morning is a light and airy one, so I will start the ball rolling by referring to the W-G-N 7:30 to 8 popular program. Walter Pontius was on the bill, and Mr. Pontius is as popular a tenor as ever walked into a Chicago studio, and justly so. Then there were selections played by three guitarists, which furnished enjoyable musical entertainment.

If by chance any reader should be scanning these paragraphs for mention of Percy Grainger's announced appearance from New York through WIBO, 7 to 7:30, my regretful but only statement is I overlooked the broadcast.

Axel Christensen, as he said, was "on the job" at W-G-N, 8 to 8:30. Though Mr. Christensen knows how to make a piano talk in a rather amazing fashion, and is able to crack many a joke with odd and unexpected twists, the chances are this popular entertainer is at his very best when he gets his words tangled up.

Floyd Gibbons, in his talk from New York through W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, started out with China and the east, then commented on communications received from his listeners, and then dropped down upon Haiti. It seems the twenty-five or so presidents of Haiti have been slain in office.

MRS. EDWARDS WAIVES HEARING IN AMSTER CASE

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Olga Elde Edwards, diminutive and attractive brunette actress, today waived examination before Magistrate Dreyer on the charge of extortion lodged against her by Nathan L. Amster, traction magnate and Park avenue resident. The much postponed case will go to the grand jury for scrutiny.

Mrs. Edwards, at one time the leading woman for the late Holbrook Blinn, had previously sworn in court that Amster is the father of her 6 year old son, Lee. She says she possesses an agreement signed by Amster whereby he was to give her $5,000 yearly for the support of Lee.

Mrs. Vilpha B. Wood, Composer, Is Dead at 63

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Vilpha Barnes Wood, composer and conductor, died at her home in Queens today. She was 63 years old. Mrs. Wood, who was known to radio audiences for her broadcasts of condensed versions of grand opera, once directed the activities of the Grand Opera Society of New York, which she organized in 1915 to promote grand opera in English.

C. H. STODDART, DEAN OF CHICAGO AD MEN, IS DEAD

Charles Henry Stoddart, 75, dean of advertising men in Chicago, died on Tuesday at Hampton Springs, Fla. He had been in the advertising profession for 54 years and for the last 47 years had been manager of the western office of the Frank A. Munsey company and the New York Sun.

C. H. STODDART. [Gross Studio.]

Mr. Stoddart spent seven years as an advertising representative of church and mail order papers before becoming associated with the Munsey company, in 1882, in the founding of Argosy magazine. In 1886 he came to Chicago to take the position he had held until his death.

He was a veteran member of the Chicago Athletic association, a former president of the Agate club, and a few months ago he resigned the presidency of the Off the Street club.

Mr. Stoddart was born in Delhi, N. Y., in 1854. His wife, Mrs. Mary Stoddart, died in February of 1928. He is survived by three sisters.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the University Church of the Disciples, 57th and University avenue. The Rev. Von Ogden Vogt, pastor of the First Unitarian church, will officiate. Interment will be in Oakwoods cemetery.

BEST ALASKAN PILOTS PREPARE TO SEEK EIELSON

NOME, Alaska, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Holding only slight hopes of finding the objects of their quest alive, the most experienced pilots in Alaska were concentrating at Teller, on Bering strait, today to conduct an aerial search over the icy waters of northeastern Siberia for Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and his mechanic, Earl Borland, missing since Nov. 9.

Pilot Frank Dorbandt, who made one successful trip to the Nanuk with Pilot Eielson, returning was passengers and furs, has been at Teller for sometime, vainly trying in the face of adverse weather and accidents to fly to the rescue of his companions. Pilot Joe Crosson, another veteran arctic flyer, has been with him for several days.

Pilots Ed Young and C. H. Gillam arrived here yesterday from Fairbanks enroute to Teller and planned to resume their flight as soon as refueling could be accomplished. Pilot Matt Nominen was expected here from Anchorage, Alaska, momentarily, and will join his companions at Teller as soon as possible. Meanwhile planes were being prepared in the United States and Canada for shipment to participate in the search.

Kidnap Driver, Steal His Truck and 5,000 Shirts

The police last night were seeking three robbers, who, after kidnaping Raymond Murphy, 4408 Altgeld street, a driver for the Chicago Cartage company, 423 West Chicago avenue, stole his truck and 5,000 shirts worth $12,000, owned by the Cluett Peabody company, 500 South Franklin street. The bandits forced Murphy into their automobile at Polk and Sherman streets, and one of them drove away with the truck. Murphy was released at 14th street and Union avenue.

Mrs. Domenica Allegretti, Mother of Judge, Is Dead

Mrs. Domenica Allegretti, 72 years old, mother of Judge Francis Allegretti of the Boys' court, died yesterday at her son's home at 17 South Waller avenue. Besides Judge Allegretti, she is survived by three other sons, John, Joseph and Louis. Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at St. Catherine's church, Oak Park. Burial will be at Mount Carmel cemetery.

ANOTHER JUDGE RULES AGAINST CUNEO BUILDING

Refuses Injunction as Permit Is Revoked.

Judge William V. Brothers of the Circuit court yesterday denied attorneys for John F. Cuneo an injunction to restrain Building Commissioner Paschen from revoking the permit under which Cuneo sought to erect a sixty story tower at the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and Randolph street. It was the second defeat in two days for Cuneo counsel.

Chief Justice Thomas Taylor Jr. of the Circuit court had voided the building permit in his decision of Tuesday, which declared illegal the amendment to the zoning laws under which Cuneo proposed to erect his building. Judge Taylor's decision was called to the attention of Judge Brothers by Frank J. Corr, assistant corporation counsel. Judge Brothers then offered the Cuneo attorneys permission to withdraw their petition for an injunction and on their refusal ruled against them.

Paschen Revokes Permit.

The third blow at the Cuneo building was delivered by Commissioner Paschen, who finally revoked the permit after several months of delay in which he refused to obey a council ordinance demanding the revocation of the permit and rejected the opinion of Corporation Counsel Ettelson advising him to heed the council's order.

Paschen's revocation, however, will not save him from an investigation of his delay in the entire Cuneo case, according to Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d]. The alderman, sponsor of a resolution under which Mayor Thompson appointed a committee of three aldermen to investigate Paschen and the circumstances of the passage of the amendment, declared that he will insist upon the inquiry being carried on.

Regarded as Ettelson Victory.

Judge Taylor's decision was regarded in the city hall as a victory for Corporation Counsel Ettelson. In September Ettelson gave the council an opinion declaring that the Cuneo amendment was invalid, thus preparing the ground for its repeal. Later Ettelson advised Paschen to revoke the permit pursuant to council orders. Both his actions were upheld by the Taylor ruling.

"I am pleased with the decision," said Mr. Ettelson. "It upholds the interpretation of the law that I gave the buildings and zoning committee and the council."

TWO HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

John J. Conway, 36 years old, 4237 Broadway, and Robert J. Barnhart, 35 years old, 6737 Pine Grove avenue, were held to the grand jury yesterday under bonds of $10,000 each on a charge of burglary by Police Magistrate James M. Feron of Oak Park. They were arrested on Saturday as they were robbing the Economical drug store at Oak Park avenue and South boulevard.

DROP DRY PLOT CHARGE AGAINST 18 IN GARY CASE

Eighteen Gary citizens, including two Negro aldermen, two attorneys, ten policemen, and four alleged bootleggers, who were to have been placed on trial for a liquor conspiracy before Federal Judge Slick at Hammond yesterday, were suddenly released early in the afternoon when United States Attorney Oliver Loomis nolle prossed the charges against them.

"Questioning of government witnesses in this case shows a variance with the charges contained in the indictments," Mr. Loomis told the court. Judge Slick complimented the prosecutor for his courage and entered the order. A little later Mr. Loomis also nolled a like indictment against Special City Judge Thomas Galassini of Gary, who was one of the eight men on whose guilt a jury disagreed Sunday.

This leaves but the cases growing out of the wholesale raid upon East Chicago last August yet to be tried, and this alleged conspiracy, including Mayor Hale and Chief of Police Regan, will be heard Jan. 8.

DRIVING SOUTH? ROAD TO FLORIDA MUCH IMPROVED

But Chambers Exaggerate to Some Extent.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lake City, Fla., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—This little town of palms, poinsettias, retired Iowa farmers and tourists is at the crossroads of the Dixie highway and the old Spanish trail. It is at the automobile entrance to Florida. Hotels are sweeping summer's dust from long vacant rooms, preparing for the annual rush of motorists from the north.

A few weeks ago THE TRIBUNE published a couple of paragraphs saying there was a new all paved route from Chicago to Florida. This was an error. Beg your pardon. The misinformation was from chambers of commerce along the Dixie highway.

Nearly All Paved.

However, there is now a route from Chicago to Florida that is paved except for a few small stretches, and there have been so many recent highway improvements that the drive is no longer the hardship that it was five years ago.

The recommended route out of Chicago is over U. S.-41 through Hammond and on through Dyer, Ind., to U. S.-52, nine miles south of Kentland, Ind., thence U. S.-52 to Indianapolis.

From Indianapolis to Louisville use U. S.-31. It's fairly fast asphalt. Near Louisville signs will direct the way to a new toll bridge which avoids delay at the ferry. Out of Louisville use U. S.-31-W and U. S.-31 to Horse Cave, Ky., 87.6 miles, where U. S.-68 can be picked up for the rest of the way to Cave City.

Kentucky Cities Rivals.

Kentucky has a new feud, based upon rivalry in getting tourists' silver rather than upon some fine point of honor. The center of the state is full of caves, each with its billboards, hot dog stands, guides, and hotels.

Cave City, through Bowling Green and Nashville, to Chattanooga, is a convenient second day's drive of 235 miles. The U. S.-68 marker can be followed to Bowling Green, then Ky.-73 to the Tennessee line and on U. S.-31-W to Nashville. There are fields of cotton and of tobacco, and there are picturesque black boys and quaint hill folk.

There are two long climbs in approaching Chattanooga. At the filing stations that dot the highway cars with Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Iowa licenses are parked while the anti-freeze is being drained from radiators.

Second Saves Brakes.

A rough detour that strains springs at slow speeds leads into smoky Chattanooga to Fort Oglethorpe, and then a is 440 miles, but Georgia has built some roads through its northern hills and most of its southern flats, making it a day's trip for those who like to step on the gas.

Tennessee 1 is used out of Chattanooga to Fort Ogelthorpe, and then a fair gravel road leads through civil war battle grounds to new asphalt on U. S.-41.

Log Proves Handy.

The U. S.-41 marker carries all the way from the Tennessee-Kentucky line, but the shields are used sparingly in stretches and it is well to carry a log with the state highway numbers.

In Florida the road is a new bituminous pavement with some stretches of concrete as smooth as the race course at Daytona Beach. The first fifty miles of Florida driving, approaching this crossroads town, is excellent. As for the rest of the way south, this road writer isn't relying upon chamber of commerce reports, but will report later.

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION.

Duquoin, Ill., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Loyal Harper, age 19, and Valjeane Sisk, age 28, both of Harrisburg, Ill., are in a hospital here as the result of a collision last night of their truck with a bus.

AVIATION NOTES

Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan was the one hundred thousandth passenger on the Stout air lines yesterday when he flew from Detroit to Cleveland to commemorate the event. He was accompanied by William B. Stout, president of the Stout air lines. In carrying 100,000 passengers the Stout planes have flown more than 900,000 miles.

President Portes Gil officially opened Mexico's first annual air meet yesterday when he took off from Valbuena flying field and flew over the high volcanos of Ixtcihuatl and Popocatepetl, a dispatch from Mexico City states. While aloft he sent radiograms to his wife and to flying officers.

The first air mail from Montevideo, Uruguay, arrived in New York yesterday morning. It was the longest air mail haul in history, covering 8,000 miles in 11 days, beating the best steam mail time by six days. The first 6,700 miles were flown over the air mail lines of Pan-American Airways, the longest single air mail run in the world.

VICTIM OF OWN ROBBERY PLOT, HE CONFESSES

How he plotted with a friend to stage a fake robbery of himself and how the friend instead made the robbery genuine was revealed last night by William J. Hall, 23 years old, 1504½ Drexel boulevard, a rent collector for the H. O. Stone & Co. realty office at 1157 East 47th street. Hall reported to the police on Dec. 3 that a gunman had held him up at 45th street and South parkway, taking his automobile, $1,275 in cash and $4,000 in checks.

The car was found on Tuesday in a lot at the rear of the detective bureau, with most of the stolen checks on the running board. The police questioned Hall, whose father, A. H. Hall, is manager of the realty office, and he confessed.

Hall said that he had arranged with his friend, whose name was withheld, to stage the robbery and divide the loot. They were discussing their plans in his car on Dec. 3, Hall said, when the friend drew a revolver and forced him to hand over the rent collections.

Macks Get Schang from Browns.

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Sixteen major league clubs were represented in the annual baseball meeting which closed here today, but only four contributed to the news of the day. The St. Louis and Philadelphia clubs of both leagues completed transfers of players which will send four athletes back to their former teams.

The St. Louis Cardinals traded Grover Cleveland Alexander and Harry McCurdy, catcher, to the Phillies for Homer Peel, outfielder, and Bob McGraw, pitcher. Alexander entered the major league with the Phillies.

Athletics Get Schang.

The St. Louis Browns followed with a trade by which Wally Schang, hard hitting catcher, will go to the Philadelphia Athletics, with Sammy Hale, infielder, moving to St. Louis in exchange.

Alexander rejoins the Phillies after an absence of 12 years, during which he has pitched for the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals. Schang becomes a Mackman again after the same term of exile from Philadelphia. He started his major league career in 1913 under the colors of Connie Mack and since 1917 has caught for the Red Sox, Yankees, and Browns.

Homer Peel, who went to the Phillies from the Cardinals in the trade sending Jimmy Wilson to St. Louis, now returns to the Breadon, Rickey & Co. system. Bob McGraw, the other player involved, was also a Cardinal at one time.

The Phillies, whose catching staff was reduced to a minimum by the death of Walter Lerian, now are well stocked with receivers, for in addition to getting the services of the capable McCurdy, the release of Al Cooper, a tall, hard hitting catcher, was procured by purchase from Birmingham.

Talk of Erecting Screens.

President E. S. Barnard said the American league devoted its meeting to a discussion of "internal" questions, while the only notable action by the National league, according to President J. A. Heydler, was a decision to ask the manufacturers of the official baseballs if they can turn out a ball with the gloss removed. Under the rule now in force in the National league, the umpires discolor the balls before giving them to the pitchers, in order that they may get a better grip.

Mr. Heydler said the National league umpires will be permitted to umpire in the spring exhibition games this year. Last year they were not called to the colors until the regular season opened. The employment of league umpires, however, is a matter of choice. The clubs are not required to have members of the National league staff in the exhibition games in the south and west.

Discuss Baseball Broadcast.

The question of baseball and radio came up when representatives of the National Association of Broadcasters appeared to tell of efforts to set a high standard of ethics for radio reports of baseball games. This is a matter for action by individual clubs.

The club presidents also devoted some time to a discussion of rules, the rule giving a base runner two bases on a ball thrown into a dugout coming in for somewhat extended debate. It may be clarified by specifying that a runner may advance "one and one"—the base he is going to and one more. The present rule permits an advance of two bases from the spot the runner has reached when the wild throw was made.

The following three committee were named by the National leaguers:

Constitution—Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh; Charles A. Stoneham, New York, and William F. Baker, Philadelphia.

Plansky Signs with Buffalo.

Two players were signed by minor league clubs, George Burns, the former Cleveland, New York, and Philadelphia first baseman, casting his lot with the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league, and Tony Plansky, former Georgetown football player and one of the stars of the New York Giants professional football team, signing with Buffalo of the International league. Plansky is an outfielder.

Emil E. Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, said he would grant the request of Joe Dugan that he be given his release. Dugan went to the Braves from the New York Yankees last year.

Wisconsin Varsity Trims Combination Quintet, 39-16

Madison, Wis., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—With Bud Foster back in the lineup for the first time since he was declared ineligible last winter, Wisconsin's varsity basketball team defeated a combination freshmen-reserves-alumni quintet here tonight, 39 to 19. This was the last practice game for the Badgers who open their season Saturday against Monmouth college.

BACK TO OLD CLUBS

It's Settled; Taylor Fights Mastro Dec. 27

BY EDWARD BURNS.

That question of date as to just when Bud Taylor and Earl Mastro are going to fight, has been settled. Larry Adkins, director of public relations at the Chicago Stadium, in an official communique last night broadcast to the world that the date of the bout is Dec. 27.

So it stands Dec. 27, despite announcements that the scrap takes place Dec. 20 and the fact that lights and signs at the Stadium proclaim the event for Dec. 20.

All the publicity hounds in the country who have two legs to stand on and two arms to swing are seeking to crowd in on the publicity earned by The Great Shires. Shires previously was rated as a good vocal battler, but he backed up his talk with action. Which seems to put him one up on the windy brothers who are telling what they CAN do to C. Arthur. The White Sox first baseman now is talking about what he HAS done.

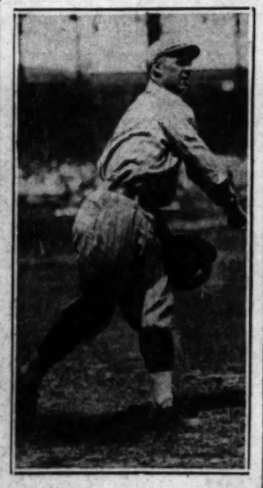
Shires said yesterday that he would oppose a plan to put a steel apron over George Trafton's sub chest at next Monday's White City fight. "I expect to knock out this big loafer with a shot on the chin, but I might change my mind and elect to double him up with a jolt to the bread basket," Shires said. "I never saw a boxer with a steel apron on and I can't see why the innovation should be introduced in behalf of Trafton just because he's been a little careless about rationing his victuals."

An announcement which, strangely, leaves us quite cold, is to the effect that "Joe Devito, the tough Italian," has been appointed to oppose Gus Sonnenberg in the windup of "Doc Krone's mat extravaganza" at the Coliseum on Dec. 19.

Joe Sherman, president emeritus of the Benevolent and Protective Brotherhood of Pugilists, said yesterday that no further action would be taken to restrain assorted athletes from entering the boxing profession.

"We are planning, however, to organize auxiliaries," Mr. Sherman said. "There is to be a baseball players' division, a football players' division, a section for chess players, another for teamsters and tennis players, and so on down.

"There will be dues, of course, and these will be payable to the president emeritus."



Wally Schang, whom the Browns gave the Athletics in yesterday's trading at the American league meeting. He has been away from Philadelphia for twelve years.

BUCKEYES SEEK PIVOT MAN FOR BASKET SQUAD

For a time Coach Olsen was playing Wesley Fesler at center, although regularly he is a guard. Lowell Wrigley, a Lima sophomore, has performed in practice sessions and seems slated to be the regular batoff man. He is but six feet three inches in height.

Another newcomer, who seems certain to start the first game of the season for the Buckeyes, is Mike Kowal, who will take Larkins' place at guard. Larkins still is suffering from injuries received in his final football game of the year with Illinois.

Service Baseball Teams in Canal Zone Open Season

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLON, Panama Canal, Dec. 11.—The Army and Navy Baseball league opened its season this afternoon with the temperature ranging around 89 degrees. Amador, which is the 4th coast artillery, defeated Coronal, 11th engineers, 5 to 4. Fort Davis, the 14th infantry team, vanquished Gatun, 2d field artillery, 3 to 1. Christobal harbor defense team took a 7 to 6 licking from France field flyers in thirteen innings.

RUDOLPH BEATS McCANN, 125-14, IN CUE TOURNEY

Taberski Scores an Easy Win Over Livsey.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Erwin Rudolph of Chicago, playing the most sensational billiards thus far shown in the world's pocket billiard championship tournament in the Recreation building here, scored his second straight triumph by defeating Joseph J. McCann of Jacksonville, Fla., in the first game this afternoon, 125 to 14 in five innings. He had an unfinished run of 54. The game required only 45 minutes.

In the second game of the afternoon Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., the defending titleholder, defeated Spencer Livsey of Los Angeles by 125 to 48 in twenty-four innings. This was a safety battle for sixteen innings but in the last eight innings Taberski accounted for 104 points, clinching the game with an unfinished effort of 25.

Lauri Beats Camp.

In the evening game Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn, winner of the eastern sectional contests, scored his first victory of the tournament by defeating Marcel Camp, the young Detroiter who opened his career in high class society Monday evening by defeating Taberski, the present champion. The score was 125 to 101.

In scoring tonight's victory Lauri made a run of 70 and an unfinished run of 24. Camp, with 35 to his credit, got a cluster of 53, which gave him the lead, only to lose it when, in Lauri's next frame, the easterner scored 24. Camp lost the game by his failure to pocket the 11 ball on an easy chance in his final inning.

Rudolph has flashed the finest form of any tournament player thus far. He has won two games and required only fifteen innings to accumulate the winning points. Tuesday he ran out in ten innings against Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn and in winning he made a run of 63.

Play Defensive Game.

This afternoon McCann never had a chance. He made the break shot, then Rudolph followed with four. He gathered six on his next effort and Rudolph followed with 49, missing on a difficult cut shot. McCann's next attempt added eight to his score, Rudolph made three and played safe. McCann missed, Rudolph added fifteen before playing a deliberate safety, McCann scratched, then Rudolph ran out with 54.

In his last run Rudolph had such perfect control that he made 49 of the 54 points in the two end pockets at the head of the table. Referee Ferguson said it was the greatest exhibition of perfect control that he ever saw in a run of over fifty.

Taberski and Livsey engaged in another defensive struggle which was similar to that between Livsey and Greenleaf. At the end of ten innings Livsey was leading by 8 to 5 and at the end of sixteen innings Taberski had scored only 21 points against Livsey's 11.

In the seventeenth inning Taberski gathered 17 and from that point on played the billiards which carried him to many titles in the past. Standings:

	Won.	Lost.	H.R.
E. Rudolph	2	0	63
R. Greenleaf	1	0	26
H. Natallo	1	0	24
M. Camp	1	1	58
F. Taberski	1	1	29
O. Lauri	1	1	70
S. Livsey	0	2	22
J. McCann	0	2	41

Layton Increases Lead Over Cochrane in Cue Tilt

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Johnny Layton, world's champion three cushion billiard player, increased his lead over Welker Cochrane to 300 to 253 by winning both blocks yesterday in the exhibition match of 600 points.

Layton took afternoon honors, 50 to 31, in 38 innings, with a high run of 8 to Cochrane's 4. In the evening Layton's margin was 50 to 46, in 50 innings, each player having a high string of five.

To Run Stadium

Name Bowman as Manager of Stadium

John F. Bowman, former newspaper advertising man and now holding the title of director of conventions and exhibitions at the Stevens hotel, has been selected as general manager of the Chicago Stadium. Announcement of the choice was made late yesterday following a meeting of the board of directors. The managerial rôle is the one from which Paddy Harmon, father of the stadium idea, recently was ousted.

The selection of Bowman was made on purely business lines. Matchmaker Nate Lewis assumes charge of boxing, and possibly other sport attractions. This will permit Bowman to devote most of his time to the leasing of the huge building for conventions and exhibitions.

Bowman, who will take up his new duties the first of next month, declared after his appointment had been made public by President Sheldon Clark that he had no definite plans in mind.

"I am happy to be associated with such a property and will endeavor to carry out the policies of the directors," he said.

The underlying cause of the Harmon removal was said to be dissatisfaction among the stockholders over the large amount of time the building was idle. Harmon, according to one of the financial backers of the enterprise, concentrated on booking sport events, of which there were not enough to offset the overhead, and neglected the possibilities for booking purely business affairs.

THAT SCOWL OF SHARKEY WOULD MAKE PHIL FAINT

Dempsey Only One to Get Past It.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Dec. 11.—The unfortunate outcome of the recent meeting between Otto Von Porat and Fainting Phil Scott leaves the Madison Square Garden corporation with a one-man prize fight on its hands as the main attraction of a major production in Miami at the height of the winter drinking season in the congressional district of the Hon. Ruth Bryan Owen [Dry].

The conclusions drawn from the incident of Monday evening in the New York Garden are entirely negative, to wit; that neither Von Porat nor Fainting Phil has enough professional dignity to qualify as the opponent for Jack Sharkey, even in Florida where the customers demand very little of their prizefighters. They demand so little that even when Mr. Sharkey and Willie Stribling, the fearsome barracuda of the dry tanks were whirling around the ring at Miami Beach last winter, locked in close embrace and mutually unwilling to irritate one another, there were no raspberries for the athletes.

Customers Mildly Interested.

In fact, on that occasion, the only discontent among the crowd was to be noticed along the press row where the experts who have no sense of humor, were viewing the spectacle critically and technically and finding it very inferior. But experts are not cash customers and all impresarios recognize that the people who are most difficult to please are those who come in on complimentary tickets.

The cash patrons at the contest between the Barracuda and the sinister Lithuanian from Boston seemed only mildly interested in the prize fight and the event only was an occasion for whiling away the shank of the evening, before settling down to the serious business of chemin de fer. The price of admission, $50 for ringside seats, was unimportant in the Palm Beach and Miami rate of exchange and the cash customers considered that they had not been ill-treated or swindled in any way.

Von Porat Leads With Chin.

But tolerant as these customers are, I do not believe Mr. Frank Bruen, the men who will produce the second spectacle of the Garden corporation in Miami this winter, would care to impose on them to the extent of selecting either Von Porat or Fainting Phil as Sharkey's opponent this year. Von Porat is a much more daring fighter than Philip and there is no doubt that he would make aggressive motions at Sharkey but the trouble with him is that he has a pronounced tendency to make leading motions with his chin. If he should do this in a bout with Sharkey and Mr. Sharkey were feeling as irritable as he was on the evening of his recent contest with Thomas Loughran, the sinister Lithuanian would reach out, flick him on his chin and render him insensible before the end of round one.

On the other hand, if Fighting Phil should be picked to meet Sharkey, there might be no blows struck at all. Philip seems to be unusually high strung and sensitive and his expression, as he sat in his corner the instant before the first bell facing Von Porat the other evening, was such that some of the occupants of ringside seats thought he might go into his faint without leaving his chair. There was nothing particularly menacing about Von Porat's expression as he eyed Fainting Phil but it must be remembered that Mr. Sharkey is the master of the most menacing sneer or leer seen in the ring since the time of John L. Sullivan.

Sneer Failed on Dempsey.

He has intimidated many opponents by bending a sinister gaze upon them from the opposite corner of a 24 foot ring and the only time this evil expression completely failed of its purpose was the night he tried to subdue

Player of Greatest Value.

Dear Sir: Rus Bergherm is in a class by himself as most valuable to his team. It was his first year as a regular, although why he sat on the bench two years all who saw him play this year now wonder. In the Wisconsin game, at that time all important to Northwestern and Wisconsin, even while Bruder still was in the game, Rus handled the ball from about midfield, and with a series of plunges, plus a pretty pass from him, the entire distance to the goal line was made by Bergherm virtually unassisted in ball carrying.

He perhaps reached his greatest heights against Minnesota, mixing in one pass for a touchdown, and making a beautiful pass for the second touchdown. That the Purple lost was no reflection on him. In all Northwestern victories Bergherm was the keystone of attack. No other back was effective in backing up the line. He was punting in addition. Rus ably filled the shoes of Bruder, mentioned as probable All-American, after the latter's injury. Without him Northwestern would have fared poorly. Ses Jane.

Honey Russell Stops Nat Holman.

Referee—Shanot.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Gil Ely's field goal from the corner of the court won the decision for the Chicago Bruins over the Syracuse All-Americans, 26 to 23, last night at the Chicago Stadium. The shot broke a tie that had existed for four of the five minutes of the overtime period and sent the Bruins into a successful stalling game. The final Bruin point was tossed from the penalty line by Ray Kennedy on Kearns' foul, committed as the game ended.

HONEY RUSSELL.

The victory had the 4,500 cheering during the closing minutes and was pleasing to the majority, for it demonstrated that Honey Russell knows all that's necessary to stop Nat Holman. Holman, rightly rated as one of the greatest of pro players, was unable to break clear all night. Only one of his half dozen long shots found the loop.

Holman Holds, Pushes.

But Holman staged his pushing and holding acts just as formerly, for which he accumulated some eight personal fouls. Inasmuch as five are supposed to cause removal from the game, it was only the generosity of the referee that kept Nat among the active. As it was, he finally left at the start of the overtime with six fouls to his credit.

There was a great to-do about the conclusion of the regular period. Allen followed up a long toss and scored from underneath the basket to break the 23-23 deadlock as the timer's whistle sounded. It was an exceedingly weak toot, and since the crowd was whooping it up, there was none to say whether the field goal was made before or after the time expired. The referee asked the timers, the players argued and the crowd waited.

Then it was decided to play the overtime and Holman, who had acquired his final two personal fouls in the heated closing minutes, was asked to be seated, an unknown by the name of Page taking his place.

Syracuse Rally Ties It.

For four minutes the teams passed cautiously, unable to break each other's defense and fearing to risk long shots. Then Ely dribbled toward the corner, tossed the ball back over his head and it slipped through the hoop.

The real action came in the closing minutes of the second half when Syracuse, after once being nine points in arrears, climbed steadily to tie the score at 21 all. Chicago had led, 15 to 10, at the intermission and it appeared to be just another ball game. While Kearns, Jerry Sullivan and Holman were pegging the ball around in line drives, it didn't produce many points. Their other mates couldn't give much assistance.

Then the rally began. Syracuse pulled up to within two points at 19 to 17. After Russell and Kellett added free throws for Chicago, Holman secured his only field goal and Red Kearns added another long toss. That evened the game at 21 each.

Sullivan Scoring Star.

Both sides forgot defensive play seeking the winning basket. Jerry Sullivan broke loose and scored on a short shot to give Syracuse a 23 to 21 lead. On the succeeding tipoff at center, Russell whipped the ball to Big Kellett who had eluded Allen and Al again tied the score.

Sullivan, once with the Bruins, was the scoring star for Syracuse with four field goals and one free throw. Russell, in addition to halting Holman's activities, got six of Chicago's points.

In the preliminaries Christ Church Crescents defeated May and Malone, 16 to 10, and the Taylor Trunks overwhelmed the West End Mermaids, 31 to 5.

Four other men, however, are likewise under consideration, and no definite announcement can be made as yet, Dr. Knapp said.

HAWKS TO PIT SPEED AGAINST MAROON BRAWN

Clash Tonight in Finale at the Coliseum.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Montreal's mauling Maroons, famed as the biggest and toughest hockey team in the National league, will give the Chicago Blackhawks their last competition in the Coliseum tonight. The next game, against Pittsburgh Sunday, the Hawks will play in their new home at the Stadium.

In their farewell to their home ice the last four seasons, the Hawks are playing a team which has on its roster a string of names famous in hockey. Hooley Smith, Nels Stewart, Babe Seibert, Red Dutton, Duncan Monro, Dave Trottier, and Jimmy Ward are some of the stars of hockey on the Maroons' pay roll.

It will be the first time the teams have met this year, with the Hawks one of the lightest and fastest teams in the league, against the Maroons, who are unquestionably the heaviest and most powerful. In all probability the Hawks will be forced to stand up under a terrific battering and try to skate around their heavier opponents, for the Maroons play a smashing type of game that carries the puck to the net by battering power.

Abel Likely to Play.

Doubtless the hefty Taffy Abel will return to the Hawks' defense line for the first time since his arm became infected, as his beef will be needed to withstand the Maroons' charges. The Hawks, after a four day rest since defeating the Americans last Sunday, will have their full strength. The game almost is certain to be another setout.

Tonight's three games are more or less a test for the leaders in the league, for the six teams most likely to get into the Stanley cup playoffs next March play against each other. The four weaker teams are idle. Incidentally, the three leading Canadian division teams match shots with the three leaders in the American division.

Boston Meets Ottawa.

Boston, in the American division, and Ottawa, in the Canadian, both of whom have led their classes since the opening of the season, meet in Ottawa. Les Canadiens, which tied Ottawa by a victory over Detroit Tuesday night, plays the New York Rangers, who are just half a game behind Chicago.

So closely are the teams bunched that, without going into the details, any of the three Canadian teams can take first place in their division, while the Rangers can pass the Hawks for second place in the American. Only Boston is sure of staying on top, but the Hawks may cut the Bruins' lead to a single game.

CHIEFS TO MEET HERE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 11.—Governors of the National Hockey league will hold their meeting in Chicago next Monday instead of Toronto in order to attend the opening of hockey in the Chicago Stadium. There is a strong possibility the directors will discuss the changes in the rules which has made for more scoring.

Managers of some clubs, chiefly those which have been losing consistently, are known to object to the changes, particularly such strongly defensive clubs as the New York Americans.—Cooper Smeaton, chief referee of the league will attend the meeting along with President Frank Calder.

Lee Dandurand of Les Canadiens has made suggestions for modification of the new rules to President Calder with the suggestion he send them to all directors before the meeting. It is doubtful if Dandurand will go to Chicago, however, because of illness.

Maroons Meet Lake Forest in Basket Opener

Coach Nels Norgren will try out his current Maroon basketball team Saturday night with Lake Forest as the opposition. The new Maroon team gives indication of more punch on offense than last year, and promises to be as tight a defensive outfit as Chicago teams have been traditionally.

The starting lineup for the game includes: Capt. Harry Changnon and Sidney Yates, forwards; Johnathan Bunge, center; Marshall Fish and Joe Temple, guards. Changnon's work under the basket has been exceptionally good in practice. His arm seems improved. Yates is a consistent shooter from long range and a clever floor man.

Bunge promises to be a big help at center, where his 6 feet 4 inches will give the Maroons a chance on the tipoff. Temple is one of the best guards the Maroons have had in years. He was a star at Oak Park. Fish received considerable experience at guard last season and is a first rate floor guard.

Loyola Trims Duquesne in 24th Cage Win

Loyola university's basketball team added the 24th straight victory to its three season chain last night by swamping Duquesne of Pittsburgh, 29 to 13.

The victors were led offensively by their two sophomores, Bob Schuman and Dick Butzen, who scored nine points each. Duquesne was unable to score except by long shots. The score at the half was 12 to 3 in favor of Loyola.

Read the 4 features of THE NEW DUNHILL BLADE

1—2½ Times Thicker
The vital thickness of the new Dunhill Blade is 2½ times that of the usual wafer blade. This extra thickness has enabled us to give the blade-edge finer hardening and tempering.

2—Hollow-Ground Edges
The extra thickness also makes possible genuine hollow-ground edges. As every man knows, hollow-grinding was the secret of the sharpness of the old-fashioned straight-edged razor.

3—Concaved Center

4—Swede-a-Chrome Steel
A newly invented steel, used exclusively by the Dunhill Blade. It was the invention of Swede-a-Chrome Steel that made possible the radically different principles of the new Dunhill Blade.

IOWA'S SLEUTHS SHADOW ILLINOIS STAR GRIDMEN

And Here's the Dope They May or May Not Find.

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—There was considerable excitement on the Illinois campus this afternoon when reports went out that certain persons from Iowa, wearing gum shoes and false whiskers, were on the scene endeavoring to discover dirty work at the cross roads on how some of the Illini's high powered athletes manage to finish out the season without going hungry or wearing patches on their pants.

Mike Tobin, university oracle, was reported particularly perturbed. "Didn't the Carnegie report clear us?" asked Mike. "It's an outrage for those Iowa sleuths to come investigating our athletes. Of course, we're 'holier than thou,' and, between us, darned glad of it."

Mr. Tobin thereupon broke an impressive record, refusing for the first time in the last quarter of a century to be interviewed. But from various other sources came revelations of the hard labor by which the honest athletes of Illinois earn their daily bread. Iowa scouts were told to make the most of it.

How They Do It.

Fritz Humbert of Geneso, full back honor student, student colonel and president of a young peoples religious society pays his way through school entirely. Although a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity he waits tables at the Sigma Pi house and earns his room rent and spending money by tending fire and taking care of the yard.

Walter "Bud" Jolley, Chicago, end, who was a student at the University of Chicago before transferring to Illinois has been self-supporting for several years. His present occupation is selling clothes for a campus clothing house.

Stanley Bodman, Bement, tackle, washes dishes at a sorority house for his board and cleans up a doctor's office for his room rent. Judson Timm, Twin Falls, Idaho, half back, sells high school class jewelry, trophies and medals for a local concern and works for his room in a local home.

Gaga Mills, Elgin, football and basketball star and Herbie Hill, basketball sub have built up quite a business in furnishing punch for fraternity, sorority and class affairs.

They compete successfully against campus confectioneries for this business.

Russ Crane, all American tackle in 1927, Chicago, is in similar business handling a party line of sweets and delicacies for Paul Prehn's confectionery. He also spends an hour or two aday in a campus clothing store telling the boys what they should wear to the formals and what is new in panamas.

Hire Is Corps of Janitors.

Leroy Wietz, Thornton, varsity guard, is a hard working boy. He wrestles, too. In the winter while at the Tau Nu Upsilon house he washes dishes for his meals and picks up additional coin as janitor for the house. Olaf Robinson, full back, of Waverly, Golden Gloves team member, puts in considerable time as a janitor in one of the agriculture buildings. His work is done between 7 and 9 in the evenings and before 8 in the mornings. The superintendent of the buildings says he doesn't care who works for him as long as they do the work. "I probably hire one athlete out of fifty to do our work," he says. "They usually don't have the time."

Lou Gordon, tackle extraordinary, Chicago, is a regularly enrolled member of the Champaign fire department. Frosty Peters moved out of the fireos this year. Gordon answers night calls [if any] and occupies a bunk alongside the other firemen. He has borrowed a small amount of money from a university loan fund administered by Dean T. A. Clark and has paid part of it back. Of the many students who make use of the several loan funds loaned by wealthy alumni but few are athletes.

Frosty Peters, Billings, Mont., quarter back, also has a small loan there. He works in a pool hall at night and sometimes washes dishes for his meals. Gordon, too, has been employed at fraternity houses in the capacity of dishwasher.

Work, Work, Work.

Ernie Useman, Taylorville, quarter back has a hospital job. Frankie Walker, Urbana, half back, lives at home. Ed Kawal, Chicago, center and Art Schultz, full back get some help from home but wash dishes for their meals. Henry Schumacher, Urbana, center, lives at home and works in a grocery store after school, on Saturdays during the off season and in the summer labors at the stadium whenever extra help is needed.

Big Ben Crackel, the stadium custodian will hire any able bodied needy young man if he can do the work during the summer. He has no students on his staff during the school year. Dale Roush, guard, Blackwell, Okla., waits table for his board.

Of the regular football players quite a few do no work at all on the side, being satisfied with their monthly envelopes from home. Including in this group are Lloyd Burdick, Assumption, tackle; Pete Yanuskus, Kewanee, half back; Jim Lewis, center, Waukegan; Otto Hillis, tackle, Chicago; Clark Root, Urbana; Charles Hall, Normal; Ernie Chatton, Ashland, Ky., quarter back; Art Wolgast, end, Aurora; J. B. Mallin, end, Glen Ellyn, and Henry Steinman, end, Melvin.

One Has Wealthy Patron.

Few basketball players are very busy with work pursuits while gaining their education. The activities of Mills, Hill, and Kawal have been related. Elbert Kamp, Mount Carmel, forward, is commissary at the Phi Delta Theta house, a position which pays room and board. He was elected to this post by his fraternity brothers. Robert Kamp, his cousin, picks up odd jobs wherever he can find them, such as checking privileges and selling Christmas cards.

Don Munch, a reserve football player who is trying for the basketball team, is being sent through school by a wealthy Joliet citizen who demands monthly reports on the scholastic work of his protégé.

Farmers Hold Key to Future of Our Quail

BY BOB BECKER.

That the future of Illinois' quail population rests with the farmers and not on the number of birds state owned quail farms produce and distribute is a situation that may be sized up during just one day in the Bob White country near Mattoon.

While hunting near this city a few days ago we saw mile after mile of cultivated fields fairly close to city limits. Virtually every field was as clean as a floor. Not a sumac bush, raspberry thicket or sizable weeds had been left along the fences or in the corners of fields. Osage orange hedges also have been cut down.

Hardly a piece of cover is left for furred game or birds. As a result, there are no Bob Whites in this area. Whereas, a few years ago it was possible to find many coveys within a short distance of the city limits, today you are obliged to travel long distances, first on hard roads and then back into the less settled country on dirt roads to find quail hunting.

We rode from this too clean, intensively cultivated farming country into rolling, forested sections and found plenty of quail and song birds. There were small creeks winding through the bottom lands and along these streams were many acres of weed jungles, willow thickets, sumac, and other shrubs mixed in with small cornfields.

On the hills stood oak timber. Here was plenty of cover, protection against storms and lots of natural wild food. Quail are flourishing in these locations and hundreds of cardinals, sparrows, chicadees, goldfinches, doves, woodpeckers, jays, and other birds will stay in these ideal winter resorts during the next few months.

Iowa Yields to Big Ten; Declares 22 Ineligible

sion was based in good faith on the principle that it was not fair or just to the individual athlete to penalize him for the innocent participation in an irregularity of a past athletic administration. Recognizing the superior authority of the conference to reverse the eligibility findings of any member institution the board in control of athletics at Iowa accepts the decision of the conference and declares the athletes in question ineligible.

Coaches' Jobs Safe.

"The board will request the conference to send a committee to Iowa City within the near future to review the situation for the purpose of ascertaining whether essential justice due these men may not warrant their reinstatement.

"Regarding questions which were raised at the conference meeting concerning the personnel of the staff and of the administrative organizations at the University of Iowa, the board in control of athletics cannot recognize the right of the intercollegiate conference nor of any other body except the regularly constituted authorities of the state of Iowa to interfere with such matters of sovereign jurisdiction."

What Caused Change.

Athletic Director Lauer and Prof. Williams both seemed completely surprised by the athletic board's acquiescence to the Big Ten. Lauer and Williams had fought stanchly in Chicago against doing the very thing the athletic rulers did tonight.

They had maintained that Iowa's loan fund for athletes was not flaunting the conference code and that Iowa would not penalize athletes who had participated innocently in the loans.

No reasons for the complete change of front were given by the members of the athletic board. It was understood here that alumni pressure was principally responsible.

President Walter Jessup did not attend the meeting of the athletic board. Neither did he make a statement after the news of the board's decision had been telephoned him.

Those Who Made Decision.

Those who sat in on the board meeting included representatives of both the alumni and faculty. They were:

Professors R. A. Fenton, W. L. Beye, Louis Pelzer, R. A. Kuever, H. C. Horack, W. H. Bates, Edward H. Lauer, C. C. Williams, F. G. Higbee, and W. L. Hall, member of the board of trustees from Mason City. Rush Butler, president of the Chicago alumni chapter, had been invited to the meeting but did not attend.

Despite Iowa's surrender to the Big Ten faculty, its athletic teams cannot participate with other conference teams this spring, at least. The earliest hearing that the Big Ten can give the Iowas will be at the annual spring meeting of the Big Ten leaders.

Inasmuch as Iowa was neither suspended or fired from the conference, its delegates will sit in on that spring meeting.

PURPLE CAGERS AND SWIMMERS GO INTO ACTION

Northwestern faces a busy weekend in sports, the swimming team taking on Michigan State tomorrow night in Evanston and the basketball team opposing the strong Pittsburgh five Saturday night at Patten gym.

Coach Tom Robinson will open the Purple swimming season with practically the same team that annexed the national intercollegiate title last spring. Wally Colbath, diver, and Omar Miller, back stroke, are the only two lettermen lost. The eight lettermen returning hold seven of the eight national intercollegiate records.

Capt. Al Schwartz, the speediest of the Purple splashers, holds all of the college free style records. Dick Hinch, back stroke, and Don Petersen, breast stroke, are the other record holders.

The Wildcat cagers have a hard fight on their hands when they take on the invading Pittsburgh five for the third successive year. Two years ago the Panthers upset the Purple, and last year Coach Lonborg's boys turned the tables. The visitors have a veteran five led by Capt. Hyatt, leading scorer in the country last year.

Coach Lonborg likely will start the same lineup that successfully upset Cornell last Monday. The starters included Bergherm and Riel, forwards, Walter, center, and Mundy and McCarnes, guards.

M'LARNIN FIGHT WITH GOLDSTEIN PROMISES ACTION

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The ten round bout between Jimmy McLarnin, the Belfast belter, and Ruby Goldstein, the gem of the Ghetto, Friday night at Madison Square Garden, promises to be a welterweight classic.

The lads are the sweetest punchers in their weight division. Who can hit the hardest is open to dispute and should be definitely settled. The record of each principal is studded with knockouts. Careful analysis will reveal that McLarnin has taken the measure of more prominent chins than Goldstein.

Amateur Boxing

That Sharkey Scowl Would Make Phil Ill

Realizing that Mr. Dempsey was an opponent of unusually dangerous character Mr. Sharkey looked a special kind of sneer or leer at him for about five minutes before the bout was to begin. He projected his lower jaw and sucked in his upper lip, showing his lower teeth until it seemed that he was on the point of swallowing his own face and contracted his eyebrows until they almost met his chin, pointing this expression square at Mr. Dempsey in complete disregard for all the fluttering activity going on about him in his corner. But Mr. Dempsey seemed to miss the point of all this for he turned to Mr. Will Duffy, his chief second, and said, "This guy must be a little bit off his nut. All he does is sit there and make faces at you."

Schmeling Looms as Foe.

But to a sensitive character such as Fainting Phil, this unfriendly expression of Sharkey's might be very disturbing and it would not be at all surprising to see him stand up on his stool at the tap of the first gong, place the tips of his gloves together like Aileen Riggin on a diving stand, and take off into space, knocked out by a dirty look.

The only other heavyweight who would make a plausible match for Mr. Sharkey at the present stage of his professional advancement is Max Schmeling who happens to be politically ineligible to fight for the Garden corporation, in New York, Florida or in the corporation's dominions beyond the seas, by order of the New York prize fight commissioners. Moreover, Herr Schmeling has promised to fight somebody in Atlantic City for a rival corporation about the same time and even at this hour there is a spirited competition between the two corporations for the favor and attendance of the sport writers.

Very pleasant inducements are being offered by both concerns on the theory that the corporation with the more sport writers on hand will draw the more customers. It is a difficult choice for a sport writer, unless one happens to be upholding the hand of the president with respect to law observance by order of one's physician, one's boss or for other reasons, if there are any other reasons.

Mr. Bruen of the Garden corporation must realize that the Florida customers insist above all else upon being entertained for, at least, two hours in return for their $50. They have no interest in the technical fineness of a prize fight and pay little heed to the activity in the ring but a knockout or a dive in the first round of the main event terminating the entertainment thirty minutes ahead of time, would throw their social schedule for the evening into confusion and Mr. Bruen would be blamed.

It might be better to let Mr. Sharkey do thirty minutes of shadow boxing. This would be no worse than his thirty minutes with the dry tank Barracuda and certainly much better than a maximum of 30 seconds of fighting with Von Porat or glaring at Phil Scott.

THIS BLOW LOOKS FOUL, TOO

PHELAN TO SEND POWERFUL TEAM INTO SOUTHWEST

17 Stars Accept His Invitation.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—A well balanced representative team with versatility and power on offense and a sturdy defense will be available for Jimmy Phelan, Purdue coach, when the Boilermaker coach starts the trek to Dallas, Tex., for the mid-west-southwest Dixie classic New Year's day for the benefit of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. Phelan already has received acceptances from seventeen midwestern grid stars to become members of the squad, and three more to make up the squad of twenty are expected.

Acceptances have been received from Welch and Woerner, Purdue; Colrick, Gebert, and Nash, Notre Dame; Wolgast and Walker, Illinois; Westra and Meyers, Iowa; Pulkrabek and Pharmer, Minnesota; Gembis and Steinke, Michigan; Calderwood, Northwestern; Young and Lardner, Detroit, and H. Rebholz, Wisconsin.

"We will have a good representative eleven," Phelan said today, "good on both offense and defense. Our kicking strength should be outstanding, with Westra, who is able to kick off over the goal line consistantly; Gembis, an accurate field goal man, and Welch and Pharmer to handle the punting. Woerner, Colrick, and Wolgast are outstanding pass receivers as ends and their work on defense is attested to by the records of Purdue, Notre Dame, and Illinois on the gridiron this fall.

"Welch, Pharmer, Gebert, and Walker are all good forward passers, while Rebholz and Welch are great both as blockers and defensive players. Our defensive possibilities should speak for themselves with the players who make up the squad. With the backs I should be able to develop a versatile offensive that will have both speed and power."

PARKS DECLINES.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Harold Rebholz, Portage, Wis., full back on the Wisconsin eleven for the last three years, today accepted a bid from Coach Jimmy Phelan of Purdue to join the midwest all-star squad in its game at Dallas, Tex., New Year's day. Capt. Johnny Parks declined the honor, as participation in the game would render him ineligible for the Badger crew.

GRIGSBY-GRUNOW IS FEATURE OF CHICAGO TRADING

President Sees No Radical Change in 1930.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Market leaders made moderate advances on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Grigsby-Grunow was particularly active and the stock closed two points higher at 23¾ after selling over 24 in earlier trading.

B. J. Grigsby, president of the company, in a statement issued yesterday said that the outlook for 1930 in the radio manufacturing industry is good for the stronger organizations.

1930 Models Similar.

"While it is possible that sales of radio sets as a whole might decrease as much as twenty per cent in 1930, such a decline will be confined largely to the more expensive sets," he declared. Mr. Grigsby sees no radical changes in prospect and stated that he believed that 1930 models will be along the same lines as this year's sets, with the exception of minor improvements made possible by more scientific manufacturing methods.

Manufacturers equipped to meet the present situation face a healthy future, and any necessary readjustment will be accomplished rapidly, Mr. Grigsby believes.

Among the other radio stocks Wextark and Steinite were moderately active. Wextark advanced 2½ points. Simon Wexler, president, stated that sales of the Wextark company for November totaled $1,706,032, against $1,358,517 in the same month of 1928. Holiday trade prospects are the best in the company's history, he said.

Steinite reports net income for October amounted to $122,751, equal to 61 cents a share on the 200,000 shares outstanding.

J. R. Thompson Rises.

John R. Thompson company was up over three points on small sales following the announcement that net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $938,816, compared with $894,816 in the same period last year. Nine months' income is $3.27 on the 285,974 common shares outstanding, as compared with $3.73 on the 240,000 shares outstanding last year.

A statement by Vice President D. P. Sommer of the Keystone Steel and Wire company to the effect that earnings for the fiscal year are running about the same as last year was followed by an advance of over a point in the stock of the company.

Completion of the merger of the Niagara Gypsum company with the United States Gypsum company was announced yesterday. The stock of the latter company was unchanged yesterday at 47.

Independent Pneumatic Tool, which closed 5 points higher at 55, voted an extra dividend of $1 in addition to the regular quarterly payments of the same amount.

Auburn Jumps 15 Points.

Among the automotive stocks gains were registered by Auburn, which jumped 15 points; Allied Products, up 3½; Borg-Warner, and Houdaille-Hershey B. Each of the latter issues moved up one. Bendix was a fraction lower.

Burnham was the feature of the trading corporation stocks, finishing 4 points higher at 30. Continental Chicago was again unusually active, but the stock closed fractionally lower. Corporation Securities was off slightly, and Northwest Bancorporation fell 2½.

Based on orders on hand for delivery this year, Associated Apparel Industries estimates earnings for the calendar year will approximate $1,455,000, against $913,388 in 1928.

BETTER FEELING IS APPARENT IN STEEL AND AUTOS

New Year to Witness Pickup, Belief.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Things are looking up a bit in both the steel and the automobile industries. There is a general feeling that production in both industries is at ebb tide and, while not much improvement is expected this month, the new year will witness a pickup. This is the testimony of the midweek steel trade reviews.

"Sentiment in the iron and steel industry has improved," the Iron Age says. "December will be a poor month both in shipments and production, but this fact is not causing concern, since most consumers are reducing their stocks to a minimum preparatory to taking inventory and the price situation holds no incentive for forward buying.

"What has impressed the trade is the reassuring manner in which business has reacted to the stock market crash. Apprehension regarding possibilities has given way to manifest satisfaction with what has actually occurred in recent weeks.

"Railroad orders, shipbuilding contracts, steel fabricating work and specifications from farm equipment makers have been in consistently good volume, apparently unaffected by Wall street deflation. Nowhere are there signs of a general paralysis of trade such as developed after other stock market panics.

Motor Demand Improves.

"Not the least among encouraging factors is a betterment in demand for automobile steel. Motor car builders have placed a fair amount of business in new orders, specifications against contracts and releases of suspended shipments, and two of the larger manufacturers have put out inquiries for their first quarter requirements in steel bars.

"Although it will probably be some time after the first of the year before the motor car industry gets back to fair operations, production of new models in the low priced class is slowly increasing. With returning confidence, the automobile trade is surveying prospects for 1930, and, while estimates of the year's output are still conservative, they range from 4,000,000 to 4,500,000 vehicles."

"There are indications that iron and steel operating rates will continue substantially as at present until Christmas," the Iron Trade says. "The holiday shutdown this year probably will be more complete than usual. Steelmaking operations at Chicago and Pittsburgh are at 65 per cent, Youngstown independents are under 50 per cent, and the United States Steel corporation's plants are at 65 per cent."

Prices for heavy melting scrap were advanced 25 to 50 cents a ton at Chicago, and prices at Pittsburgh show firmness. Another point of cheer is the fact that sales of machine tools are holding up unusually well, with this week showing gains over the two preceding weeks.

Announces Price Cuts.

Price reductions ranging from $100 to $530 on every major item of machinery for farm, road building, logging, and construction were announced yesterday by the Caterpillar Tractor company. This California concern has established branch factories at Peoria, Ill., and Minneapolis, Minn.

Within the next 90 days an additional 2,000 or 3,000 workers will be taken on at the Peoria plant, bringing the total number to 6,000 or 7,000.

The trend of the foreign trade of the United States was reversed in October, compared with a year before, according to data given out by the commerce department. Exports totaled $528,412,108, which was a decline of $21,602,012 from October, 1928. On the other hand, imports totaling $391,225,031 showed an increase of $35,667,232. Our favorable balance was $137,187,077, compared with $194,656,321.

Machine Power Enables U. S. to Dominate World's Work

BY SCRUTATOR.

Half of the world's work is done in the United States, according to Prof. Thomas T. Read, authority on mining and metallurgy, who has recently completed a study of productivity in fifteen countries.

His research has demonstrated to his satisfaction that the next fourteen countries, measured together by the work they accomplish, just about equal America. He has rated the various nationalities on what they can do, man for man, and has come to the conclusion that if the working Chinaman, using little more than the power he can derive from the food he eats, is taken as equal to one, the other nationals will rank as follows from the work standpoint:

British India; 1½; Russia, 2½; Italy, 2¾; Japan, 3½; Poland, 6; Holland, 7; France, 8¼; Australia, 8½; Czecho-Slovakia, 9½; Germany, 12; Belgium, 16; Great Britain, 18; Canada, 20, and the United States, 30.

Cites Average Ability.

To make it a little more plain, the average working American in this batch of statistics does as much work as twelve Russians, as two Belgians, as more than three Frenchmen. Likewise, it takes five Britishers to do as much as three Americans and three Canadians to equal two Americans.

The answer, of course, is mechanical power. Coal is used more extensively in the United States than anywhere else; no other country has made use, in an extensive manner, of petroleum as a source of mechanical energy. And despite all the critics of the machine age, this application of power has given the American worker as a reward the ability to enjoy more things and more services than any other mass of people.

A large part of the human race has never risen above the cave man's standard of living. The prehistoric ancestor had no economic wants beyond food, clothing to protect him from the cold and a shelter of some sort. He was in constant danger of starvation. The Chinese still are and the Indians would be if Britain did not manage them. It is probable that even Europeans prior to the French revolution were often in a state of semi-starvation.

New Problem Arises.

The absolute necessities of life, it is confidently asserted, can be produced in the United States by only 15 per cent of the workers. The other 85 per cent are thus released for other work. Because this is true, the old fears, the homely dread of want for whole populations, has been done away with. In its place, however, has come a new problem.

Where the leadership of the past was desperately intent on getting populations to produce enough to meet demands that existed, American leadership of this day is engaged in trying to get people to consume more. There is no use in having a population produce thirty times as much as like number of Asiatics will unless it likewise consumes thirty times as much.

A balance must be struck. It is perhaps significant that there has been no appeal from the White House for thrift; instead the 1929 plea has been for business men to continue to pay wages in order that consumption may be kept normal, and for those who can to inaugurate permanent improvements that will enable hundreds of thousands of workers to remain consumers.

Tells Real Need.

There is a contention that the productive capacity in the United States has outrun demand; that fewer workers on the farms and in manufacturing—there has been a decrease both absolutely and relatively in the last decade—means the forcing of labor into fields in which it can offer nothing that is wanted very much by consumers.

Most of the suggested remedies, like the cutting down of the hours of labor, infer that the limit of human wants has been reached so far as practical application is concerned.

What really is needed, however, is the organization of other occupations on a basis of efficiency, as transportation and manufacturing have been organized.

U. S. COTTON GROWERS TO GET $30,000,000 MARKETING AGENCY

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Approval for establishment of the largest cooperative marketing organization in the world was received today by the federal farm board from 150 representatives of cotton cooperatives and leaders of the cotton business.

The agency—strictly a marketing bureau—will be organized by the government, backed by the government, and its policies directed by the government's farm board.

The plan was agreed upon today at a cotton congress here. Alexander Legge, chairman of the board, said the American Cotton Growers' exchange will be reorganized and incorporated by the government for $30,000,000, which is $10,000,000 more than was granted for organization of a grain marketing agency.

Stock in the association will be sold to cotton growers and the law will restrict sale of the stock to farmers only. There are more than 2,000,000 cotton growers in America, and the board hopes to organize and enlist all in the agency.

Government control of the organization will be indirect, as the farm board is not allowed to hold stock in such corporations. The various state exchanges will give notes to the board for loan of money needed, and stock will be issued for sale to growers.

Westinghouse, Others Help Swell List of Dividends

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Headed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, a number of companies today announced extra or increased dividends, swelling by many millions of dollars the already large volume of year-end corporation disbursements.

Directors of the Westinghouse company, the stock of which was expected in some circles to be split up, announced that the annual dividend rate on both the preferred and common stocks would be increased from $4 to $5.

Quarterly payments of $1.25 each were declared. Earnings for the current year, the chairman reported, would approximate $10 a share, an increase of between $1 and $2 over last year's per share earnings.

Directors of the Otis Elevator company have called a special stockholders' meeting for Feb. 11 to act on a proposal to increase the capital stock from 500,000 to 2,500,000 shares and to split up the present issue on a 4 for 1 basis. The split-up, if approved, calls for 2,000,000 shares, a balance of 500,000 being reserved for future use. The new stock will be no par.

Cash Register Payments.

Extra dividends of $1 each were declared on the A and B stocks of the National Cash Register company in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 75 cents a share on the A stock and the regular $3 annual payment on the B stock. Extra dividends of the same amount were paid last January.

Other companies announcing extra dividends and the amounts included the following: Safety Car Heating and Lighting company, $2; Fifth Avenue Bus Line, 32 cents; L. S. Starrett company, 25 cents, and the Marlin-Rockwell corporation, 75 cents. The last named company also declared a special dividend of $1.50.

Directors of the Prudential company, Maryland investment trust, declared an extra dividend of 15¾ cents a share on the preferred stock.

Directors of the McCall corporation declared a quarterly dividend of 62½ cents, placing the stock on a $2.50 annual basis. Last month the stock, which paid $4 annually, was split, 2 for 1.

Initial Quarterly.

An initial quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share was declared on the common stock of the Fairfax Airport, Inc., of Kansas City. A large part of the income of this company is derived from the sale of natural gas, which flows from fourteen wells on its property.

Fifth Avenue Bus securities declared an extra of 32 cents a share on its no par stock. Baltimore Ero Manufacturing company declared an initial of 40 cents a share on its no par stock. International Combustion Engineering corporation omitted the $1.75 a share quarterly due on the preferred stock at this time. Niagara Falls Power company declared a regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents as against 65 cents previously paid quarterly.

Directors of Devoe & Raynolds declared the regular quarterly payment on the common and preferred stocks but omitted the usual extras of 15 cents on each class.

The Schulte-United 5 Cent to $1 Stores, Inc., announced it would defer its 7 per cent quarterly dividend, due Jan. 1, on preferred stock. The directors announced action was taken "to still further strengthen the company's cash position."

Federal Reserve Buying Heavily in Bankers' Bills

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Dealers in bankers' acceptances report a heavy buying of bills for the account of the federal reserve banks in the last few days. These purchases increase the amount of credit available and tend to offset the heavy withdrawals of funds in connection with holiday and year-end demands.

House Bill Would Make Bank Tax Universal

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A bill to levy the same tax on national bank stocks as now imposed on stocks of state and private banking institutions was introduced today by Representative Goodwin [Rep., Minn.].

MORE CHICAGO BANKS DECLARE XMAS DIVIDENDS

More Chicago banks announced Christmas dividends yesterday. The National Bank of the Republic declared an extra dividend of 1 per cent, the First National Bank of Englewood 10 per cent, the Drovers National bank 2 per cent, the Drovers Trust and Savings bank 8 per cent, and the Southwest Trust and Savings bank 2 per cent. The Chicago Title and Trust company declared an extra dividend of $3 and voted to place $1,000,000 in surplus account, bringing this item to $16,000,000.

New York, Dec. 11.—Professional bear traders launched a vicious attack on the stock market in the late dealings today and succeeded in driving most of the recognized leaders to sharply lower price levels.

United States Steel was hammered down to 177¼, a net loss of 4¼ points; American Can was down to 121, off 1⅝; General Electric to 244½, off 7, and Anaconda Copper to 79½, down 3⅝ points.

The rest of the list was a mixture, with utilities as a rule holding to the "plus" side of the line, coppers generally in a full retreat, and the motors just about holding their own. Specialties were highly irregular. Sales were only slightly better than those of yesterday, the total approximating 3,887,400 shares.

Money Is Firmer.

Money showed a slightly firmer tone with little in the way of demand funds reported available under the official rate, where the 4½ per cent figures fixed for renewals ruled as the charge on fresh loans throughout the day.

Up to the middle of the afternoon when the bear selling drive got under way, the market had been pursuing a willy-nilly course which got nowhere. Utility stocks were given the bulk of attention on the limited bull side and the group as a whole made a very good showing on the day. Philadelphia company, with an upturn of nearly 35 points, was one of the big features of the session.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 11.—Merger of the Continental Bank and Trust company and the Fidelity Trust company, which was to have resulted in an institution having total resources of more than $140,000,000, has been called off.

Frederick Hornby, president of the Continental, and James G. Blaine, president of Fidelity, issued a statement tonight declaring that negotiations for the consolidation had been discontinued by reason of failure to agree on matters of policy.

The failure of this merger constitutes the third instance this year where negotiations to merge two New York City banks have reached an advanced stage only to fail. The first case was that of the Bank of America, N. A., and the Chatham-Phenix National Bank and Trust company. The second failure was that of the merger of the National City bank and the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust company, which was not ratified by National City stockholders because decline in the price of the shares of the two banks had made it inevitable that cash would have to be paid for all Corn Exchange shares.

Report Dec. Gold Exports to Europe Exceed 10 Million

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Gold exports from this country to Europe since the first of the month are in excess of $10,000,000, it is reported. A feature of the movement was the shipment of $1,300,000 to Sweden, the first metal to go to that country from the United States on the present movement. According to dispatches from London today, about $20,000,000 will be shipped to England this week-end.

Nov. Earnings Gain for Public Service Co. of N. J.

November gross was $12,768,132, compared with $11,800,237 for November, 1928. Net after charges and depreciation was $4,585,696, against $3,821,328 for the corresponding 1928 month.

CHEMICALS—QUALITY Monsanto ST. LOUIS, U.S.A.

During 1929, Monsanto has practically doubled the size of its business. It is now a $24,000,000 company with plants in St. Louis, Mo., Monsanto, Ill., Nitro, West Va., Everett and Woburn, Mass., Sunderland, England and Ruabon, North Wales. Its line of products has been broadened substantially. It now includes nearly 200, which go into more than 50 industries. Monsanto is rapidly taking its place as one of the outstanding leaders of the American chemical industry.

Stockholders have been well rewarded for their financial interest in the business. Cash dividends, stock disbursements and rights have reflected expanding earnings. The return is now $1.25 per annum per share and 6% in stock, a satisfactory yield on the investment.

We believe Monsanto is facing great opportunities in the chemical industry. It is well prepared to take advantage of them. We accordingly recommend its capital stock as an attractive investment at present prices. Listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

WHEAT VALUES SHOW DROP AS SUPPORT FAILS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation was on in wheat from the start yesterday. With stop loss orders caught, prices dropped around 3c from the finish on Tuesday to a new low on the present downturn, with values at the inside 11¾@12¼c under the high of Dec. 3, and the lowest since Nov. 18.

Failure of foreigners to buy cash grain freely found support lacking until buying developed by holders of daily and weekly bids. The finish was on a rally of around ¾c from the low point, with net losses of 2¼@2½c.

Not only has the export demand for wheat been slow of late but there have also been decidedly limited clearances from the gulf and Atlantic coasts, causing many operators to feel that the claims of recent business had been exaggerated. The bulk of the news received during the day favored a lower range of values, with Liverpool closing weak and 1⅞@2d lower, while Buenos Aires dropped 1⅝@1¾c and Rosario was off ½@2¼c.

Wheat Stocks Heavy.

While world's available supply of wheat decreased around 15,000,000 bu from the recent high point there is still 461,771,000 bu in store in the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom and Argentina, and in the amount afloat, and the pressure of the cash grain continues to make itself felt. Cables from abroad indicated that foreigners were disposed to hold off and await further developments in the Argentine.

Winnipeg wheat was as weak as Chicago, with the close there at losses of 2¼@2½c, and there was a limited foreign demand. Owing to the higher price asked for Manitobas, it is expected that Greece will take round lots of hard winter in the near future, but the total business done at the seaboard during the day was small.

Government weekly weather and crop report on winter wheat was construed as mainly favorable, although doubt was expressed over the condition in the Pacific northwest, where drought prevailed for a number of months, and it is feared that the rain came too late to be of material benefit.

December Corn Easier.

December corn failed to show the tightness which characterized it the previous day, and it went to a wider discount under the May. All futures were under pressure in sympathy with the decline in wheat, but net losses were only ¾@⅞c. Buying against bids checked the decline. Country offerings to arrive were small and shipping demand fair, with sales of 110,000 bu. Weather conditions over the west were generally unfavorable for the movement, but considerable progress has been made in husking of late. Buenos Aires closed ⅛c higher.

Houses with northwest connections were aggressive sellers of oats, and with the weakness in other grains a decline of around 1c was easily attained. Commission houses were fair buyers of May on the break, with the finish at net losses of ¾@⅞c.

Local operators were on the selling side of rye, and there was also selling of that grain against purchases of wheat. The market developed independent weakness and showed little disposition to rally, with the finish at net losses of 2⅝@3c.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A further advance of 1-32c occurred in the raw sugar market today with a continued good inquiry, but offerings light. Sales reported included 50,000 bags of Porto Rican for December shipment and 14,000 bags of Philippines for January arrival to local refiners, all at 3.77c delivered. After an inactive forenoon raw futures developed a decidedly better tone in sympathy with the firmness in the spot market and at the close showed net advances of 2 to 4 points. Sales approximated 29,350 tons. Prices follow:

WILL SPEND $16,000,000.

The Georgia Power company and its affiliated companies, the Columbus Electric and Power company and the South Georgia Power company, will spend $16,000,000 for new construction in Georgia in 1930, President P. S. Arkwright announces.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

While there was a little hard winter wheat sold at the seaboard for export the demand generally was at prices somewhat under sellers views. It was intimated that Greece would be in the market shortly for supplies, with hard winters probably taken in view of the higher figures asked for Manitobas. Local handlers sold 71,000 bu wheat; 110,000 bu corn; 52,000 bu oats and 3,000 bu barley to the domestic trade with 17,000 bu corn; 10,000 bu oats and 100,000 bu rye sold to go to store.

Dealers' stocks of rubber at principal centers in the far east on Nov. 30 totaled 325,548 tons, compared with 301,369 tons on Oct. 31, and 301,665 on Nov. 30, 1928.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat prices at the lowest yesterday were off 12c from the recent high point. An immense quantity of long wheat has been unloaded and large lines of shorts covered, the latter through "bids." The market was down into the daily and weekly bids and appeared weak at the finish. Accumulation was on around the low point, and while a great deal of short wheat was covered, the impression prevailed that the open interest, representing the short side of the market, was sufficient to start a strong advance in case cables should come sharply higher.

Slower export business, discounting of bull news from Argentina and Australia, and failure of the market to respond readily to bullish Argentine news are given as the main reasons for the greater part of the decline the last few days. December wheat at Minneapolis is down to $1.23¾, a break of 3½c from the previous day's close, carrying it below the farm board level of $1.25, at which price it has been willing to lend money. This had a weakening effect on wheat values in Chicago.

Traders who have been long wheat and short corn were active in closing the spreads, having profits in their corn. An uneasy feeling exists among the December corn shorts, as the open interest has changed little in the last few days, with 9,520,000 bu at the close on Tuesday.

Broomhall offers no encouragement to holders of wheat. While Greece is in the market for United States hard winters, France is offering wheat and is not expected to import any large quantities this season. The carry over of old wheat in Argentina of 18,000,000 bu can be ignored, he says, as a similar quantity no doubt will have to be carried over again next season. He says yields in Buenos Aires are somewhat better than previously expected, with quality inferior, and it is feared in some quarters that consumers are likely to reject some quantities unless they are up to grade.

TIRED HOLDERS SELL LARD

Eastern holders were credited with selling December lard yesterday in sufficient volume to satisfy all demands, which came mainly from packing interests who absorbed the offerings and sold January and May. Weakness in grains offset steadiness in hog values and the close was at a net loss of 10c. January lost 5c and May 10c on moderate trading. Liverpool lard was 3d to 6d lower, American cut hams, 1s higher. Exports of lard were 215,925 lbs, and of bacon, 60,500 lbs.

Bellies were offered more freely and had limited support, with net losses of 5 to 7½c, January leading. Cash trade was fair, particularly in green joints, with hams ¼c higher.

Hog receipts were larger than a week ago and a year ago. Slaughtering of hogs in the west since Nov. 1, as given by the Grain World, aggregate 3,536,000 against 4,185,00 last year. Prices follow:

BUTTER FUTURES 1C LOWER

Butter futures attracted most of the trading interest on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, with all contracts declining 1c, or $102 a car. Selling occasioned by the constantly increasing surplus in storage, was persistent, with the greatest pressure felt in the last half hour. Sales were 236 cars and receipts were 8,000 tubs. Eggs advanced early, but lost much of their gains later. The finish was higher, with December gaining $30 a car, January $15 a car, and February fresh gathered first $45 a car. Government report of storage movement in the four markets favored the rise, as the movement out of the coolers was 2,731 cases over the amount of a year ago. Sales were 163 cars, with receipts of 2,573 cases. Prices follow:

CORN HUSKING NEARLY OVER

Milder weather over the corn belt made much better conditions for housing the crop, with husking and cribbing progressing satisfactorily and housing is largely completed in many places.

Most of the snow covering in the winter wheat section has disappeared and the plant is in satisfactory condition, with very little damage from cold weather. Oats in parts of the southeast have been injured by freezing, but in a general way not much damage has resulted and condition is satisfactory in the east. General rains on the Pacific northwest will benefit wheat to some extent.

BRITISH SHIPPING CO. DECIDES TO PASS DIVIDENDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—London financial circles were startled today by the announcement that the Royal Mail Steam Packet company has decided to pass both preference and interim common stock dividends. The announcement was made by Lord Kylsant, chairman, at the annual meeting.

The Royal Mail is Great Britain's greatest shipping company. It controls, in addition to ships sailing under its own house flag, The White Star Dominion navigation, Nelson steam navigation, H. & W. Nelson, Ltd., and several smaller companies.

Lord Kylsant, in making the announcement of the passing of the dividend, said that the position of the company is very strong, but that in view of the bad year that shipping has been through and the unfavorable situation for raising fresh capital for new building, it has been decided to preserve cash and resources.

Ordinary shares were quoted today at 18 against the high this year of 76, while the 6% preference shares were off against a 202 high.

Ungerleider Corp. Votes to Reduce Capital Stock

New York, Dec. 11.—A number of investment trusts, which fared not so well in the recent stock market break, are still at work repairing the damage caused by the break. This is being done by various means, it is said, such as repurchase of their own stock to reduce capitalization or acquiring investments at bargain prices. Stockholders of the Ungerleider Financial corporation, today voted to reduce the outstanding capital stock from 446,000 to 250,000 shares.

CENTRAL UPTOWN ASSOC. DEFEATED IN HOTEL ROW

BY AL CHASE.

John Bowers, president of the Central Uptown Chicago association, announced last night that his organization had given up the fight to prevent the completion of what he terned a "flop house" at the northeast corner of Wilson and Clifton avenues, a block west of Broadway.

At the same time Arnold Marks, of Marks & Co., a west side mortgage firm identified with several men's hotels in the West Madison street "flop house" district, said the Wilson-Clifton project was a men's hotel and would be called the Wilson Club hotel.

Mr. Marks said the project would represent an investment for remodeling of $100,000 and that Joseph J. DeCleroq, a Texas man, would operate it under a lease. The three upper floors will contain 208 rooms, 8x9 feet, which will rent for 75 cents per night or $4.50 by the week. Mr. Marks said there would be an old English style lobby.

"The owners call it a men's hotel; we call it a flop house," said President Bowers. "The Central Uptown Chicago association has fought it as vigorously as possible. The building commissioner, at our instigation, forced the owners to change the plans four times in order to comply with the building code. We understand it's now within the law and we can do nothing more to stop it.

The building was formerly occupied by Thomas & Co. with a department store. M. O. Nathan is the architect for the remodeling of the property into a men's hotel. According to Marks & Co. it will be open by Feb. 15.

Glengyle Hotel Is Sold.

Frederick J. and Kathryn Fadner have sold the eight story apartment hotel at 939-41 Glengyle place to Peter and Hazel Krantz for an undisclosed consideration. This structure, known as the Glengyle, is one of the first tall apartment houses to be built in the neighborhood—the Argyle and Sheridan road district.

The structure contains fifty-four suites. It occupies a lot 50x142.83 feet. The sale was made subject to a loan of $250,000. Residential property at 930 Edgecomb place was given in part payment by Mr. and Mrs. Krantz. Decker & Golden were attorneys for the sellers. Frank Barnes & Co. were brokers.

D. Feigenberg and J. Leinner sold the ten apartment building at 126 North Long avenue to Dr. Frank P. Burman for a reported $67,500, subject to $50,000. The Greenfield Sherman company was broker.

Leo Heinlin has leased the entire building, including shops, stores, office and garage space at 1700-06 East 71st street, for ten years from Nov. 15, 1929, from William F. Peterson. The term rental is $178,350. The lessee will utilize the property for a garage and service station.

EVANSTON REAL ESTATE BOARD HOLDS BANQUET

Preston Nolan, nationally known appraiser, was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Evanston real estate board, held last night at the Evanston Country club. With Mr. Nolan the retiring officers of the board were the guests of honor at the banquet, which was mainly given over to entertainment features. Joseph L. Corcoran is the retiring president, while Ray L. Dowdall is the newly elected executive. Ralph A. Hunt was chairman of the banquet committee.

TO CONSOLIDATE TWO SELIGMAN INVESTMENT COS.

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Consolidation of the Tri-Continental corporation and Tri-Continental Allied corporation, closely-affiliated investment companies organized under the sponsorship of J. & W. Seligman & Co., has been approved by the directors, an announcement tonight said.

Subject to consent of the stockholders at meetings on Dec. 27, a new company, under the name of Tri-Continental corporation, will be formed.

The present Tri-Continental corporation, organized last January, holds a substantial interest in Tri-Continental Allied, which was formed late in the summer. Liquidating value of the former's common stock on Dec. 7 was $20.27 a share, while the value of the Allied company's units, comprising one share of $50 preferred and one and a half of common, was $75.87 each. The investment portfolios on that date showed net assets of $45,276,000 for Tri-Continental and $42,248,000 for Allied. These assets will be taken up on the books of the new corporation.

Nov. Building Permits in U.S.Show Substantial Drop

November building permits issued in 587 leading cities and towns in the forty-eight states showed a loss of 29 per cent over the same month last year, according to the current issue of the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co., made public yesterday. The loss from October this year was 23 per cent. In the fifteen largest cities of the country the combined volume of permits issued last month was 23 per cent less than in November, 1928.

Coffee Futures Sag to New Lows on the N. Y. Mart

Buys Twelve Apartments at Glenwood and Elmdale

William Borg bought the twelve apartment building at the northwest corner of Glenwood and Elmdale avenues from R. E. Kelliher for a reported $105,000, subject to $61,400, through Carlstrome & Auer. Mr. Borg gave in part payment the six apartments at 7749-53 Kingston avenue for a reported $85,000.

One month ago	11.50@12.50

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 7,000 cattle, 48,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep.

Activity was lacking in the hog market yesterday, but with receipts this week falling short of all expectations throughout the country, salesmen held bulk of sales in line with the general trade the previous day.

The general average price was unchanged at $9.30, while the extreme top moved down 5c to $9.50 in the absence of eastern competition. An advance estimate of 48,000 for today which compares with actual arrivals of 60,244 the previous Thursday had little effect, and prices in some classes eased off slightly at the finish, the low point of the day.

Light Yearlings Strongest.

There was a two way trend in the cattle market yesterday. Light yearlings of fancy quality, considered specialties, due to their scarcity, ruled stronger and in some instances showed 15@25c advance, while medium and heavy sold weak to unevenly lower.

Plain quality sold to the poorest advantage, especially stock exceeding 1,300 lbs in weight and lacking finish. Fancy 992 lb yearlings brought the $16.00 quotation into use again, going to Swift at this figure, which stands highest since Tuesday of last week.

Two loads averaging 960 lbs reached $15.85, while a string of 116 averaging 1,015 lbs sold at $15.75, indicating the brisk demand for suitable quality and weight. Good 1,140 lb long yearlings sold at $15.25 and $15.00 was paid for 1,351 lb weighty beeves.

Demand for Christmas cattle has been unusually brisk recently. Some "specialties" at the river markets yesterday sold at $16.00@16.75. Cows and heifers were generally steady. Calves sold steady to 50c lower. Stockers and feeders were scarce and unchanged.

Best Lambs Steady.

Better grades of light and handy weight fat lambs were in fairly good demand at strong prices, while others ruled weak to slightly lower, the heaviest showing the most loss. Most 75@85 lb average of desirable quality sold at $13.00, with several loads at $13.25, while medium weights brought $12.50@12.75 and some heavy stock, $11.50@12.25.

Aged sheep moved slowly at weak prices. Yearlings were steady. Demand for feeders was fair at steady prices, a string of 600 averaging 66 lbs. selling at $12.25.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 48,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 8,624 cattle, 60,244 hogs, and 13,624 sheep, the previous Thursday, and 7,363 cattle, 35,383 hogs, and 14,697 sheep, a year ago.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—There was a further and severe decline in coffee futures today under liquidation promoted by the continued weakness of Brazilian exchange and lower cost and freight offerings. No. 7 contracts closed 35 to 50 points lower. Sales estimated, 124,000 bags. Santos contracts after losses ranging up to 100 points closed 35@65 points net lower. Sales estimated, 84,000 bags. Closing quotations: Santos contracts, Dec., 11.80c; Jan., 10.20c; March, 10.12c; May, 9.95c; July, 9.80c; Sept., 9.90c. No. 7 prices follow:

NARROWING CURB VOLUME LEAVES PRICES UNEVEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 11.—There was a further narrowing in the volume of sales on the New York Curb exchange today as prices continued to move irregularly. The opening was firm, but trading soon became disorganized, mild rallies and short lived declines alternating without much purpose. As on yesterday, a handful of stocks was bid up from one to three points and another group eased off about the same number of points, but the vast majority of issues could not be moved in either direction.

A few of the inactives jumped wildly on small turnovers. Aluminum Company of America sank 12½ points, while Great Atlantic and Pacific shot up 35 on sales of 180 shares. Not much significance could be attached to such meteoric movements.

The utilities, which rose mildly, provided the only semblance of group activity, but some of the leaders, such as Electric Bond and Share, were heavy after the first half hour.

Standard Power and Light was the bellwether of the group. This stock continued its perpendicular rise of the last two weeks with a 5 point advance, that left it more than 80 points above its low for the year. Utility Power Association stocks were also strong.

Chicago Exchange Admits I. A. Esch to Membership

The board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange have admitted Ingo A. Esch, Chicago partner of Sutro Bros. & Co., to membership. The board also approved the following additional listings: $134,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds of the South West Utitily Ice company; $188,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds of the Central Oklahoma Service company; 5,000 shares Noblitt-Sparks Industries, Inc.; 791 shares Backstay Welt company; 100,000 shares $4 cumulative preferred stock of the Standard Gas and Electric company.

MADE DIRECTOR.

WALL ST. BONUSES ARECONTINUEDON LAST YR.'S SCALE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 11.—Wall street's Christmas bonus disbursements continued today on a scale equaling or exceeding last year, when nearly $100,000,000 was given to employés in the financial district.

The gifts range from 10 per cent of the yearly salary to a full year's extra pay. In addition many firms paid employés two and three weeks' extra salary last month after the big trading days.

New York Stock exchange employés will be paid 10 per cent of their salary as a bonus. This will be the first year the stock exchange has paid the bonus from its own funds. In the past member firms contributed this sum.

EXTENDS OFFER.

United States corporation has extended until Jan. 15 its offer to exchange its own stock for shares of the Tobacco Products corporation and the United Cigar Stores company, the two firms whose interests the United States corporation was formed to join.

"Income" or "Market Quotations"?

RECENT market experiences have emphasized the value and importance of "Income" (interest or dividend return) as distinguished from "Market Quotations."

The investor who has the long-range point of view, and who has purchased securities producing satisfactory income return, should not be disturbed by the recent decline in market quotations.

With income-paying securities, no real profit or loss occurs until the securities are actually disposed of—and the present market is certainly not one in which any investor should consider disposing of sound, income-paying securities.

On the other hand, the present time does offer an unusual opportunity for the investment of money at an abnormally high rate. Quotations may go higher or lower, but any good income-bearing security purchased today should prove an extremely satisfactory investment over a period of years.

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg awakens in a strange room to learn that he has been robbed of his money and traveling bag by a former college acquaintance named Jennings, after a convivial night out together. The landlady of the strange boarding house insists that he telephone some friend for money before she allows him to dress. He goes out to a pay telephone dressed in his pajamas. On the way back to his room he passes a pretty girl, who stares in astonishment at his appearance. His attorney, David Craig, sends him the necessary money. He leaves the boarding house and reports to his firm. He loses his job when his employer learns that he failed to go to Utica, N. Y., the day before on [illegible] business for the firm. He calls Barbara Thornton and asks her to have luncheon with him.

INSTALLMENT IV.

AN ENGAGEMENT TO MARRY.

The Japanese labored over this. He scratched his chin finally, saying, "That not proper at all, danna-san. Rady mus' rissen when man speak." Then say nothing herself. Sore wa kodomo demo wakaru——"

"You're ahead of me again, Koto. What do you mean by that?"

Koto neither agreed nor objected; instead he said, "You marry rady?"

"It looks like it, Koto," John Andrew said soberly.

"You beat her once. She behave then," the old man said.

He was waiting for Barbara Thornton when she stepped from the cab. He paid the driver; he marked at once how very lovely she was. Nothing out of place. Immaculate. For no other reason than the word John Andrew realized.

"You look guilty," Barbara said. "And when I drove up I saw you were leaning against the building, John Andrew. You should have waited inside——"

"Um," John Andrews said. "You're pretty gorgeous, Barbara. You——"

She smiled faintly. "Save that until we are inside. I really shouldn't have come today, but——"

"My fatal charms were too much for——"

"But I wanted to talk to you."

Inside the restaurant, sunlight fell across their table in slantwise beams; touching the jewel on the girl's hand so that it sent opalescent flashes of color across the cloth.

"You don't care much about it, do you?" she countered.

"No? Say, did you ever hear of a Scottie who didn't like money? And remind me to tell you a new Scotch story I heard . . . Money? Listen, woman, and I'll ten you how much it meant to me this morning."

John Andrew told her rapidly; in spite of his earlier determination to say nothing about the girl in the boarding house, he concluded: "And after

Craig sent me down the hundred and I was out of hock, I turned around—had on the darndest pajamas I ever bought in my life—and there was this kid staring at me.

"'Good morning,' says I very blithely. 'Go get dressed,' says she. 'You blind me with all that passionate color.' . . . O, she must have been a good egg, and saw how darn funny it was."

"So you aren't up in Utica," she said.

"What? Why . . . no, I'm not," John Andrew agreed cheerfully. "Did you think I was?"

"Have you explained everything satisfactorily at your office?" she asked. "Is it all right there?"

John Andrew, mouth comfortably full, said he had not.

"Discharged?"

"No, my dear." He reached for a fat ripe olive. "Fired."

John Andrew began to lose appetite, but Barbara said nothing more, except an occasional yes or no; often she merely nodded curtly to show that she had heard whatever he was saying.

"You ought to know my old Koto better," he said at last, with coffee before him. "Not just casually, but intimately. Koto's got ideas about bringing up wives——"

"That is what I want to talk to you about, John Andrew."

"I know how you feel about me," Barbara said calmly. "But if"—she paused, and then seemed to be selecting her words very carefully—"if you think I'm not going to insist upon your acting more sensibly, more seriously, well . . ."

"Love me as I am," John Andrew said lightly.

"You've got to learn to be serious."

John Andrew wondered what would happen if he told her that he had never felt more serious—and, unaccountably, unhappy—in his life.

"Well, I'll tell you what we'll do," he said. "When you get into the car I'll go with you—no, nothing so crude as that, my dear—and we'll go to the Grand Central and I'll buy a ticket somewhere, and you'll come to the gate—and then after we—we—well, afterwards I'll get on the train and ride as far as 125th street and then get off, and . . ."

Barbara pulled on her gloves. "What do you think Mr. Craig is going to say to your being discharged?"

"Why spoil the greatest moment in our lives, woman?"

"I don't want to spoil anything, John Andrew. But I've made up my mind that I must be practical for us both. I know what other boys have done with money, and——"

"It would take a long time for me to throw all mine to the birdies," Kellogg said. "I shouldn't have said anything about the gold in your eyes, babe; forget it." He added thoughtfully, "What sort of a ring'll I get?"

"I'll select it this afternoon, and tell you where it is."

"Right," said John Andrew briefly.

He took the coat from the waiter before the man could hold it out for Barbara, and, when her arms slipped into the sleeves, adjusted it with a little touch about her neck; it seemed to him that she shrugged away.

"How does it feel to be an engaged woman?" he asked. "Any better than the time I kissed you coming back from Hanover?"

She gave him a sidewise glance that, he supposed, should have set his heart to thumping. It didn't. "You can run out and see me tonight," he urged her say softly. "But I do wish you'd get another car, John Andrew."

John Andrew nodded; when the girl was driven up the street he started for Craig's office. He looked more uncertain than frightened, but not in the least happy.

Marriage had never been a part of whatever small plans John Andrew had ever made or considered. He neither looked upon it as something to be greatly desired, nor as the inevitable, nor, indeed, something to be avoided; simply did not think about it.

Barbara Thornton he had met somewhere or other; he could not have told where if he had been asked. Because she seemed as impersonal as a face, and largely by accident, he had met her again and again.

The Thorntons, he knew, were people who could, and did, go anywhere; had imagined, from the little droop about Barbara's father's shoulders, that bankruptcy women were not a small burden. This troubled him none; for the same women as marriage.

He was not, he told himself now as he walked toward the building in which David Craig's office was located, what Barbara had said he was—a cad. As for himself, he admitted that he liked people, and laughter, and living. He liked late morning tennis, from the first step on a fast court, the first thwack of racket against ball, to the refreshing sting of ginger ale in his throat afterward; he liked . . . why, hang it, he liked to live!

Kellogg actually took keen pleasure in helping men out of difficulties. He wondered suddenly if, in marrying Barbara, he would in a way be helping her. He would be giving her freedom (which she already had, he knew) and love. He means of utilising it completely, so far as money might help her. A thought of a dozen things he could do to make her happy. A car of her own, naturally. An alert thing of blue and silver. And, just as naturally, a luxury and silent affair, very dark, with a chauffeur in dark livery. John Andrew could easily visualize Barbara—all imperial sables and flashes of silk stockings—stepping in and out of such a car . . . but where would she let him put his feet? And what else were automobile seats made for, when a man lighted a cigaret?

'World Better with the Years,' Preacher Says

Rev. Johnston Myers Will Be 70 on Saturday.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

A journey across the river to see a railroad train on the 4th of July was a reward received by the Rev. Dr. Johnston Myers as a boy for being good. On Saturday Dr. Myers reaches his 70th birthday. He is the dean of the Protestant clergy in Chicago and has been the pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, 2320 South Michigan avenue, since 1898.

Dr. Myers declared that 70 is the best time of life, and because of the improved conditions of life in all ways which he has seen, the day on which he reaches his three score years and ten will be the best the world has ever known.

"I am sorry I cannot tell all to be 70," Dr. Myers said. "Many will have to wait years to reach the place where I am today. You look forward to the best time of your life. Everything has improved in the last 70 years. This is a better world than the one into which I was born. When I first saw a railroad train as a reward for being a good boy we climbed high on a bank to await its arrival. Around the bend came the hissing, fire spitting demon. We retreated to a higher point on the bank as it approached, and felt relieved when it departed. Only the rich and the most daring rode on trains in those days."

During Dr. Myers' span of life he has seen the coming of electric lights, of bathtubs designed for the purpose of bathing instead of for the Monday's washing, of the telephone, typewriter, popular education, as well as the later marvels, such as airplanes and radio.

"It is a marvel to think how business was conducted 70 years ago," Dr. Myers continued. "There were no stenographers, telephones, typewriters, adding machines or other office needs. The business man of today can accomplish more in one day than the business man of 70 years ago could accomplish in a week. Only in a few large cities were newspapers to be found. Works of fiction were taboo by religious leaders. The dime novel was read only in the attic or woodshed."

Dr. Myers pointed out the great advance in education in the period of his life. He stated that it was a hard matter to get a boy to go to college in those days. Colleges then were only for the professions, he pointed out.

"Science has opened up a new world," Dr. Myers added. "We are living in an age of discovery and research which has made both God and man more important and more necessary. Think of the great movements for good which have grown up since I was a boy. There is the civil service, Red Cross, prohibition, charitable agencies and others. There are literally hundreds of organizations working to make the world a better place in which to live. More money is spent today for the weak and helpless than ever before.

"No one went to a hospital 70 years ago unless there was no hope of recovery. Within five blocks of my church there are five great hospitals. People go to them because they are homes for the sick who expect to get well."

Dr. Myers pointed out that the present day has a better religion than in his boyhood. He declared that religion is more sane and that people do not become Christians because they are afraid of Jonathan Edward's or Whitfield's hell, but because the New Testament God of love is the God men worship.

"Today intelligent men and women will not even listen to the description of a God who is willing to cast his creatures into endless torment," Dr. Myers concluded. "I heard some of that preaching when I was a boy. It made fear the motive for becoming a Christian. The God we worship in this age is not the God of Whitfield, of Jonathan Edwards or John Wesley. Those men taught the rigors of Old Testament legal ideas with its penal system. Today we magnify grace with its tenderness, sympathy and mercy. The Christmas of 70 years ago was not as rich in charity and unselfishness as the coming Christmas will be. Every Christmas I have lived has been a better and truer celebration of the birth of Jesus, who gave his life for us."

The caption under a photograph of Miss Elizabeth Hale, announcing her engagement to John Hills Beardsley of Hartford, Conn., in yesterday's TRIBUNE was erroneous in saying that "Mr. Hale was graduated from Yale university in 1927." It was Mr. Beardsly who was graduated from Yale.

Peter Harlib, a policeman, is not a nephew of City Collector Morris Eller, as was stated in an item in Tuesday's TRIBUNE. Mr. Eller said he does not know Harlib.

"The Baptist" Sold to Individuals; Was Church's Publication

The Baptist, official magazine of the Northern Baptist church; was sold yesterday to a group of private individuals. The decision to sell the periodical was reached by Northern Baptist leaders in session this week at the Stevens hotel. The property will change hands at the close of the denomination's fiscal year, April 30.

Two former presidents of the Baptist convention, Arthur A. Harris, New York banker; W. C. Coleman of the Coleman Lamp and Stove company, and the present president of the convention, Alton L. Miller, millionaire candy manufacturer of Boston, are among the members of the new publishing concern. Editorial offices will remain in Chicago, where the paper has been published since it was acquired by the church ten years ago.

Legal Sorority Meeting • Starts Sunday Morning

Miss Evangeline Hursen, dean of province three of Kappa Beta Pi legal sorority, comprising the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan and central Canada, will preside at a breakfast at the Illinois Women's Athletic club Sunday morning to celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of the sorority, which was founded at Chicago Kent College of Law.

It is now an international sorority, with an active branch in Paris. Miss Phyllis Kelly, one of the founders, will give the address. Assisting Miss Hursen will be Mary Arthur, Marion Rathje, Florence Burke, Margaret Crofts, Lora Miller, Zita Stone, and Bertha Carlson, deans of the Chicago chapters of Kappa Beta Pi. Miss Irene McCormick, president of the Illinois Women's Bar association, is chairman of publicity.

Henry Wales Honored.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 11.—Henry Wales, THE TRIBUNE correspondent in Paris and former vice president of the Anglo-American Press association, was elected president by acclamation at the general meeting today.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Rose Voss, 436 Rosh street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

The Answers.

Miss Mildred Reisa, 5603 South California avenue, home girl—It wouldn't be Christmas for us without a Christmas tree. Mother, dad, an older brother and I have the time of the year putting up the tree. Brother is the tree electrician, and I like to be chief tree decorator. This will be a merry Christmas for us; may it be so for all your readers.

Sam Lazzare, 437 South Claremont avenue, clerk—Yes, we have one. I go out and buy it. Who pays for it? They don't cost much. My older sister puts it up, puts on fancy trinkets here and there, and all that sort of thing. We are the ones who want a tree; I don't believe mother and father would have one.

Mrs. H. G. Allard, 1040 Sheridan road, housewife—Yes, indeed; our children are young, so a Christmas tree with its colored lights and sparkling trimmings sets those children's young eyes beaming. When the tree gives up its secret of toys on Christmas morning that's still a better story.

Alex O'Hare, 6751 Jeffery avenue, salesman—We children are no longer children; however, my brother and I usually get a tree. Father and mother enjoy it, and it is not quite like Christmas for brother and me when we do not have a tree; apparently one never could tire of the charm that surrounds the lighted Christmas tree.

Miss Rose Chap, 5741 South Rockwell street, stenographer—Absolutely. Father gets the tree and does the heavy work of putting it up, looking after the lights, and so on. From then on I'm boss. My older sister helps like a good girl. Mother? She smiles mostly, I think. When we get through Santa is never able to resist paying us a visit.

Many Poor Kids Still Lack Santa Claus.

BY THOMAS WREN.

War veterans at the United States Veterans' hospital at North Chicago will be entertained on the afternoon of Dec. 23 by a boxing and vaudeville show sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Good Fellow department.

There are 670 patients at the North Chicago government hospital and approximately 500 of them will be able to attend the Christmas Good Fellow performance. The main TRIBUNE Good Fellow campaign is waged annually so the poor kids of the city's tenement districts may have a gay time when Christmas day arrives, the greatest day in the year for all children, rich and poor alike.

Katherine Finnegan, the Red Cross director at the North Chicago hospital, suggests a one hour show of boxing and vaudeville acts. She states from experience that after the war veterans attend any program of entertainment for more than an hour they become restless. Suitable gifts will be presented to these men, the majority of whom engaged in conflict overseas.

Pat Barnes, Quin Ryan, the Salerno brothers, and other celebrities of the W-G-N radio station always have extended a helping hand when it comes to furnishing Yuletide happiness to ex-service men. Last year THE TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow Christmas entertainment for war veterans was scheduled for the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital, but a last minute quarantine shelved all entertainment activities. This year it was agreed the United States Veterans' hospital at North Chicago is a trifle off the beaten path and decision was made to hold the 1929 performance there.

To enroll in this year's Good Fellow campaign call Superior 0100 or fill out Good Fellow coupon, visit headquarters at 1 South Dearborn street or 1101 East 63d street or 5152 West Madison street.

Good Fellows, when main headquarters in THE TRIBUNE'S Advertising and Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street closed last night, there were thousands of childish appeals for a share of Christmas cheer still on hand. Each day now means a day closer to Christmas day, the greatest day in the year for all children, rich and poor alike. And it is up to the Good Fellows to decide whether the poor kids should still believe in Santa Claus.

Sothern Predicts Civic Theaters for All Cities

A revolution in the American theater out of which will grow civic theaters in every large community was predicted last night by E. H. Sothern, Shakespearean actor, in an address to an audience at the Glencoe school auditorium following a dramatic recital which he gave under the auspices of the Glencoe Men's club. Mr. Sothern, who is 70 years old, decried what he called the modern trend toward vulgarity and obscenity on the stage, which he attributed largely to commercialism.

Mr. Sothern will give a dramatic reading at 11 o'clock this morning at the Woman's Athletic club. The program will be followed by a luncheon.

Christmas Bazaar Opens at Auditorium on Sunday

Mrs. Norine Conway will be north side hostess for the Christmas benefit bazaar that will open Sunday evening at the Auditorium hotel under the combined auspices of the Illinois club and the Illinois Club for Catholic Women. Booths stocked with Christmas gifts will fill the mezzanine floor, and entertainment from various loop theaters will comprise the program. Assisting Mrs. Conway will be Misses Anne Kavanaugh, Anne and Catherine Loughry, Mrs. Madge Cunningham, and Mrs. A. M. Mack.

WOMAN'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PLAYS ITS BEST CONCERT

BY EDWARD MOORE.

A notable change has come over the Woman's Symphony orchestra this season. From an earnest group of young women whose ambition sometimes outran performance it has become an ensemble, somewhat larger in numbers and playing much better. Its concert at the Eighth Street theater last night was a subject for approval, not to say compliments.

It may be that in this, their fourth year of playing together, these artists have worked out their own orchestral salvation. It may be that Ebba Sundstrom, who is their conductor this season, has had an important share in their artistic growth. Or it may be a combination of both. At any rate, there is credit to be distributed somewhere.

The program began with Handel's Concerto Grosso in D, which showed the string section of the orchestra to be vital and well developed, capable of drawing out a sustained melody or executing a florid passage clearly and brilliantly. Then came the Mozart Symphony in G minor, which brought the full orchestra into play. Here Miss Sundstrom demonstrated that she knows climaxes, orchestral color, and shading. Even her one fault is really the excess of a virtue. In her desire to maintain a bright effect she sometimes exaggerates a bright tempo. Otherwise the performance was excellent.

A compliment was paid to Chicagoland composition by introducing Helen Sears' Fantasie for piano and orchestra, with Agnes Hope Pillsbury taking the piano part. After the intermission a greater compliment was paid to American composition by devoting the second half of the program to Edward MacDowell's music. Mae Doelling Schmidt played the D minor piano concerto with stirring effect, and the orchestra concluded with the "Woodland" Suite. This is admirable music and too infrequently heard. Pianists in general are recommended to follow Mrs. Schmidt's example in the choice of a concerto, also to play it as well as she did.

47 Pupils Win Rosenwald's School Medals

Elders Pay Tribute to the Children.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

It was the children who had the star places on the program yesterday at the third civic assembly in Orchestra hall, but a few grownups, including Samuel Insull, Dr. Frederick A. Stock, and Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan did get to say a few words.

With almost an air of apology, as if realizing the proud parents who filled the hall had eyes only for their children's performance in the band or chorus, Mr. Insull addressed the children, parents, and teachers.

"Speaking as a man who has not had such advantages as you are having," he said modestly, "I nevertheless want to tell you this: if you are working to be a musician, or any sort of artist, do not stop until you have reached the top rung of the ladder. Do not be content with mediocrity. And there is only one thing which can put you at the top—hard work. Some day your opportunity will knock at your door. See to it that you are so equipped that you will be able to know when it is knocking."

Superintendent Bogan told the assembly that a foundation in music was an important aid to good citizenship and explained that the purpose of the assembly was to promote pride in citizenship and musical accomplishment by school children.

Forty-seven students, one from each high school and junior high school of the city, were awarded the Julius Rosenwald medals for exceptional leadership ability, three of whom were given one year scholarships to the University of Chicago, also supplied by Mr. Rosenwald. Awarding of the medals, made by Raymond S. Rubinow of the Julius Rosenwald fund in the absence of Mr. Rosenwald, who was ill, was the climax of the program.

The three honor students who won scholarships are: Slava Sara Doseff, 17 years old, 200 North Menard avenue, Austin High school; Frank D. Carr, 17 years old, 7533 Merrill avenue, Hyde Park High school, and James Smers, 17 years old, 3226 West 66th street, Lindblom High school.

After the awards came the most exciting part of the program, when girls dressed in red skirts and tams and white middies, and boys in white suits marched up the aisles singing "Land of Hope and Glory," and the parents all stood up and as a final touch of solemnity the R. O. T. C. boys of Lake View High school marched on the stage and presented the flag.

One of the bands which performed was the Rhythm band, or Toy orchestra, of the Burns Elementary school. First and second graders made up the band. It was strictly a percussion instrument band, except for a bird whistler and two or three children who kept time by bounding huge rubber balls.

Students from four south side high schools won places at the south district preliminary solo contest for high school bands yesterday, and will compete in the finals tomorrow night at Crane Junior college. Forty-one boys from north and west side schools have already qualified. The preliminary contest for girls of all schools will be held today at Austin High school.

Don't Be Insulted; Maybe Your Neck IS Dirty, Says She

by [illegible]

Bunk to the level of cheap wit is the disposition of an undesirable with a comment about his or her failure to wash the back of the neck. As a wisecrack it is wanting—but as a warning—

Well, the next time the face is scrutinized in the mirror, there had better be a mirror in hand for examining the back of the neck. Do it in a strong light, too. Unless it has been given as careful attention as the complexion—the contrast may be quite shocking.

Especially if one wears fur collars—and is there any of the fair sex who does not—that minute inspection had better be of semi-daily duty. It may not be dirt. It may be dye from the fur, dye from the coat collar or dye from the dress collar. Anyway, the suspicion will be just as dark and dangerous as if the neck were not washed with regularity. And the sooner the dye is off the skin, the better.

Another thing about that particular part of the anatomy is its tendency to enlarged pores. Where the strictest measures of cleanliness are not observed it becomes the simplest matter in the world for the pores to become clogged and the skin pitted with blackheads. That and the nose are the most susceptible blackhead centers.

It is not enough to go over the neck hastily with a wet cloth each day. In order to keep the skin fine, white and healthy looking, it must be scrubbed thoroughly with soap and water at least once a day and washed with a soapy cloth several times a day. The heavy coat collars and furs coming in contact with the perspiration of the skin of the neck sets up a dark, unpleasant looking film.

In the bath the long handled brush becomes a necessity unless one has reach enough to approach the area between the shoulder blades without its aid. Unless one's skin is very fine grained, the scrubbing is simply imperative. In the decolleté backed gowns of the season one cannot afford to risk oneself to vodevil crudities by the suggestion of an unwashed surface.

Come! And be amazed by the strangest and most absorbingly different story ever conceived by the brain of man. Its drama will make your hair point skyward! Its odd fantastic theme will have all Chicago buzzing and gossiping—and music! Hundreds of gorgeous girls! Stomping bizarre dances! Brilliant settings in color that will astonish and delight. ALL TALKING.

THE GREAT GABBO

The Star of "Wedding March" ERICH VON STROHEIM
First Talking Picture of JAMES CRUZE
Director of "The Covered Wagon"
The Queer Story by BEN HECHT

SOMETHING WE CAN'T EXPLAIN

There's NEVER been a picture like "Gabbo"—there cannot be another picture like "Gabbo." That's why we cannot label it and say, "Folks, it's this or that kind of a picture." Its story is totally different; its drama is unusually intense, and it is also the most gorgeous revue ever seen or heard. You MUST SEE IT to understand why it baffles description.

WE GUARANTEE YOU NOT ONLY GLORIOUS ENTERTAINMENT—BUT AN EXPERIENCE YOU WILL REMEMBER!

College Set's Holiday Rush Beginning Soon

BY THALIA

There is only about a week more before the joyous onset of youth from the schools and colleges in the east. Those who get a day or so extra off for good behavior or the like will be missing the middle or the first of the week. The whole crowd will be home by the week-end when the enormous whirl of parties starts.

The girls from Westover are due to arrive next Wednesday. They include Florence Carr, whose father, Robert F. Carr, is to give one of the largest of the sub-deb parties, a dance at the Casino on Dec. 30; Janet Busby, the Leonard A. Busbys' daughter; Ethel Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dixon; Mary Reed, daughter of Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed. Mrs. Reed and Mary are planning quite a long trip to California to be with Mrs. John Shedd.

Mrs. James M. Hopkins' daughter, Marjorie Goodman, arrives on the 20th from her first term at St. Timothy's. There also are the John A. Chapmans' daughters, Mary and Margaret. Mrs. Fisher Wolf expects her daughter, Celia Watson, who goes to Smith college, and the two boys who are at St. Mark's to all come in next Wednesday.

Miss Pauline Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Perry, is expected on the 19th from Farmington. Her parents are to give a dinner dance for her at the Casino on Dec. 30, preceding Mr. Carr's dance for his daughter, Florence. The A. Watson Armours will not have their daughter, Elsa, with them for Christmas, as she is studying abroad and will not be home until June. Their son, A. Watson Jr., will return from Princeton on the 20th.

The second day of the Junior Eagle children's theater conference yesterday was spent in industrious study and discussion of the problems to best the young amateur producers. There were group meetings in the morning, so popular they had to be moved from the Fortnightly to the Drake hotel, and in the afternoon Robert Edmond Jones observed the review of scenes from past plays given by the Chicago leagues and commented on the setups, scenery and costumes at the Selwyn. There were a number of dinner parties for the visitors, representing leagues in 75 cities in the evening, after which the various parties convened at the Woman's Athletic club to view the performance of the St. Louis puppets and the Italian marionettes. Today there will be more group meetings at the Casino, with discussions about publicity, new plays, interchange of productions between cities, costume and scenery rentals, and so on. Luncheon at the Casino will conclude the strenuous program.

The Woman's National Republican club of Chicago is giving a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Chicago Woman's club. William Lloyd Hardin, former governor of Iowa, is to speak on "Chicago and Its Waterways," and there is to be a demonstration on RCA Theremin.

While Miss Alice Gerstenberg, president of the Playwrights' theater, stays in the east for the production in Boston of her dramatization of "Wax Babies" the Playwrights are getting into action on their own. There is to be a meeting this evening at 5 o'clock at the Illinois Women's Athletic club, when several new plays are to be read and discussed by members. Helen Walton and Gerald Frank are now rehearsing to give Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw's "The Desk of Stanton Dark" at the Romany club on Jan. 11 and 12, and there is also to be a performance of Mrs. Franklin Miller's "Making Rosie a Cook" on the same evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner of Winnetka are to give a dance at the Indian Hill Country club on Saturday evening, Dec. 21, for their daughter, Marie Louise, and their son, Henry Gardner Jr. Miss Gardner is to arrive from Miss Masters' school at Dobbs Ferry on Dec. 19 and her brother from Andover the following day.

Cards have been issued for the customary New Year's day at home that John R. Leonard of Winnetka and his son, son-in-law, and daughters observe every year. Daniel Leonard, Miss Harriet Leonard, and the Hibbard Casselberrys, who will be here from Winter Park, Fla., by holiday time, will receive with Mr. Leonard at Wildacre, his residence.

If Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams Jr. don't send the contents of his Christmas stocking to him at Pittsburgh, their son, Cyrus III., will have to wait until he reaches Chicago on the 27th to discover what Santa Claus left him. He is making his debut this year with the Princeton Triangle club as a member of the singing chorus, an innovation, and will be here for only one day of the vacation because of the club's itinerary. The club goes to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago (on the 27th), St. Louis, Memphis, Little Rock, Ark., Birmingham, Ala., Atlanta, Ga., Wilmington, N. C., Baltimore, and back to New York by Jan. 7. Howard Elting Jr., a senior, is also in the chorus, but it's the second season for him and probably not so exciting. G. R. Van Doren of Evanston is the third Chicago boy in the show, and he plays a violin in the orchestra. This year's play, "The Golden Dog," is to be presented at the Auditorium on Friday evening just after Christmas.

A group of her friends has been inveigled into following the example of "Gwen" Fargo into the professional mannequin field and they are to appear, beginning Friday, in "The Velvet Revue" at the Uptown theater wearing evening gowns of filmy velvets. Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter (Lucretia Green), Mrs. Paget Cady (Emily Bissell), Mrs. Dudley Mudge, and Mrs. Murray P. Brush Jr. (Katrina Van Dyke) are the young matrons who are to go to work, three performances on weekdays and five on Saturdays and Sundays, according to the press agent for Balaban & Katz.

Episcopal Church Club to Be Host to 500 Poor Kids

Five hundred poor children of Chicago will be guests of well known business men at a Christmas party at the Sherman hotel Monday night, Dec. 23, as guests of the Episcopal Church club. This was announced by John D. Allen, president of the club.

Bankers, lawyers, brokers, and stock exchange members will cast aside their dignity for the evening and be hosts to unfortunate children. The children will be brought to the hotel in groups of eight and sit down at a turkey dinner. Then Santa Claus will appear and each child will receive an appropriate useful gift. Thirty members of the choir of the Church of the Atonement will sing Christmas carols as a part of the evening program. Other features of the program will be provided by professional entertainers.

The guests will be brought from a number of the churches and from church and charitable institutions. President Allen stated that the purpose of the party is to give an idea of Christmas to many children who otherwise would be denied all Christmas contacts.

Society at Opera

The boxholders were fashionably late last night for the performance of "Falstaff" at the opera house, but after the first intermission there was a brilliant gathering. The William J. Chalmers' party of 14 for their house guest, Mrs. Randall Morgan of Philadelphia, filled two boxes, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster having surrendered her Wednesday box for the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Crane II. had with them in the center box Mr. and Mrs. William R. Odell, Mrs. Crane's sister, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Count and Countess de Contades of Paris, and John Gregg. Mrs. C. Morse Ely was hostess to Mrs. Jack Stark, Miss Caroline Kirkland, Channing Wiley, Arthur Heun, and Col. George Voevodsky.

The Herron Dunlap Smiths had one of several groups of young people in the box of Mrs. Smith's parents, the Robert J. Thornes, who have gone to California to visit their son-in-law and daughter, the George Gillespies. Miss Laura Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. Jay N. Whipple, and John Pauling Brown were with them. Lawrence M. Viles also had a decorative party, including Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sudler, Mrs. Lytton Benello, Philip B. Maher, and Shreve Badger.

With Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milne McIntosh were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pirie Jr., Miss Rosemary Baur, and Durand Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Johnston, Alfred Cowles, and Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, accompanied Mrs. Robert G. McGann. Clayton Mark's guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clark Finnerud, Mrs. Miriam Ormsby Annan, Mrs. Everett L. Wyman, and Cyrus Mark.

Dr. and Mrs. William Ludwig Baum had with them Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, Mrs. F. T. A. Junkin, and Ove Vett. Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp, and Mrs. Lewis Kempf were in Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney's box, and the Rufus C. Daweses and the Henry Dawses were in the former's box. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Goldberg were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick Adams, and Miss Helen and Miss Elizabeth Connery were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grady and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kane. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. White had with them Judge and Mrs. William V. Brothers and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Jacobs.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the chief justice, was the luncheon guest today of Mrs. William Fitch Kelley at the Mayflower. Mrs. Kelley, formerly of Chicago, had a box party preceding the luncheon, at the second concert in the series of Mrs. Lawrence Townsend's morning musicals. Among Mrs. Kelley's other guests were Mme. Hauenschield, wife of the counselor of the Austrian legation; Mrs. Perry S. Heath, Mrs. Victor Kauffman, Mrs. Edward Everett Robinson, and Mrs. Karl D. Klemm.

Miss Barbara Vandenberg, debutante daughter of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, left Washington today for their home in Grand Rapids to remain until after Christmas. She will be joined the end of the week by Mrs. Vandenberg, and later the senator will join the family party.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter gave a dinner tonight in their Dupont Circle home. A musical followed. Mr. and Mrs. Leiter returned the first of the week from New Orleans.

Cards have been received here from Mrs. Theodore L. Pomeroy of Greenwich, Conn., announcing the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth Boyd Reed, to James Andrew Vaughan, Dec. 6, in Greenwich.

Operatic Othellos, Iagoes to Visit Selves on Stage

A red letter day in theatrical circles is predicted when the operatic Otello and the Shakespearian Othello and their respective Iagoes meet at the Civic theater this morning. Charles Marshall and Cesare Formichi of the Chicago Civic opera will call to pay their respects to Fritz Leiber and Tyrone Power of the Chicago Civic Shakespeare Repertory company. They will attempt to settle for future generations whether the Moor was dark skinned or tanned from exposure to the sun on the plains.

KONJOLA

MR. J. W. GUMM

Countless men and women have said that after finding their first and only relief in this new and different compound.

Consider the experience of Mr. J. W. Gumm, 6439 Maryland avenue, Chicago, who says:

"I cannot remember how many medicines I tried in an effort to escape from indigestion and nervousness. But I do remember that none of them helped me. I could not eat solid foods; I got little sleep at night, and I was run down, weak and sick all over. I was urged to try Konjola, and Konjola is the medicine I should have taken in the first place. One by one my ills vanished. I am feeling years younger, and can eat anything, no matter how heavy."

Davenport Griffen Has Good Paintings in Current Show

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

At the Chicago Woman's Aid there is a one man show of paintings by Davenport Griffen. It is an extraordinarily interesting exhibit. Mr. Griffen is a Chicago artist and a graduate of the Art Institute school. His genius is real and his versatility prodigious. There has not been another exhibition this winter in which one man has swept the surface of the entire modernist movement as has this man and developed from his search a dozen different types of manner and picture, each of them intrinsically worth while.

Davenport Griffen is a gradnate civil engineer, which possibly explains his ability to draw, and he practiced his profession so as to make an art career possible. He worked for five years in the Art institute school and won five first prizes there, among them the John Quincy Adams foreign travel scholarship, which enabled him to study for six months in Paris. He has exhibited here and abroad and has won many honors.

Using the material in his current exhibit to judge by, he has been interested in the Frenchman Survage, in Vlaminck, in George Biddle and "Pop" Hart, and in the modernism that contents itself with masses of dark color evenly apportioned, unlit by emotion or any natural imperfection that sentiment sometimes instigates. There are two pictures which illustrate this manner: "Woods" and "At Bagneux." Ross Moffett is felt in the "Folk," a gray pallet and figures wooden and flat. "Basement" and "Back Porch" are human with the humanity that characterizes Hart and George Biddle. "Caar Harbor" is Ross Moffett again.

"Rose" submits a gorgeous nude for our inspection, a beautiful lazy figure of generous curves. "Arcadie" is on tiptoe for fear the police arrive. Such an air of anticipated interruption has rarely before been achieved. They are all worried except a pair of snawled gossips in a corner. "Petite Ville" smacks of Vlaminck without the inspiration of his fury. "Rue Paillet" is thoroughly delightful, perhaps the loveliest conception in the room. Two drawings, "Along Rue St. Jacques" and "St. Pierre de Montmartre," are beautiful in their exactitude. "Wind" is vehement and alive; "Red Roofs" is a study in contrast; "A Fairy Tale" is magnificent. "Decorative Landscape," reminiscent of Survage, is another delicious conceit.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Yesterday I invited an acquaintance to take a ride with me. When she got in the car my little son, who had never seen her before, tried excitedly to whisper to me.

I told him it was impolite to whisper before a guest and that he should talk and not whisper.

Barbara is 3½. Her mother was caring for a neighbor's boy, Paul, 3, for the day. He wanted each toy that Barbara would pick up, so to settle the argument Barbara's mother would say "Paul is your little guest. You'll have to let him have it."

After five or six of these remarks Barbara said, "Let's go to Paul's house so I can be a little guest!"

Lightest of Metals, Lithium, Made Now by Tons in the U. S.

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Production by the ton of a metal that floats like cork on water, the latest achievement of American metal manufacturing, was revealed tonight to the New York Electrical society by Dr. W. C. MacTavish, professor of chemistry at New York university.

The substance is lithium, the world's lightest metal, silvery in color, softer than lead, one-half the weight of water, and such a ready mixer with other metals that its uses range from aviation to sweeter-toned bells.

Although recently produced commercially in Europe, lithium still is so rare that chemical catalogues at New York university quote it at $240 a pound. The American achievement is a quantity of production method, completed barely a month ago, making the cost about $15 a pound wholesale, and in ton lots.

Though it comes from scientific work on both sides of the Atlantic, there runs all through the story the name of a 26 year old American, Dr. H. M. Partridge, now assistant professor of chemistry at New York university. Dr. MacTavish said that the American production was based both on German patents and on methods devised at the University of New Hampshire five years ago by the late Prof. C. James and Dr. Partridge. At New York university Partridge has worked as a consultant on the American development, and Dr. MacTavish said:

The big field of lithium is in alloys, the future of steelmaking. It loses its softness when combined with some other metals. It has made bells of sweeter tone. It has increased the lifting power of helium gas by about 15 per cent.

Exposed to air, silvery lithium turns black in a few seconds. The dark coat is a combination with the nitrogen in the air and can be made into ammonia for synthetic fertilizer. There may be ultimate promise for farming in this fact, but at present this seemingly simple method of making fertilizer is too expensive.

A chunk of lithium dropped in water would begin to disintegrate, but would not make lithia water, which is formed of lithium salts, the last step before the metal stage.

Dr. MacTavish exhibited two pieces of lithium floating in light oil, each about as big as a dry cell, their combined weight being three-quarters of a pound.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Two hundred dollars' worth of phosphate, that might otherwise have been wasted, was saved by H. W. Artman, an Iroquois county farmer, by using the new phosphorus test recently developed in the laboratories of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Mr. Artman was one of several Iroquois county farmers who tested and mapped a total of 6,000 acres for phosphorus in a series of 16 soil testing meetings recently put on in the county through the cooperation of soils extension workers of the college and Farm Adviser C. E. Johnson. It was only a 40 acre field which figured in his saying of $200. Before he made the test he had planned to spread that much phosphate on the field.

After he had gone through the test as taught in one of the 16 schools he discovered that the soil already contained a high amount of available phosphorus. Now, instead of wasting $200 worth of phosphate by applying it where it is not needed, he can put it on some other field, where it will return a profit.

"Other counties besides Irquois are pushing the testing project," according to university reports. "It is designed to teach farmers how to make a systematic test of their fields for phosphorus needs and how to draw a map showing where phosphate is needed. The test is simple and inexpensive and can be made by the farmer himself. R. H. Bray, associate in soil survey analysis, developed the test.

"Although much of the land in the state needs phosphate there is, nevertheless, a large acreage which still contains enough available phosphorus for maximum crop yields. The test, as developed in the laboratories of the college, takes much of the guesswork out of treating such soils. Farmers no longer need to apply phosphate blindly, hoping that the soil needs it and that they, therefore, will get some return in increased crop yields for the money invested."

Clemenceau Completed His Memoirs Just Before Death

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The late Georges Clemenceau succeeded in completing his memoirs a few days before his death, according to a testimonial signed today by the president of the Civil court and Rene Doumic and Georges Lecompte of the French academy. The "Tiger's" memoirs, in which he answers vigorously all comments, personal and otherwise, on his rôle in the war and peace negotiations, is entitled "The Grandeurs and Miseries of Victory."

"Don't call it Luck,"

Elinor Glyn

Helen M—is eating her heart out, poor child, because she's so "unlucky." There have been six weddings among her friends and she hasn't even one beau. "Miss Glyn," she writes, "really, I am as good looking as these other girls. Can it be their clothes? Yet I buy the same styles as they do and pay just as much—"

DON'T call it luck, Helen. Undoubtedly these girls know something that you don't—they know that the thing about clothes that has the greatest appeal for men is color. Psychologists tell us that color affects the emotions more than any other factor in dress.

Designers of fabrics know this and so every fabric is the result of careful study. As long as its intensity, its balance, is not upset or diminished, color will work unfailingly on the emotions.

But there is a famous product that is especially made to take out dirt without disturbing the colors at all. That is the well-known Lux.

Believe me, Helen, Lux has literally brought romance into the lives of many thousands of girls.

Actual Photographs

Luxed 12 times (Above at right)—Unfaded, "live," vibrant as the day it was bought—all the shades in this silk print sing together in the happy magnetism of color.

Santa Claus Can Be a Lovely Fairy Tale to Youngsters

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A small collection of Christmas cards will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of 14 cents in stamps, which covers cost and postage. Address Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans, Chicago Tribune.

This is in answer to the question that has been coming to me in letters, "What shall I tell my child about Santa Claus?"

Yesterday I explained that I thought it a matter of individual, often strong, personal feeling, but that since I had been asked for help, the only thing I could do was to express my own opinion, realizing it was in no sense the final word.

In the first place, even if you yourself never told your child about Santa Claus, he would be sure to get it from other people. The air is full of it at Christmas time. People are always saying to children, "What is Santa Claus going to bring you? Have you written to Santa Claus yet?" The streets and stores have their Santas, and the books and cards.

So your child is going to learn about Santa Claus whether you start it or not. You may add to the story and decorate it and keep it alive, or you may not—but some day he's going to say to you, "Is that true? Does Santa Claus really squeeze down the chimney? Does he really give presents to every child in the world? Why does he give nicer things to some children than others?"

When your child's mind begins to work like that I personally believe you should answer him. When he asks you direct questions, like, "Mother, did you give me my scooter or did Santa Claus?" or, "Daddy, is there really and truly a Santa Claus?" the time has come for you to be direct, too.

Then you can tell them that Santa Claus is like a jolly fairy who loves children and that all the things we hear about, like his reindeer and sleigh and workshop, are a Christmas fairy tale that every one tells at Christmas time.

Or you can tell him that believing in Santa Claus is a beautiful Christmas game that all the world plays. And even when he's quite young he can get the idea, though perhaps not in literal meaning, if you say as one other does, "Santa Claus is the spirit of loving and giving. Some people wear a costume to play the game, but you don't have to. Any one who makes another happy on Christmas day is playing Santa Claus."

In this way you do several things. You keep children from believing in "good little children get their reward" sort of thing—being "good" or "bad" has nothing to do with the spirit of Christmas. You keep them from thinking Santa unjust in leaving out many "poor" children. You keep the story of Santa from swamping the beauty of personal giving. And you don't let it overpower the age old, exquisite tale of the Christ-Child.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Finnan Haddie.

Now is the haddie season, and of all the fish foods we have there is not one that is more highly esteemed, both by the amateur and elegant person who likes to cook, and by a great group of others who do not make the same pretensions—nor do the work with such a nice flourish and precision.

This cured fish needs to be soaked in order to be softened rather than to freshen it, but if it happens to be moist instead of dry the soaking is not needed. In this connection we need to say that there is an undesirable external moisture, and if you wish to peel off the skin put it in a hot oven for a few minutes and then the skin will come off easily. If it is dry wash it quickly, soak it for half an hour in cold water, pour this off and pour over it water just off the boil and let stand for fifteen minutes. Remove the skin or leave it on.

Put it on a greased broiler, dot it generously with butter and broil until a nice brown. If it is a thick piece twenty minutes will be none too long for the cooking, but the fire will have to be lessened or the fish will burn in that time.

Have ready a hot platter, put the haddie on it and butter lightly, then pour over some hot cream. A tiny bit of dry parsley sets off the dish, but any quantity of wet parsley is undesirable. Serve the broiled fish with baked potato, and unless these two items constitute the meal make the servings rather small. One of the mistakes made by many people in serving finnan haddie is to make the servings so large as to take away the appetite of any but an unnecessarily vigorous eater.

Another way to prepare finnan haddie, say a thick pound piece after it has been washed, is to put it skin down in water to cover well, put it on the stove, bring slowly to a boil, and cook gently for twenty minutes. This is the way to prepare it for creaming, after which it is flaked and dried edges rejected.

Absentminded.

The most embarrassing moment of my life happened a year ago. I was traveling all day by train and took with me a suitcase and carried an extra coat over my arm. As the train was drawing near the station, for convenience I put on the extra coat inside my other.

Out in the station, all set for home, I noticed this uncomfortable bundle from my arm and rushed back to the train. Every one kindly stood up and searched until I came to the seat I had left.

You can imagine me when some stranger pointed out that I was wearing the coat.

Paris Is Sponsoring Elaborate Lingerie

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Everything's in slip-shape—so says the whittler of lingerie. In this province of dress everything is different. Not only is the shaping of undergarments—made inevitable by the shaping of frocks—conspicuous in every collection, but nearly all of our lingeries is longer. For example, the chemise to wear with an afternoon frock which Paris decrees shall be anything from thirteen to seventeen inches above the ground, reaches approximately the length of the skirt.

If, however, you would do thorough research work regarding lingerie you must look over recent contributions to the nightgown. Really, these new nightgowns are two dressy for anything. First of all, they are likely to include a wrap, for it must be remembered that the ensemble is just as important here as in other fields. Next, they occur in the most charming tints —tearose, orchid, peach, pale blue and other pastel tints forming a background for the new black lingerie sent by Paris. These tints are usually trimmed elaborately with lace. Fourth, they are as sophisticated and as varied in cut as are the most formal creations.

Nothing is smarter this season than lingerie of white satin trimmed with ecru lace and we show today a princess cut nightgown touched off with this ecru weave. Observe the elaborate shaping of the gown together with the dip at one side and you will acknowledge the progress that the lingerie designer has made.

Princess models, those with both cape and trailing panel in the back, fitted and flaring gowns topped with coats in the same spirit of elaboration, a pajamas with inset godets of lace and lace trimmed boleros—these are a few of the many suggestions for the modern trousseau.

Married Five Years, This Wife Finds Life Full of Happiness

BY DORIS BLAKE.

If you happen to be one of those "standing with reluctant feet where the wish to be married and the fear of being married meet" why not lend ear to a sunny tale?

"We've been married for five years but I am finding more happiness and romance in life than I ever thought could have existed," says Mrs. J.

"Recently my husband and I had occasion to take a long boat trip across the lakes. It was full moon both nights and as we paced the decks or sat quietly in our chairs we completely forgot that two small children slept peacefully in the cabin near us —so easily did the cares and responsibilities of five years slip from us.

"There are ups and downs, of course, and sometimes each partner gets exasperated with the other, but even while the surface waters kick up into waves and even froth into white caps we know that the deep currents of the ocean flow calmly on. So it is with true love and it is on this deeper current that we launch our craft, knowing that while we pull our oars together, no surface waves can upset it.

"Adventure is the essence of romance and each day brings new adventure—a morning separation and an evening reunion with the thousand and one events that happen in between. How can it be dull and forbidding? It is the most glorious career in life.

"Like the girl of an earlier story, I had so many sad and sorry marital messes to warn me among my friends and relatives, but now my only regret is that I did not wilt the first time he said: 'Wilt thou?' instead of dragging out four long years of yes and no.

"And, may I add that since we have been married all about us we see home after home where love and happiness rule?

"Circumstances vary but there are a few general principles that will apply in most cases. He likes admiration as much as she and it is so easy to say: 'How well you look in that suit.' Or, 'No one would ever guess you had been married for years.' [Magic phrase, that.] Some people form the habit of saying cutting, horrid things, but it is just as easy to form the pleasant habit and much more conducive to one's happiness.

"Two rules I know: Never let an opportunity pass to say, 'I love you, dear.' And never be afraid to say 'I'm sorry; I was wrong.'"

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Don't Lose Heart.

"Dear Miss Blake: I met a girl about six months ago and fell in love with her. I have asked her to go steady with me, but she refused. She claims there is no one else and says she likes me. Joe."

Don't lose heart so easily, Joe. She likes you, but isn't ready to cut herself off from other good times which may come her way.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Morris Chair for Cripple.

"My husband is over 70 and is a cripple. He cannot lie down but must remain in a reclining position all the time. A morris chair with a convertible back would be so comfortable for him and we cannot buy one. We also need a bed, spring and mattress, some bed linen and blankets or quilts. "H. K."

Surely, the most comfortable of chairs should be Mr. K.'s in his pitiful condition, but where is he to get it? The morris chair which his wife suggests and which was once so popular is sure to be found in some storeroom taking up space which could be better utilized. May he not have yours?

"Do you know of some woman who has her right leg amputated? I am a cripple, too, and have some new shoes, size 6, for the left foot which I shall be glad to give to any one who can make use of them?

"MRS. G."

If your condition is such that you can make use of a gift like this I shall be glad to have you write me. The shoes are in perfect condition and should keep you supplied for some time.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's so reliable at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

We are furniture manufacturers specializing for years in very high grade, solid walnut hand carved furniture. Due to interference with our regular business and in order to serve our customers more efficiently we are discontinuing the manufacture of RADIO CABINETS—and we are closing out our entire stock REGARDLESS OF PRICE.

THEY ARE PRICED FROM

$29 TO $115

If you now have a radio it can be fitted into any of these cabinets with out difficulty. Should you want a radio and to go with the cabinet we have arranged to procure for you at most practically wholesale any set you may desire to buy.

For convenience of the public we are keeping our factory showrooms open DAILY FROM 8:30 A. M. TO 10 P. M. and SUNDAY FROM 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
